Truman Directs Drafting of All Childless Men Between 26-30

Chief Executive Repeats Criticism of 45-Day Draft Extension Act

PRESIDENT SAYS LAW WAS "LOOSELY DRAWN"

Men Up to 35 Years, Seven Months Could Be Drafted, Truman Says

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP) — Drafting of childless men who are 26 through 29 years of age was authorized today by President Truman to "save what we can from the near wreckage of the Selective Service system."

Conscription of men in that age group was stopped by the president shortly after the fall of Japan. Mr. Truman announced in a news conference statement that he was authorizing the war and navy secretaries to call upon Selective Service for the induction of such men.

Extension Law Is Criticized

The president repeated his criticism, made Tuesday night when he signed the forty-five-day draft extension law which stopped the induction of teen-age boys and fathers, that it was "bad legislation." Under the Draft Extension act and Mr. Truman's authorization today all men except fathers, between 20 and 30 years of age are subject to induction call.

"It is to be hoped," he said, "that before July 1, when the present extension expires, the congress will in a form that will met the na- extend Selective Service for a year tion's requirements."

To illustrate his assertion that the extension law was "loosely drawn," the president said it provided that men up to 35 years, seven months of age would be drafted, although "seemingly it was the intent of Congress to include only those now under 30." He said there also was nothing in the law to prevent the re-induction of men already discharged.

Men over 30 Not Wanted

The War department does not want men over 30 years of age, he said, and men over that age will not be reclassified.

Mr. Truman said Selective Service Director Hershey had reported that 80,000 acceptable 18 and 19-year old high school students were "lost to the armed forces" because of Congress's action. The exemption of that age group will cut down the number of men under 26 who can be inducted each month from 35,000 to 5,000, the president said he had been informed.

The army has estimated that there are only about 15,000 eligible men in the 26-29 group whose induction is again authorized.

Retiring President Makes Plea to U.N. Security Council

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP) — Dr. Hafez Afifi Pasha, retiring president of the United Nations Security Council, told his colleagues bluntly today that the world was disappointed by the failure of the powers to work as a united family.

He said he himself was depressed by the lack of progress made by the council during his month as president and made an impassioned plea for the members "to make this council be a true and real instrument of everlasting peace."

The Egyptian delegate spoke at the end of a two-hour session during which the council adopted thirty-one new rules of procedure, including a sweeping secrecy rule which provides that the council may withhold proceedings of private sessions from members of the United Nations outside the council.

Under the council's system of rotation, French Delegate Alexandre Parodi will become president when the council meets at 11 a. m. (EDT) tomorrow to resume discussion of rules on the admission of new members to the United Nations.

Afifi Pasha declared that despite all the difficulties, he still had a firm faith in the ability of the Security council to preserve peace.

"I refuse to believe that differences between nations, be they ter-

Keyes Takes Command Of U. S. Third Army

HEIDELBERG, Germany, May 16 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott, Jr., who recently suffered a heart attack, relinquished command of the United States Third Army today and was succeeded by Lt.-Gen. Geofrey Keyes.

Keyes was commander of the United States Seventh Army until it was deactivated April 1 and the duties of occupying the American zone of Germany were taken over by the Third army.

British Cabinet Mission Proposes All-India Union

Moslem Demand for Separate State of Pakistan Is Rejected

By GLENN WILLIAMS

LONDON, May 16 (AP) — Britain proposed today an independent union of all India and rejected Moslem league demands for separate Moslem states in the northeast and northwest.

The union would link British India and the princely states into a federation for common conduct of foreign affairs, defense and communications and give the federal government authority to levy taxes for all three purposes.

The proposals were prepared by the three-man British cabinet mission to India after fruitless efforts to bring the major Indian factions into agreement on methods of framing a constitution and achieving political independence. Failure to establish a constitution soon, the mission said, will risk the "grave danger of violence, chaos and civil war."

The mission said that India "now has the opportunity of complete independence," but added "we hope that the new independent India may choose to be a member of the British commonwealth of nations."

The mission refused Moslem demands for Pakistan, creation of a separate state, because "it would not solve the communal minority problem," and the areas involved "contain the two most vulnerable frontiers in India," Prime Minister Clement Attlee told Commons.

The new Delhi, Moslem League headquarters declared the proposals "would not find widespread acceptance among the Moslems." Official comment was withheld pending a

Truman Says He Still Plans To Seize Roads To Keep Them Running

STRIKE IS SCHEDULED FOR 4 P. M. TOMORROW

Carriers and Brotherhoods Fail To Agree on Union Wage Proposal

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—A White House official said late today that President Truman may ask railroad and union representatives to confer with him tomorrow in an effort to break the deadlock in wage negotiations and prevent a country-wide rail strike set for 4 p. m., Saturday.

This was disclosed after the president told a news conference that he still plans to seize the roads if there is no agreement in time to keep them running. He expressed the hope this would not become necessary.

Representatives of the carriers and the Brotherhoods of Railroad Trainmen and Engineers reported to the White House earlier in the day their inability to agree on a modified wage proposal by the unions. They talked to Dr. John R. Steelman, presidential special assistant in labor matters.

Steelman said after the president's news conference that he had not been able to communicate the development to the president, but that he had been in touch with both sides and asked them to stand by.

The next move appeared to be up to the White House, and Steelman said another alternative besides seizure or arbitration was a request by the president that the negotiators try again to agree.

He indicated this might take the form of a request for a White House conference with both sides tomorrow.

The president told reporters he is

Senators Spurn Small's Proposal To Ban Strikes

Members Pressing for Labor Bill Issue "Filibuster" Charges

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP) — A suggestion from Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small that Congress outlaw strikes for six months met a cold reception in Congress today.

The proposal, which Small said he made as a private citizen, was labelled unworkable by senators on both sides of embattled lines over labor disputes legislation.

That was the one point of agreement in a day of Senate debate which heard charges of "filibuster" from senators pressing for enactment of some restrictions on union activities.

Sen. Ball (R-Minn) called the opposition tactics a filibuster after Sen. Taylor (D-Idaho) went into a long talk about Russia, interspersed with reading of lengthy newspaper clippings. Taylor began his speech after Sen. Pepper (D-Fla), who had held the floor since Monday, finally surrendered it.

Ball asked unanimous consent for a limitation on debate but Chairman Murray (D-Mont), of the Labor committee, objected. Murray, Pepper and Taylor are among a small group which has vowed to fight to the last ditch against any legislation which would "undermine and destroy" labor.

While refusing to agree to a limitation of debate, Murray denied that any filibuster is occurring or is contemplated.

Two Army Men Perish In Flying Fortress Crash

FAIRFAX, Calif., May 16 (AP)—A Flying Fortress crash, whose aftermath was cloaked in such army secrecy that an unconfirmed report circulated it was an atom bomb plane, killed two army men and injured seven others today on a ridge in Marin county, north of San Francisco.

Tonight as reports filtered in on the crash, another unconfirmed one was made public by a navy spokesman of the western sea frontier in San Francisco that a plane may have crashed this afternoon against Mt. Shasta in Northern California. A telephone caller, identifying himself as a state highway patrolman, said he saw the crash. Nearby Hamilton field dispatcher its special air rescue group to the site.

For hours after the morning crash of the B-17, military police with sidearms prevented all access to the wreckage of the Fortress. The plane, flying from Mines field, Los Angeles, struck the south slope of a ridge near Fairfax, bounced over the crest and slid 200 feet down the north slope, breaking up along the way.

Truman Says He Has Been in Touch With Stalin on World Food Crisis

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—President Truman said today he has been in touch with Generalissimo Stalin on the world food crisis, and diplomats said later that he had made a direct appeal for Soviet cooperation.

Mr. Truman himself would not go beyond his news conference statement that he had been in communication with Moscow. He said he hoped to have something on the subject later.

Washington diplomats, who cannot be named, said they understood that the president based his appeal on the idea that the nations which co-operated so successfully in the war should now attempt to work together equally in meeting the famine problem.

There was nothing to indicate that any reply had been received from the Russian premier so far.

The president told reporters that the United States is doing more than any other country to meet the food crisis. And he said he does not think the real facts would show conditions as bad as they have been pictured.

The president's comment on the American contribution to famine relief backed up in some degree testimony given earlier in the day to the House Agriculture committee.

Chairman Flannigan (D-Va), of that committee, accused the State department, UNRRA and its director, Fiorello LaGuardia, of causing unjust criticism of American efforts by issuing "misrepresentative" statements.

He seized on testimony before his committee by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson as proof of his contention that the criticism of what America has done lacks backing.

Anderson told the committee that

Plane Dives into Swamp and Burns Southeast of Richmond, Va.

RICHMOND, Va., May 16 (AP)—A twin-engine airliner with engine trouble, groping through the mist and fog for a return landing at Byrd airport, crashed and burned in a pine forest six miles southeast of Richmond today killing twenty-five passengers and its crew of two.

The plane—a DC-3 operated by Viking Transport Air Company on a chartered run from Newark, N. J., to Atlanta—dove sharply into the Henrico county woods after overshooting the airfield a few minutes earlier in a vain attempt to land.

It exploded and burst into flames. All but a few of the bodies were burned beyond recognition and lay scattered in a relatively small area along the soggy banks of Doran creek.

Plane Carried Family of Five

The ship was flown by two former army air forces airmen, William D. Anderson, 26, North Hollywood, Calif., pilot, and David H. Miner, 27, co-pilot, Burbank, Calif., and carried among its passengers members of the merchant marine and a family of five who arrived in the United States only yesterday from Spain. Two were children.

Bodies were brought out of the woods by horse and wagon and a tractor-drawn sled and sent to five Richmond funeral homes where identification could be made only by passports or identification cards that in several instances escaped the flames.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority said the plane put into Richmond for some unexplained reason about midnight and took off shortly thereafter for Atlanta. It was forty miles southeast of Richmond when it radioed that engine trouble had developed and requested permission to return.

Negro Heard Crash

The plane came back over the field at 12.52 a. m. (EST) and returned ten minutes later at a height of 500 feet still well above the low ceiling. The pilot flew off, apparently planning to make another approach. Ten minutes later the airport tried without success to resume contact with the plane.

Ed Marrow, a negro whose home is not far from the site of the crash, said he heard the plane pass over and "the engines didn't sound just right." A moment later he said the engines coughed roughly and this was followed almost immediately "by a sound like the rumble of thunder."

He said his watch showed 1:05.

The ship apparently struck in the rain-soaked woods after an almost vertical dive. The wreckage was not widely spread and seventy-five-foot trees surrounding the site were untouched.

Tydings Declares He Did Not Promise To Support Lane

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—Sen. Tydings (D-Md) asserted tonight, in reply to a statement by W. Preston Lane, Jr., that he had never promised to support Lane in his candidacy for the gubernatorial nomination, but that on the contrary, he had specified that "none of our talks were to be taken as committing me to support him."

Lane declared Wednesday that Tydings "personally" urged him to seek the Democratic nomination for governor and advised him when to announce his candidacy.

"With his own political interest in mind," Lane said, "Sen. Tydings then proceeded to desert me and to attempt to destroy my campaign, begun on his advice and with his assistance x x x."

Lane, a Hagerstown publisher, is one of three major contenders for the gubernatorial nomination in the June primary. His principal opponents are Rep. H. Streett Baldwin (D-Md), Hydes, and Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, Crisfield.

Sen. Tydings is supporting the Tawes candidacy.

"I have never promised Mr. Lane that I would support his candidacy for governor in my life," Tydings said tonight. "Mr. Lane knows this is absolutely true. On the contrary, I have taken great pains, in advising with him about his candidacy, to tell him frankly that none of our talks were to be taken as committing me to support him."

Mills Says McKeldin Should Answer Tydings

BALTIMORE, May 16 (AP)—Conceding that both labor and capital have rights and privileges, which he said should be equal, Herman L. Mills, Hagerstown, a Republican candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, asserted tonight that there still is "no place in this state or nation for any organized group" consisting of radicals or Communists.

In a statement issued after Sen. Tydings (D-Md) urged candidates in both Democratic and Republican parties to give their views on the CIO-PAC, Mills called upon Mayor McKeldin, his Republican adver-

Big Four Foreign Ministers Recess Paris Conference

Byrnes Says He Is Not Discouraged despite Failure of Meeting

By JOSEPH DYNAN

PARIS, May 16 (AP)—The four-power foreign ministers conference recessed today to June 15 after more than three weeks of discord between Russia and the western nations over major issues in the peace treaties with Italy and the Balkans.

Despite the fact that the conference ended in a deadlock, United States Secretary of State James F. Byrnes said he was not discouraged.

Just before adjournment, the ministers initialed a revised armistice for Italy liberalizing controls over the former Axis partner to aid her reconstruction.

Terms of the armistice will not be published until approved by the supreme Allied commander for Italy, American sources said, but it was believed to include abolition of the Allied control council.

The ministers failed, however, to reach an agrement on the question of a peace treaty for Germany. There was not even any agreement on appointment of a special commission to study German problems in advance of any conference on a German treaty, an American informant said. Byrnes had proposed such a study, and a German treaty conference next November 12.

One minor agreement was reached during the day when the Russians accepted an American proposal to investigate the progress of German disarmament.

Officials in the American delegation stressed that the conference had produced these accomplishments:

1—A complete and exhaustive exchange of views. Each one of the four foreign ministers knows now how the others stand. The ministers turned the points of disagreement over to their deputies for fur-

Welfare Activities Are Combined; NHA Is Made Permanent

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—President Truman today merged the government's far-flung welfare activities under the Federal Security Agency and announced he will ask congress soon to make it a regular department headed by a cabinet secretary.

The agency, now headed by Watson B. Miller as administrator, already has more employes and spends more money than "several" of the ten regular departments, Mr. Truman noted. He added that "the importance of its functions clearly call for departmental status and a permanent place in the president's cabinet."

The president acted under the reorganization law which Congress passed last year at his request. At the same time he established the National Housing Agency, originally created in wartime, on a permanent basis and ordered numerous other changes, most of which are in effect now by virtue of temporary wartime powers.

Congress may veto any of the changes if it sees fit. But if it fails to do so within sixty days, they automatically take effect.

To the Federal Security Agency, whose principal business now is Social Security, the president transferred:

1. Functions of the census bureau dealing with population and other vital statistics. Its business reports and other activities remain with the Commerce department.

2. The children's bureau, formerly in the Labor department. The bureau's functions in regard to child labor under the Fair Labor Standards act are shifted to the wage and hour division of the Labor department which administers the rest of the act. But bureau functions dealing with child welfare, crippled children, maternal health and child research now go to the FSA.

3. The United States Employes' Compensation Commission, an independent office established in 1916 to handle workmen's compensation benefits for federal employes.

The order abolishes the three-member Social Security board headed by Arthur J. Altmeyer as chairman and puts its functions directly under the FSA administrator.

The FSA at present also includes the public health service, the Office of Education, the food and drug

Candidates Pay Tribute to Women At Hagerstown Democratic Rally

HAGERSTOWN, Md., May 16 (AP)—Personal and political differences were put aside today for tributes to women as twelve Democratic primary contestants for major state offices and congressional seats addressed a five-hour rally of the United Democratic Women's Clubs of Maryland.

Mrs. August Klecka, Baltimore president of the organization, set the party unity theme by announcing at the start that the club had a "non-indorsing" primary policy and that personalities were out.

More than 600 delegates from women's Democratic clubs throughout the state gathered to hear the guest speakers, all men.

Two of the three major gubernatorial candidates, W. Preston Lane, Jr., and J. Millard Tawes, spoke, as well as Gov. O'Conor and Sen. Radcliffe, who are both running for the senatorial nomination. Sen. Tydings and Rep. Thomas D'Alesandro sent regrets, but said the press of official business kept them in Washington.

Mrs. Klecka asserted that the press is giving "too much emphasis" to differences within the party ranks and predicted that the opposition would make much use of controversies.

Taking his cue from the president, Gov. O'Conor said, "We can go forward only after we have settled matters in our own ranks." He added that the women who have been entrusted with legislative, judicial and administrative posts in Maryland have "more than made good."

Lane, who said he hoped the primary contest would be "a friendly one," paid tribute to the moral guidance of women, saying "the sense of decency that abides in man

Truman, Seeking Way To Keep Men On Job, Cancels Trip to Missouri

LEWIS IS DENOUNCED BY CPA'S CHIEFTAIN

Lewis and Operators Are Asked To Stand By for Further Talks

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP) — John L. Lewis and coal operators tonight rejected a presidential proposal that they submit their dispute to binding arbitration.

President Truman immediately cancelled a weekend trip to Missouri in order to seek some new method of averting another walkout of soft coal miners when the present truce expires May 25.

Emerging from the president's office later, Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach told reporters that the "only legal power the government has" in the event of a complete breakdown is seizure of the mines. But he added that "we haven't yet reached a point of deciding on seizure."

Schwellenbach said that in the latest conference with the president there were indications on both sides "there might be a desire to reopen negotiations."

The operators were willing to arbitrate on wages and hours, the White House said, but they balked at arbitration on the health and welfare fund demand. John L. Lewis took the position that his union negotiating committee is not authorized to arbitrate anything, according to Charles Ross, presidential secretary.

Small Urges Strike Ban

Even before the twin rejections of arbitration were given to the president, his production administrator, John D. Small, speaking unofficially, demanded that Congress require the parties to arbitrate by law and ban all strikes for six months. Small denounced Lewis as a breeder of industrial "chaos."

As the latest presidential effort to gain a settlement came to nothing, Ross told reporters that "representatives of the mine workers and the operators were asked to "stand by for further conversations." When these talks would be held was not indicated.

But the president, in announcing his arbitration proposal, had said the parties had told him their discussions "had completely broken down and that further negotiations would be useless."

The president advanced his suggestion for arbitration at a ten-minute conference with Lewis and Charles O'Neill of the operators this morning, and got his answer at 5:30 p. m. as the two returned for their third White House visit in two days.

Small, however, discounted in advance the idea that non-compulsory measures could bring industrial peace. In his lengthy statement, which he emphasized that he issued as a private citizen, the CPA chief said on that point:

"Lacking any sign that labor will now agree voluntarily to a holiday of strikes xxx or that management

House Hikes Funds For Mine Safety And Rescue Work

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—One of the issues which precipitated the coal strike — miners safety and health—prompted the House today to overrule its Appropriations committee and increase funds for bureau of mines safety and rescue work.

The increases, totalling $485,000, marked the first time in several days' debate on Interior department funds that the Appropriations committee was unable to beat back a challenge to its judgment on the multi-agency fund measure. Shortly thereafter the committee again was overruled, this time to boost funds for southwestern power development, before passage of the bill.

Amendments adding nearly $20,000,000 to other Interior agencies had been defeated in strike-out fashion when a bi-partisan coalition of mining state congressmen unloosed a flood of oratory against what some termed "niggardliness" in funds affecting mine safety.

In view of the coal strike safety issue, some declared it "psychologically unsound" to approve committee-recommended cuts in mine rescue and accident investigation funds.

The $180,224 for these services, cut out by the committee, was restored under an amendment by Rep. Neely (D-W Va). Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill), promptly pushed through another amendment adding $300,000 for additional personnel in the mine inspection service.

The committee had approved all of the $1,178,000 asked for this work but Dirksen said this was not enough.

Retiring President Makes Plea to U.N. Security Council

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP) — Dr. Hafez Afifi Pasha, retiring president of the United Nations Security Council, told his colleagues bluntly today that the world was disappointed by the failure of the powers to work as a united family.

He said he himself was depressed by the lack of progress made by the council during his month as president and made an impassioned plea for the members "to make this council be a true and real instrument of everlasting peace."

Under the council's system of rotation, French Delegate Alexandre Parodi will become president when the council meets at 11 a. m. (EDT) tomorrow to resume discussion of rules on the admission of new members to the United Nations.

Washington diplomats, who cannot be named, said they understood that the president based his appeal on the idea that the nations which co-operated so successfully in the war should now attempt to work together equally in meeting the famine problem.

There was nothing to indicate that any reply had been received from the Russian premier so far.

The president told reporters that the United States is doing more than any other country to meet the food crisis. And he said he does not think the real facts would show conditions as bad as they have been pictured.

The president's comment on the American contribution to famine relief backed up in some degree testimony given earlier in the day to the House Agriculture committee.

Chairman Flannigan (D-Va), of that committee, accused the State department, UNRRA and its director, Fiorello LaGuardia, of causing unjust criticism of American efforts by issuing "misrepresentative" statements.

He seized on testimony before his committee by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson as proof of his contention that the criticism of what America has done lacks backing.

Anderson told the committee that

Two Army Men Perish In Flying Fortress Crash

FAIRFAX, Calif., May 16 (AP)—A Flying Fortress crash, whose aftermath was cloaked in such army secrecy that an unconfirmed report circulated it was an atom bomb plane, killed two army men and injured seven others today on a ridge in Marin county, north of San Francisco.

Tonight as reports filtered in on the crash, another unconfirmed one was made public by a navy spokesman of the western sea frontier in San Francisco that a plane may have crashed this afternoon against Mt. Shasta in Northern California. A telephone caller, identifying himself as a state highway patrolman, said he saw the crash. Nearby Hamilton field dispatcher its special air rescue group to the site.

For hours after the morning crash of the B-17, military police with sidearms prevented all access to the wreckage of the Fortress. The plane, flying from Mines field, Los Angeles, struck the south slope of a ridge near Fairfax, bounced over the crest and slid 200 feet down the north slope, breaking up along the way.

27 Persons Die When Chartered Airliner Crashes

Plane Dives into Swamp and Burns Southeast of Richmond, Va.

RICHMOND, Va., May 16 (AP)—A twin-engine airliner with engine trouble, groping through the mist and fog for a return landing at Byrd airport, crashed and burned in a pine forest six miles southeast of Richmond today killing twenty-five passengers and its crew of two.

The plane—a DC-3 operated by Viking Transport Air Company on a chartered run from Newark, N. J., to Atlanta—dove sharply into the Henrico county woods after overshooting the airfield a few minutes earlier in a vain attempt to land.

It exploded and burst into flames. All but a few of the bodies were burned beyond recognition and lay scattered in a relatively small area along the soggy banks of Doran creek.

Plane Carried Family of Five

The ship was flown by two former army air forces airmen, William D. Anderson, 26, North Hollywood, Calif., pilot, and David H. Miner, 27, co-pilot, Burbank, Calif., and carried among its passengers members of the merchant marine and a family of five who arrived in the United States only yesterday from Spain. Two were children.

Bodies were brought out of the woods by horse and wagon and a tractor-drawn sled and sent to five Richmond funeral homes where identification could be made only by passports or identification cards that in several instances escaped the flames.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority said the plane put into Richmond for some unexplained reason about midnight and took off shortly thereafter for Atlanta. It was forty miles southeast of Richmond when it radioed that engine trouble had developed and requested permission to return.

Negro Heard Crash

The plane came back over the field at 12.52 a. m. (EST) and returned ten minutes later at a height of 500 feet still well above the low ceiling. The pilot flew off, apparently planning to make another approach. Ten minutes later the airport tried without success to resume contact with the plane.

Ed Marrow, a negro whose home is not far from the site of the crash, said he heard the plane pass over and "the engines didn't sound just right." A moment later he said the engines coughed roughly and this was followed almost immediately "by a sound like the rumble of thunder."

He said his watch showed 1:05.

The ship apparently struck in the rain-soaked woods after an almost vertical dive. The wreckage was not widely spread and seventy-five-foot trees surrounding the site were untouched.

Tydings Declares He Did Not Promise To Support Lane

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—Sen. Tydings (D-Md) asserted tonight, in reply to a statement by W. Preston Lane, Jr., that he had never promised to support Lane in his candidacy for the gubernatorial nomination, but that on the contrary, he had specified that "none of our talks were to be taken as committing me to support him."

Lane declared Wednesday that Tydings "personally" urged him to seek the Democratic nomination for governor and advised him when to announce his candidacy.

"With his own political interest in mind," Lane said, "Sen. Tydings then proceeded to desert me and to attempt to destroy my campaign, begun on his advice and with his assistance x x x."

Lane, a Hagerstown publisher, is one of three major contenders for the gubernatorial nomination in the June primary. His principal opponents are Rep. H. Streett Baldwin (D-Md), Hydes, and Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, Crisfield.

Sen. Tydings is supporting the Tawes candidacy.

"I have never promised Mr. Lane that I would support his candidacy for governor in my life," Tydings said tonight. "Mr. Lane knows this is absolutely true. On the contrary, I have taken great pains, in advising with him about his candidacy, to tell him frankly that none of our talks were to be taken as committing me to support him."

Mills Says McKeldin Should Answer Tydings

BALTIMORE, May 16 (AP)—Conceding that both labor and capital have rights and privileges, which he said should be equal, Herman L. Mills, Hagerstown, a Republican candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, asserted tonight that there still is "no place in this state or nation for any organized group" consisting of radicals or Communists.

In a statement issued after Sen. Tydings (D-Md) urged candidates in both Democratic and Republican parties to give their views on the CIO-PAC, Mills called upon Mayor McKeldin, his Republican adver-

O'NEILL AND LEWIS LEAVE WHITE HOUSE

CHARLES O'NEILL, left, spokesman for the soft coal operators, gets into a car and John L. Lewis, right, UMW president, walks from the White house after their conference with President Truman yesterday. The White House said both operators and miner workers had rejected arbitration.

Government Agencies Are Reorganized by President

Welfare Activities Are Combined; NHA Is Made Permanent

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—President Truman today merged the government's far-flung welfare activities under the Federal Security Agency and announced he will ask congress soon to make it a regular department headed by a cabinet secretary.

The agency, now headed by Watson B. Miller as administrator, already has more employes and spends more money than "several" of the ten regular departments, Mr. Truman noted. He added that "the importance of its functions clearly call for departmental status and a permanent place in the president's cabinet."

The president acted under the reorganization law which Congress passed last year at his request. At the same time he established the National Housing Agency, originally created in wartime, on a permanent basis and ordered numerous other changes, most of which are in effect now by virtue of temporary wartime powers.

Congress may veto any of the changes if it sees fit. But if it fails to do so within sixty days, they automatically take effect.

To the Federal Security Agency, whose principal business now is Social Security, the president transferred:

1. Functions of the census bureau dealing with population and other vital statistics. Its business reports and other activities remain with the Commerce department.

2. The children's bureau, formerly in the Labor department. The bureau's functions in regard to child labor under the Fair Labor Standards act are shifted to the wage and hour division of the Labor department which administers the rest of the act. But bureau functions dealing with child welfare, crippled children, maternal health and child research now go to the FSA.

3. The United States Employes' Compensation Commission, an independent office established in 1916 to handle workmen's compensation benefits for federal employes.

The order abolishes the three-member Social Security board headed by Arthur J. Altmeyer as chairman and puts its functions directly under the FSA administrator.

The FSA at present also includes the public health service, the Office of Education, the food and drug

Big Four Foreign Ministers Recess Paris Conference

Byrnes Says He Is Not Discouraged despite Failure of Meeting

By JOSEPH DYNAN

PARIS, May 16 (AP)—The four-power foreign ministers conference recessed today to June 15 after more than three weeks of discord between Russia and the western nations over major issues in the peace treaties with Italy and the Balkans.

Despite the fact that the conference ended in a deadlock, United States Secretary of State James F. Byrnes said he was not discouraged.

Just before adjournment, the ministers initialed a revised armistice for Italy liberalizing controls over the former Axis partner to aid her reconstruction.

Terms of the armistice will not be published until approved by the supreme Allied commander for Italy, American sources said, but it was believed to include abolition of the Allied control council.

The ministers failed, however, to reach an agrement on the question of a peace treaty for Germany. There was not even any agreement on appointment of a special commission to study German problems in advance of any conference on a German treaty, an American informant said. Byrnes had proposed such a study, and a German treaty conference next November 12.

One minor agreement was reached during the day when the Russians accepted an American proposal to investigate the progress of German disarmament.

Officials in the American delegation stressed that the conference had produced these accomplishments:

1—A complete and exhaustive exchange of views. Each one of the four foreign ministers knows now how the others stand. The ministers turned the points of disagreement over to their deputies for fur-

Candidates Pay Tribute to Women At Hagerstown Democratic Rally

HAGERSTOWN, Md., May 16 (AP)—Personal and political differences were put aside today for tributes to women as twelve Democratic primary contestants for major state offices and congressional seats addressed a five-hour rally of the United Democratic Women's Clubs of Maryland.

Mrs. August Klecka, Baltimore president of the organization, set the party unity theme by announcing at the start that the club had a "non-indorsing" primary policy and that personalities were out.

More than 600 delegates from women's Democratic clubs throughout the state gathered to hear the guest speakers, all men.

Two of the three major gubernatorial candidates, W. Preston Lane, Jr., and J. Millard Tawes, spoke, as well as Gov. O'Conor and Sen. Radcliffe, who are both running for the senatorial nomination.

Sen. Tydings and Rep. Thomas D'Alesandro sent regrets, but said the press of official business kept them in Washington.

Mrs. Klecka asserted that the press is giving "too much emphasis" to differences within the party ranks and predicted that the opposition would make much use of controversies.

Taking his cue from the president, Gov. O'Conor said, "We can go forward only after we have settled matters in our own ranks." He added that the women who have been entrusted with legislative, judicial and administrative posts in Maryland have "more than made good."

Lane, who said he hoped the primary contest would be "a friendly one," paid tribute to the moral guidance of women, saying "the sense of decency that abides in man

Truman, Seeking Way To Keep Men On Job, Cancels Trip to Missouri

LEWIS IS DENOUNCED BY CPA'S CHIEFTAIN

Lewis and Operators Are Asked To Stand By for Further Talks

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP) — John L. Lewis and coal operators tonight rejected a presidential proposal that they submit their dispute to binding arbitration.

President Truman immediately cancelled a weekend trip to Missouri in order to seek some new method of averting another walkout of soft coal miners when the present truce expires May 25.

Emerging from the president's office later, Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach told reporters that the "only legal power the government has" in the event of a complete breakdown is seizure of the mines. But he added that "we haven't yet reached a point of deciding on seizure."

Schwellenbach said that in the latest conference with the president there were indications on both sides "there might be a desire to reopen negotiations."

The operators were willing to arbitrate on wages and hours, the White House said, but they balked at arbitration on the health and welfare fund demand. John L. Lewis took the position that his union negotiating committee is not authorized to arbitrate anything, according to Charles Ross, presidential secretary.

Small Urges Strike Ban

Even before the twin rejections of arbitration were given to the president, his production administrator, John D. Small, speaking unofficially, demanded that Congress require the parties to arbitrate by law and ban all strikes for six months. Small denounced Lewis as a breeder of industrial "chaos."

As the latest presidential effort to gain a settlement came to nothing, Ross told reporters that "representatives of the mine workers and the operators were asked to "stand by for further conversations." When these talks would be held was not indicated.

But the president, in announcing his arbitration proposal, had said the parties had told him their discussions "had completely broken down and that further negotiations would be useless."

The president advanced his suggestion for arbitration at a ten-minute conference with Lewis and Charles O'Neill of the operators this morning, and got his answer at 5:30 p. m. as the two returned for their third White House visit in two days.

Small, however, discounted in advance the idea that non-compulsory measures could bring industrial peace. In his lengthy statement, which he emphasized that he issued as a private citizen, the CPA chief said on that point:

"Lacking any sign that labor will now agree voluntarily to a holiday of strikes xxx or that management

House Hikes Funds For Mine Safety And Rescue Work

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—One of the issues which precipitated the coal strike — miners safety and health—prompted the House today to overrule its Appropriations committee and increase funds for bureau of mines safety and rescue work.

The increases, totalling $485,000, marked the first time in several days' debate on Interior department funds that the Appropriations committee was unable to beat back a challenge to its judgment on the multi-agency fund measure. Shortly thereafter the committee again was overruled, this time to boost funds for southwestern power development, before passage of the bill.

Amendments adding nearly $20,000,000 to other Interior agencies had been defeated in strike-out fashion when a bi-partisan coalition of mining state congressmen unloosed a flood of oratory against what some termed "niggardliness" in funds affecting mine safety.

In view of the coal strike safety issue, some declared it "psychologically unsound" to approve committee-recommended cuts in mine rescue and accident investigation funds.

The $180,224 for these services, cut out by the committee, was restored under an amendment by Rep. Neely (D-W Va). Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill), promptly pushed through another amendment adding $308,000 for additional personnel in the mine inspection service.

The committee had approved all of the $1,178,000 asked for this work but Dirksen said this was not enough.

Husband Has No Right to Nights Out, Wife Asserts

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Here's a woman who thinks a husband ought to confine his recreation to the daytime—that is, unless he's ready to take the whole family along with him when he goes out. If he shows signs of wanting a night out to himself, then a wife had better be prepared to hear of his unfaithfulness, in her opinion.

She writes:

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

"I wholeheartedly disagree with you on the theory of the right of a man to a night out once a week. I, for one, have paid in full for such nonsense.

"Don't you know that this sort of thing most of the time leads to philandering? And I'm not speaking from my experience alone.

"This business might be all right for some men, but every one I know of always ended up in the philandering class. Give them an inch and they will take a yard, and that one night out becomes seven.

"This is my theory of a happy marriage: I think a husband can get plenty of diversion by going fishing and hunting or engaging in any other sport he may like in the daytime on his days off and still be with his family at night and not out having a spree. After all, most men are away from home every day, and should be happy to spend their evenings with their families.

"I may have the wrong solution and the wrong slant on life, but it's working for me now and I still think it's a good one. Remember, what's good for some is real bad for others. "MRS. B.P."

To quote your own thought in other words, Mrs. B. P., what may work for some, won't work at all for others, and the program you've adopted for keeping your own husband home nights might be the very thing that would send another woman's husband off in the wrong direction.

If you've been able to persuade your husband that his place is with his family every single night in the week, that's just fine—for you. Because you obviously don't trust your husband. You imply that he has taken advantage of his freedom in the past and instead of spending his night off in legitimate recreation has gone off on the prowl. So now you think the cure for his wanderlust is to keep him right on the premises all the time where you can see what he's up to.

Maybe, as I say, this is all right for your particular problem and if it is, then more power to you for having been able to solve it. But somehow I don't believe it would be a very sound program for the average family.

Because, while you say that your theory of a happy marriage is that the husband should be home every night with his family, and only go out by himself during the day most people's theory of a happy marriage is that husband and wife should be able to trust each so completely that either could go out when and where they like without the other having an anxious moment. Surely, a husband who has no intention in the world of abusing his wife's faith in his would resent it if she insisted that he must remain under her eye after dark,— and, on the other hand, it's hard to believe that a husband who wants to play in some one else's yard won't find a way even though he is required to check in for the night the minute he's through work.

Strikes Hit Good Radio Offerings

ONE of the most delightful programs coming over the radio is "Great Moments in Music," which is sponsored by Celanese Corporation of America. It is more than delightful—it is cultural because it furnishes vocal and instrumental music of the highest type, including grand opera selections, and is enlightening and educational, serving to stimulate appreciation among the people of one of the fine arts.

It is, accordingly, a matter of deep regret that this program will go off the air when its present contract expires June 26. But the regret is not confined to this splendid program, but applies to other equally splendid programs of the kind, for thy are going off the air also when their existing contracts expire, some of them indefinitely, some permanently, while others have been forced to undergo substantial cuts.

General Foods Corporation will so cut its presentations. At least two, maybe three, of its present programs are scheduled to get the axe. Westinghouse Electric Corporation will drop its half-hour program June 30. One of the very best of the musical offerings, the "Hour of Charm," by the Phil Spitalny Girls, sponsored by the General Electric Company, is to be abolished in September and it is announced that the contract for it will not be renewed nor will the program be replaced by another. These are typical—the list is much longer.

It has been the custom for many of the large radio users to go on vacation and replace their offerings with substitute programs during the summer season, but this will not be done by many of them this year. In consequence the big radio networks are finding themselves with many of their choice evening time spots vacant.

Why all this general exodus of good programs from the air networks? Strikes, rising costs, raw material shortages have both directly and indirectly clipped profits and turned earnings into losses. Even the big concerns can't stand this, since the programs cost from a million to a million and a half dollars annually.

Thus we have further painful repercussions from the unfortunate developments that have forced radical changes in the national economic system, which might have been averted, and which will in all likelihood be multiplied before its machinery gets back into gear.

These repercussions point several morals, but one of them appears to be another illustration of the old saying that you can't have your cake and eat it, too.

A Senseless Waste Of Public Money

THAT is a justifiable complaint which Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) has lodged over the squandering of the people's money by the federal government for "propaganda" and publicity activities.

This is costing the taxpayers no less than $74,000,000 a year. "Administration spokesmen use the people's own money to distribute propaganda," Hickenlooper said in a Senate speech. "The people are given a one-sided representation of the claims of the bureaucrats. The technique for developing public sentiment is used to beat down all opposition."

The senator cited budget figures showing that 23,009 full time and 22,769 part time employes are engaged in "educational, informational, promotional and publicity activities" for the federal government.

All this is utter surplusage considering the facilities that are available for the transmission of factual information to the public by means of a free press, news distributing agencies and other communication channels.

Unhappily for the taxpayers, Senator Hickenlooper's protest is not likely to get anywhere for some time to come. That is because this is an election year and the bureaucrats, aided and abetted by their congressional sponsors, will continue these vote-getting facilities to the last ditch. But it is a senseless waste.

Measles May Be Serious

(A guest editorial by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association)

MEASLES is such a common childhood disease that mothers are apt to look upon an attack as inevitable for their children. They think of measles as a necessary evil, calling for extra attention to the child, but nothing to worry about.

It is a good thing, of course, for the parent not to get excited when Junior has the measles — or any other disease, for that matter. But measles may have serious consequences, especially if the patient is very young, and should not be dismissed lightly.

Measles itself is seldom a direct cause of death. It may, however, lead to complications which will cause death or gravely menace health. Children with measles, or just recovering from an attack, may catch pneumonia, diphtheria, even tuberculosis. They may also develop ear trouble. The child recovering from measles is particularly susceptible to other infections.

The first symptoms of measles are a head cold, sneezing, running nose and watery eyes. Sometimes vomiting occurs and there is a slight fever. Red spots break out on the skin about the fourth day. They last only a few days. The disease usually runs its course in two weeks.

Measles is common because it is highly contagious. It is often spread because its early symptoms are confused with those of a cold and children who have the disease are permitted to play with well children. At the first sign of measles, the child should be put to bed and kept there, separated from other children, until all danger is past. Meanwhile, a doctor should be consulted.

Children should never be deliberately exposed to measles. Common as the disease is, it is a threat to future health. Every precaution should be taken particularly to guard very young children from the disease. The majority of deaths from measles occurs among children less than three years of age. To protect children against measles, a new method is being tried which appears to give partial immunity to the disease or lightens its severity. Advice about serums should be obtained from a doctor.

Of course, adults may catch measles, too. It is comparatively rare among them because so many people have measles in childhood and thereafter are immune to it. There are different types of measles, however, and one type does not create immunity to another type.

American Companies Are Pinched Abroad

AMERICAN OIL COMPANIES IN EUROPE—nearly all of which are in the Russian-occupied zone—are having a difficult struggle and probably will not survive. In a few instances Russia is making a pretense of fair play, but it is meaningless. The other day Russian authorities in Autria admitted that the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company owns its properties in an Austrian oil field and promised to make restitution for any oil used or equipment confiscated. But, despite Russian assurances, their future is far from safe.

In Rumania, Standard of New Jersey lost $3,000,000 last year trying to compete with the Soviet Rumanian concern at prices the Rumanian government made ruinously low. In addition, the government forced the American company to pay higher than prevailing wages. The American government has demanded that American oil rights be protected in Hungary.

There was a time when American property rights were rsepected in other lands in consequence of forthright American foreign policy but, unfortunately, a different condition obtains today.

The Magic Cords Of Remembrance

MEMORIES are quickened by visual items. Photography has done much to make more tenuous the magic cords of remembrance. Color pictures and home movies are being stored throughout the country, to be resurrected in later years in family circles. They will be much more enjoyable than the old family album.

Now the radio is to expand that field. Researchers have developed a magnetic paper tape which will make recording easy and cheap in the homes. It is used with an inexpensive radio attachment. It makes the preservation of baby's first words, sing-fests and other vocal activities around the family circle simple. How pleasant it will be, in later years, to hear aagin the words of a family conference or a social chat.

Perhaps inventive genius will go on from there into the field of smell. Everyone is familiar with the flood of nostalgic recollection borne in on a vagrant odor. It is not beyond belief that ultimately it will be possible to capture and store away the fragrance of a rose on the bush in the back yard or that peculiar pungency which Junior brings into the house with him from his outdoor adventures.

The hyperbole of an old saying that the sky is the limit will come into verisimilitude when a surplus Flying Fortress starts flying between Reno and Las Vegas after being converted into a swanky gambling establishment.

There still is reference to the Gay Nineties, the period in which people were gay, presumably, because there were no strikes.

The Maryland political campaign is just warm at present, but that doesn't mean that it will not get hot.

Meat stocks are reported to be the lowest in years. A lot of humans and dogs are in for more bare cupboards.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Well, I went to the harness races the other day. You all know what a harness race is...that's Santa Anita with rickshaws!

But I noticed one thing that was different about those harness races ...the horses trot..... they don't run like the regular horses at Santa Anita. But it doesn't make much difference. It just means that you lose your pants a little more slowly, that's all.

But it's really wonderful to watch those horses trot. They really bring their knees way up. In fact, the horse I bet on brought his knees up so high that by the time he finished the race he had a double Adam's apple.

This is the first time we've ever had harness racing in California. We would have had it before, but, as you all know, in harness racing, they use reins, and the chamber of commerce was afraid the newspapers might misspell it.

RESULTS OF THE MOUNTAIN'S LABOR

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Alice Longworth's Friendship with UMW Chief Worries Friends, Pearson Reports

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, May 16—During the coal strike, friends of Alice Roosevelt Longworth have been trying to figure out whether she has more influence over her good friend John L. Lewis or whether he dominates her. Some had hoped that she might help persuade him to call off the strike.

However, Mrs. Longworth seems to have leaned toward a bitter and almost fascistic form of thinking recently, and some of the labor people once close to John L. Lewis say his bitterness is partly inspired by Mrs. Longworth. So her influence in settling the strike is doubtful.

Today's Mrs. Longworth's circle is largely confined to isolationists, including some friends bordering on the fascist fringe. The Spanish embassy, hot-bed of Francoism, always stages a big party for "Princess Alice" on her birthday, and she even refers to such old friends as Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, former United States minister to Norway, as a "Commie," because Mrs. Harriman served on a Russian relief committee.

At a dinner given by Mrs. Longworth for her brother-in-law, Count de Chambrun, the other day, Alice even made the astounding remark that it was unfortunate the kaiser didn't win the last war before we got in.

One thing on which both Mrs. Longworth's and Lewis's friends agree is that hatred of Roosevelt brought them together. Both disliked him passionately, both continue to hate almost everything connected with him. That seems to be the chief bond between them.

Caste System

Though Secretary of War Patterson has called a special board to examine the "caste system" inside the army, some of the brass hats are still going out of their way to rub the caste system into GIs. As late as May 3, Mitchell field, N. Y., issued an order warning officers against having "dates" with enlisted personnel.

Apparently male officers were doing too much dating of enlisted WACs. The order read:

"It is the intent of this letter that every male and female officer within this command refrain from 'dating' enlisted personnel.

"It is realized that there are circumstances which will arise such as officers having relatives or old friends among the enlisted personnel or vice-versa. Those cases should be given special consideration and treated with discretion by the commanding officer of the individual command .... Strict compliance with this letter is directed." The order was signed by Maj. George Schenklein, assistant adjutant.

President Truman's Purge

A lot of dust was kicked up by all the reports and counter-reports that President Truman wanted to purge Democratic Congressman Roger Slauhter, of the president's home bailiwick. However, here is what actually happened

Democratic National Chairman Bob Hannean telephoned to Jim Penderast, successor to Boss Tom Pendergast, also to James P. Aylward, former Democratic national committeeman, and told them in effect:

"The president isn't taking sides in any election back in his home state, but there is one man he would like to see defeated. He is Roger Slaughter."

Hannegan asked that the Democratic factions support Jerome Walsh, former OPA attorney and son of President Roosevelt's close friend, Frank Walsh.

Pendergast, who heads the "Goat" faction of the Democratic machine, politely stated his regrets and informed Hannegan that the "Goats" already had promised the "Rabbit" faction, headed by Frank Shannon, their support for Congressman Slaughter's renomination. Pendergast said that inasmuch as this commitment had already been made, he could not change it.

In view of this turndown, Hannegan had Dick Nacy, vice-chairman of the Democratic National Committee and a close friend of Pendergast, telephone him. However, Nacy had no luck either.

The Democratic machine commitment to Slaughter stands; but it doesn't make the president at all happy. For no one in Congress has opposed him more bitterly than the gentleman from Kansas City.

Note 1—Truman and Hannegan both want to avoid such purge battles as were staged by FDR, but they felt that in Truman's home area he had a right to intervene, just as Roosevelt fought Congressman Ham Fish in New York. Actually, Congressman Slaughter, though brought up in Independence and married to an Independence girl, represents the congressional district next to Truman's. However, Ham Fish's district was revamped so that he was no longer FDR's congressman. Nevertheless, Roosevelt continued his undying opposition, eventually defeated Fish.

Note 2—The "Rabbit" Democrats in Kansas City derive their name from Chief White Rabbit of the Osage Indians, who signed the first treaty with settlers at what is now Independence, Mo. The "Goat" Democrats derive their names from a story that in 1828 a herd of goats took refuge in the Independence first courthouse and crowded everyone else out. President Truman is a "Goat."

OPA's Sudden Friends

Unique development in the OPA fight is the sudden rush of the clothing trade to defend OPA. They are literally tearing fences down to make it clear that they are for the continuation of price control.

Here is the ghost they saw which made them run so fast.

When the House of Representatives gutted price control, rayon manufacturers suddenly began to hold up deliveries, figuring they could soon get higher prices. So also did nylon and cotton manufacturers. For under the Gossett amendment, inserted by Congressman Ed Gossett, Wichita Falls, Texas, those three commodities would be relieved of price control this summer.

Congressman Gossett confessed to newsmen at first that he didn't know exactly what his amendment was. But the textile industry did, and slowed up deliveries.

So the clothing manufacturers, unable to get materials, are now urging Congress to pass a price control bill not cluttered up with hamstringing amendments.

Note—Here are the clothing organizations which suddenly rushed to the defense of OPA: Industrial Council of Coat and Suit Manufacturers; National Association of Blouse Manufacturers; Housedress Manufacturers; Popular Price Dress Association; National Association of Shirt Manufacturers; the Milliners' Association.

Capital Chaff

Sen. Kenneth McKellar, president of the Senate, has long delayed in naming the usual Special Campaign Investigating committee for the approaching elections. However, now that the CIO-PAC has named McKellar No. 1 on its purge list, the betting is that McKellar will name Sen. Allen Ellender, of Louisiana, or another outstanding CIO enemy as committee chairman .... The Senate Committee on Audits and Accounts has set aside $30,000 for the Campaign committee, but McKellar, as chairman of the appropriations committee, can provide more if needed .... Tennesseeans are worried about McKellar's health. The politicians are not sure he can put on a real campaign, and the voters are worried about having a sick senator represent them.

SPRING FEVER, eh?

● Yes, it makes a nice-sounding alibi. But maybe there's a reason for "that feeling." If you are chronically lacking in energy these spring days, better have a talk with your doctor. He may find a condition that needs correction. And then, if he gives you a prescription, we'd like to compound it!

Buyers' Strike Is Seen as Result Of High Prices

By ROGER W. BABSON

NEW YORK CITY, May 16—I am still optimistic as to stock market prices and believe that the Dow-Jones industrial average will go at least to 225 and perhaps 250. It is now about 207. The combined averages may lag in their upward movement due to the investors switching wisely from rails to industrials. So much for stock prices.

Commodity Prices

My chief interest at the moment is in connection with commodity prices,—that is, what readers must pay for food, clothing and shelter. I, hence, came over to New York, which is the central market on these basic commodities, to get the facts. There seems to be two schools of economic thought on the part of able-thinking men. This is wholly independent of the row over the OPA which is a question of politics and not of economics.

The first school group—although they are in the minority—believe that we will have continuing high prices through 1946 and 1947 but that this rise will bring about a buyers' strike. This will be due partly to the fact that the great mass of people will then have cashed in such of their "E" bonds as they intended to sell, and partly to their determination to wait for lower prices. This may especially be true in the field of building. There is a limit to what people will pay for a new house.

Truth about Building

The National Housing Agency has just released a careful study on home building. They find that a house which would have cost $5,000 to build six years ago would cost $8,250 to build today. Houses under $6,000 have gone up sixty-five per cent and houses over $6,000 have gone up fifty-seven per cent. In certain sections of the Pacific coast it is claimed that building has gone up 100 per cent. These increases are certainly out of line with the advances in other living costs which amount to only about thirty per cent.

Effect of Labor Unions

Over a long period, prices are determined by supply and demand. Even labor unions cannot do much to effect the long trend of prices. Improvements in the standard of living are due to increased production and new inventions rather than to labor unions. Over a short term, however, labor unions can greatly affect prices by raising wages, shortening hours and especially by slowing down "the number of bricks laid per hour." This is true today and will be in 1947 when labor unions may be in even a stronger bargaining position.

Most of those whom I interview belong to the second school of thought; they do not expect the buyers' strike but rather slowly rising prices for some years to come. Most businessmen are now short of labor; over 2,000,000 more persons are employed today than a year ago. In some industries there exists a real shortage of labor. On the other hand, many lines of industry are running into a very competitive market. Many more concerns will be making every product than before the war. This should tend to keep down profits and make the price rise orderly.

Personal Opinion

FOOD: Excepting a few products, such as fruit, dairy products, etc. there should be no increase in food prices after the Europeans get a good crop. Labor is returning to the farm, improved farm machinery will be on the market and—barring unseasonable weather conditions—there may soon be a surplus of crops and even lower prices.

CLOTHING AND OTHER CONSUMER GOODS: Clothing prices will be higher. The industry is heavily unionized and the OPA has been unfair to clothing manufacturers. There also is a shortage in other lines. With the exception of clothing, I expect only a moderate rise in prices of consumer goods in general unless Congress raises minimum wages above 50 cents per hour. There, however, should be a small, but gradual, increase in the prices of consumers goods for some time to come.

HOUSING: The cost of building will continue to increase until there is either a buyers' strike or the unions permit reasonable building codes and the use of modern methods such as paint spraying, etc. At the moment, the building trade unions have the American people by the throat. Someday they will regret their present foolish actions.

Three Secretaries Are Seen Likely In Service Plan

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 16—President Truman has exhibited flexibility and discernment in settling differences between the army and navy on the so-called merger plan. What has happened is that the President gains his original objective which is "unification"—but at the same time erases the discord among the armed services which earlier plans for a single department of national defense would have entailed.

Mr. Truman has adhered to the principle which was referred to in all his utterances as "unification" or "integration" of the armed services and on this he has been on solid ground all along. Where the differences developed was on the method of gaining the objective and, as soon as the President saw the difficulties and potential dangers of a paper plan, he agreed to consider alternate programs which would achieve his main purpose.

What eventually will emerge out of the discussions is a plan for three cabinet secretaries, one of whom presumably will be the co-ordinating director of defense. There would be joint offices for certain tasks, such as intelligence and possibly in the field of purchases and contract making. But the armed services themselves would not be ruled by a single chief of staff as recently proposed. Instead the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff would be the top-level organization which would issue orders to the armed services, as was the case during the war.

Benefits Retained

This plan insures the retention of those benefits and experience which the war developed. It involves the maintenance of the organization which not only functioned effectively with respect to our own armed services but worked out a system of cooperation with the military and naval and air staffs of the other Allied countries. A going concern is permitted to go on developing without being upset by a new line of command or authority. The President's decision in this respect is to be heartily commended.

There remains, of course, the problem of solving the status of the air forces within the War department. There can be no denying that the air forces have been progressive and alert and have knocked tradition into a cocked hat by their wonderful use of the new artillery of the air. Whether the time has come to make a separate armed service of the air forces is something on which opinions differ.

Aerial Combat Types Differ

Certainly there are two separate and distinct types of aerial combat. One relates to the use of aircraft close to ground troops as a cover for their movements and as an offensive weapon against enemy communications close to the battle line. The other relates to the long-range strategic bombing in which the army air forces feel there is a new dimension involved. This is concerned with the long-distance bombing of factories and industrial equipment as a means of crippling the enemy's capacity to carry on a war.

The strategic air operations should, of course, be tied in with all the other armed services, but its proponents contend it is as much a separate entity as the navy or the army. Some proponents want to go as far as to give the air forces a separate department, but the ground forces of the army are not inclined to go all the way on this.

Clear Development

One thing has developed clearly, and that is the need for keeping the naval air forces tied in with the navy because air operations over the seas must be necessarily controlled by ship commanders in a given area even though the planes may be based on islands as well as aircraft carriers.

There is a growing trend now toward agreement between the armed services and this is a healthy thing, because the men who want to see the United States kept in a state of preparedness will find that the public has an impression that the wartime organization was effctive and hence will favor continuance, whereas experiments that produce discord and impair harmony would merely mean prolonged controversy at a time when unification of the armed services is so essential.

Mr. Truman is making substantial progress in harmonizing the views of the armed services and if he can get agreement soon, as seems probable, it is likely Congress will pass the plan finally recommended by the White House.

Rewards

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

None of us gives back enough to the source from which we take. In Boswell's Life of Johnson, the author quotes Dr. Johnson as follows: "Many years ago, when I used to read in the library of your college, (Trinity College, Cambridge) I promised to recompense the College for that permission by adding to their books a Baskerville Virgil. I have now sent it, and desire you to reposit it on the shelves in my name."

The rewards that I have gained from public and college libraries have been beyond my ability to repay, but of recent years I have tried to make up this indebtedness by presenting several college libraries with volumes that have inspired and blessed me for many years. My recommendation is that many more lovers of books do the same. They will be enriched as I have been.

I like to play games, both indoor and outdoor—but I don't like any reward beyond the pleasure of losing to a delightful companion, or winning in my own right, which is reward and glory enough.

Rewards, in the form of medals and gifts have never had any attraction for me. Too often they encourage boasting, whereas excellence, or triumph, in any form, is reward enough. There is always plenty of applause for the one who modestly takes his honors as full compensation for good and honest efforts that have put him on high ground. Nothing can compete with inward satisfaction.

Can you imagine the thrill and happiness that Charles Lamb gained from the appreciation that was returned to him for having sent to William Wordsworth a copy of his delightful Elia essays? What a thrill these days, just to handle a first edition of those essays, as I have done—but not able, as yet, to acquire a copy of my own. From my own modern copy, however, I read again and again, those beautiful essays. His Dream Children is a masterpiece.

Don't think when you give away anything that you get nothing in return. You get the satisfaction of having distributed something of yourself, and something of that other one is returned to you—to bless and enrich you.

Strikes Hit Good Radio Offerings

ONE of the most delightful programs coming over the radio is "Great Moments in Music," which is sponsored by Celanese Corporation of America. It is more than delightful—it is cultural because it furnishes vocal and instrumental music of the highest type, including grand opera selections, and is enlightening and educational, serving to stimulate appreciation among the people of one of the fine arts.

It is, accordingly, a matter of deep regret that this program will go off the air when its present contract expires June 26. But the regret is not confined to this splendid program, but applies to other equally splendid programs of the kind, for thy are going off the air also when their existing contracts expire, some of them indefinitely, some permanently, while others have been forced to undergo substantial cuts.

General Foods Corporation will so cut its presentations. At least two, maybe three, of its present programs are scheduled to get the axe. Westinghouse Electric Corporation will drop its half-hour program June 30. One of the very best of the musical offerings, the "Hour of Charm," by the Phil Spitalny Girls, sponsored by the General Electric Company, is to be abolished in September and it is announced that the contract for it will not be renewed nor will the program be replaced by another. These are typical—the list is much longer.

It has been the custom for many of the large radio users to go on vacation and replace their offerings with substitute programs during the summer season, but this will not be done by many of them this year. In consequence the big radio networks are finding themselves with many of their choice evening time spots vacant.

Why all this general exodus of good programs from the air networks? Strikes, rising costs, raw material shortages have both directly and indirectly clipped profits and turned earnings into losses. Even the big concerns can't stand this, since the programs cost from a million to a million and a half dollars annually.

Thus we have further painful repercussions from the unfortunate developments that have forced radical changes in the national economic system, which might have been averted, and which will in all likelihood be multiplied before its machinery gets back into gear.

These repercussions point several morals, but one of them appears to be another illustration of the old saying that you can't have your cake and eat it, too.

A Senseless Waste Of Public Money

THAT is a justifiable complaint which Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) has lodged over the squandering of the people's money by the federal government for "propaganda" and publicity activities.

This is costing the taxpayers no less than $74,000,000 a year. "Administration spokesmen use the people's own money to distribute propaganda," Hickenlooper said in a Senate speech. "The people are given a one-sided representation of the claims of the bureaucrats. The technique for developing public sentiment is used to beat down all opposition."

The senator cited budget figures showing that 23,009 full time and 22,769 part time employes are engaged in "educational, informational, promotional and publicity activities" for the federal government.

All this is utter surplusage considering the facilities that are available for the transmission of factual information to the public by means of a free press, news distributing agencies and other communication channels.

Unhappily for the taxpayers, Senator Hickenlooper's protest is not likely to get anywhere for some time to come. That is because this is an election year and the bureaucrats, aided and abetted by their congressional sponsors, will continue these vote-getting facilities to the last ditch. But it is a senseless waste.

Measles May Be Serious

(A guest editorial by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association)

MEASLES is such a common childhood disease that mothers are apt to look upon an attack as inevitable for their children. They think of measles as a necessary evil, calling for extra attention to the child, but nothing to worry about.

It is a good thing, of course, for the parent not to get excited when Junior has the measles — or any other disease, for that matter. But measles may have serious consequences, especially if the patient is very young, and should not be dismissed lightly.

Measles itself is seldom a direct cause of death. It may, however, lead to complications which will cause death or gravely menace health. Children with measles, or just recovering from an attack, may catch pneumonia, diphtheria, even tuberculosis. They may also develop ear trouble. The child recovering from measles is particularly susceptible to other infections.

The first symptoms of measles are a head cold, sneezing, running nose and watery eyes. Sometimes vomiting occurs and there is a slight fever. Red spots break out on the skin about the fourth day. They last only a few days. The disease usually runs its course in two weeks.

Measles is common because it is highly contagious. It is often spread because its early symptoms are confused with those of a cold and children who have the disease are permitted to play with well children. At the first sign of measles, the child should be put to bed and kept there, separated from other children, until all danger is past. Meanwhile, a doctor should be consulted.

Children should never be deliberately exposed to measles. Common as the disease is, it is a threat to future health. Every precaution should be taken particularly to guard very young children from the disease. The majority of deaths from measles occurs among children less than three years of age. To protect children against measles, a new method is being tried which appears to give partial immunity to the disease or lightens its severity. Advice about serums should be obtained from a doctor.

Of course, adults may catch measles, too. It is comparatively rare among them because so many people have measles in childhood and thereafter are immune to it. There are different types of measles, however, and one type does not create immunity to another type.

American Companies Are Pinched Abroad

AMERICAN OIL COMPANIES IN EUROPE—nearly all of which are in the Russian-occupied zone—are having a difficult struggle and probably will not survive. In a few instances Russia is making a pretense of fair play, but it is meaningless. The other day Russian authorities in Autria admitted that the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company owns its properties in an Austrian oil field and promised to make restitution for any oil used or equipment confiscated. But, despite Russian assurances, their future is far from safe.

In Rumania, Standard of New Jersey lost $3,000,000 last year trying to compete with the Soviet Rumanian concern at prices the Rumanian government made ruinously low. In addition, the government forced the American company to pay higher than prevailing wages. The American government has demanded that American oil rights be protected in Hungary.

There was a time when American property rights were rsepected in other lands in consequence of forthright American foreign policy but, unfortunately, a different condition obtains today.

The Magic Cords Of Remembrance

MEMORIES are quickened by visual items. Photography has done much to make more tenuous the magic cords of remembrance. Color pictures and home movies are being stored throughout the country, to be resurrected in later years in family circles. They will be much more enjoyable than the old family album.

Now the radio is to expand that field. Researchers have developed a magnetic paper tape which will make recording easy and cheap in the homes. It is used with an inexpensive radio attachment. It makes the preservation of baby's first words, sing-fests and other vocal activities around the family circle simple. How pleasant it will be, in later years, to hear aagin the words of a family conference or a social chat.

Perhaps inventive genius will go on from there into the field of smell. Everyone is familiar with the flood of nostalgic recollection borne in on a vagrant odor. It is not beyond belief that ultimately it will be possible to capture and store away the fragrance of a rose on the bush in the back yard or that peculiar pungency which Junior brings into the house with him from his outdoor adventures.

The hyperbole of an old saying that the sky is the limit will come into verisimilitude when a surplus Flying Fortress starts flying between Reno and Las Vegas after being converted into a swanky gambling establishment.

There still is reference to the Gay Nineties, the period in which people were gay, presumably, because there were no strikes.

The Maryland political campaign is just warm at present, but that doesn't mean that it will not get hot.

Meat stocks are reported to be the lowest in years. A lot of humans and dogs are in for more bare cupboards.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

Well, I went to the harness races the other day. You all know what a harness race is...that's Santa Anita with rickshaws!

But I noticed one thing that was different about those harness races ...the horses trot..... they don't run like the regular horses at Santa Anita. But it doesn't make much difference. It just means that you lose your pants a little more slowly, that's all.

But it's really wonderful to watch those horses trot. They really bring their knees way up. In fact, the horse I bet on brought his knees up so high that by the time he finished the race he had a double Adam's apple.

This is the first time we've ever had harness racing in California. We would have had it before, but, as you all know, in harness racing, they use reins, and the chamber of commerce was afraid the newspapers might misspell it.

RESULTS OF THE MOUNTAIN'S LABOR

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Alice Longworth's Friendship with UMW Chief Worries Friends, Pearson Reports

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, May 16—During the coal strike, friends of Alice Roosevelt Longworth have been trying to figure out whether she has more influence over her good friend John L. Lewis or whether he dominates her. Some had hoped that she might help persuade him to call off the strike.

However, Mrs. Longworth seems to have leaned toward a bitter and almost fascistic form of thinking recently, and some of the labor people once close to John L. Lewis say his bitterness is partly inspired by Mrs. Longworth. So her influence in settling the strike is doubtful.

Today's Mrs. Longworth's circle is largely confined to isolationists, including some friends bordering on the fascist fringe. The Spanish embassy, hot-bed of Francoism, always stages a big party for "Princess Alice" on her birthday, and she even refers to such old friends as Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, former United States minister to Norway, as a "Commie," because Mrs. Harriman served on a Russian relief committee.

At a dinner given by Mrs. Longworth for her brother-in-law, Count de Chambrun, the other day, Alice even made the astounding remark that it was unfortunate the kaiser didn't win the last war before we got in.

One thing on which both Mrs. Longworth's and Lewis's friends agree is that hatred of Roosevelt brought them together. Both disliked him passionately, both continue to hate almost everything connected with him. That seems to be the chief bond between them.

Caste System

Though Secretary of War Patterson has called a special board to examine the "caste system" inside the army, some of the brass bats are still going out of their way to rub the caste system into GIs. As late as May 3, Mitchell field, N. Y., issued an order warning officers against having "dates" with enlisted personnel.

Apparently male officers were doing too much dating of enlisted WACs. The order read:

"It is the intent of this letter that every male and female officer within this command refrain from 'dating' enlisted personnel.

"It is realized that there are circumstances which will arise such as officers having relatives or old friends among the enlisted personnel or vice-versa. Those cases should be given special consideration and treated with discretion by the commanding officer of the individual command .... Strict compliance with this letter is directed." The order was signed by Maj. George Schenklein, assistant adjutant.

President Truman's Purge

A lot of dust was kicked up by all the reports and counter-reports that President Truman wanted to purge Democratic Congressman Roger Slauhter, of the president's home bailiwick. However, here is what actually happened

Democratic National Chairman Bob Hannegan telephoned to Jim Penderast, successor to Boss Tom Pendergast, also to James P. Aylward, former Democratic national committeeman, and told them in effect:

"The president isn't taking sides in any election back in his home state, but there is one man he would like to see defeated. He is Roger Slaughter."

Hannegan asked that the Democratic factions support Jerome Walsh, former OPA attorney and son of President Roosevelt's close friend, Frank Walsh.

Pendergast, who heads the "Goat" faction of the Democratic machine, politely stated his regrets and informed Hannegan that the "Goats" already had promised the "Rabbit" faction, headed by Frank Shannon, their support for Congressman Slaughter's renomination. Pendergast said that inasmuch as this commitment had already been made, he could not change it.

In view of this turndown, Hannegan had Dick Nacy, vice-chairman of the Democratic National Committee and a close friend of Pendergast, telephone him. However, Nacy had no luck either.

The Democratic machine commitment to Slaughter stands; but it doesn't make the president at all happy. For no one in Congress has opposed him more bitterly than the gentleman from Kansas City.

Note 1—Truman and Hannegan both want to avoid such purge battles as were staged by FDR, but they felt that in Truman's home area he had a right to intervene, just as Roosevelt fought Congressman Ham Fish in New York. Actually, Congressman Slaughter, though brought up in Independence and married to an Independence girl, represents the congressional district next to Truman's. However, Ham Fish's district was revamped so that he was no longer FDR's congressman. Nevertheless, Roosevelt continued his undying opposition, eventually defeated Fish.

Note 2—The "Rabbit" Democrats in Kansas City derive their name from Chief White Rabbit of the Osage Indians, who signed the first treaty with settlers at what is now Independence, Mo. The "Goat" Democrats derive their names from a story that in 1828 a herd of goats took refuge in the Independence first courthouse and crowded everyone else out. President Truman is a "Goat."

OPA's Sudden Friends

Unique development in the OPA fight is the sudden rush of the clothing trade to defend OPA. They are literally tearing fences down to make it clear that they are for the continuation of price control.

Here is the ghost they saw which made them run so fast.

When the House of Representatives gutted price control, rayon manufacturers suddenly began to hold up deliveries, figuring they could soon get higher prices. So also did nylon and cotton manufacturers. For under the Gossett amendment, inserted by Congressman Ed Gossett, Wichita Falls, Texas, those three commodities would be relieved of price control this summer.

Congressman Gossett confessed to newsmen at first that he didn't know exactly what his amendment was. But the textile industry did, and slowed up deliveries.

So the clothing manufacturers, unable to get materials, are now urging Congress to pass a price control bill not cluttered up with hamstringing amendments.

Note—Here are the clothing organizations which suddenly rushed to the defense of OPA: Industrial Council of Coat and Suit Manufacturers; National Association of Blouse Manufacturers; Housedress Manufacturers; Popular Price Dress Association; National Association of Shirt Manufacturers; the Milliners' Association.

Capital Chaff

Sen. Kenneth McKellar, president of the Senate, has long delayed in naming the usual Special Campaign Investigating committee for the approaching elections. However, now that the CIO-PAC has named McKellar No. 1 on its purge list, the betting is that McKellar will name Sen. Allen Ellender, of Louisiana, or another outstanding CIO enemy as committee chairman . . . . The Senate Committee on Audits and Accounts has set aside $30,000 for the Campaign committee, but McKellar, as chairman of the appropriations committee, can provide more if needed . . . . Tennesseeans are worried about McKellar's health. The politicians are not sure he can put on a real campaign, and the voters are worried about having a sick senator represent them.

Buyers' Strike Is Seen as Result Of High Prices

By ROGER W. BABSON

NEW YORK CITY, May 16—I am still optimistic as to stock market prices and believe that the Dow-Jones industrial average will go at least to 225 and perhaps 250. It is now about 207. The combined averages may lag in their upward movement due to the investors switching wisely from rails to industrials. So much for stock prices.

Commodity Prices

My chief interest at the moment is in connection with commodity prices,—that is, what readers must pay for food, clothing and shelter. I, hence, came over to New York, which is the central market on these basic commodities, to get the facts. There seems to be two schools of economic thought on the part of able-thinking men. This is wholly independent of the row over the OPA which is a question of politics and not of economics.

The first school group—although they are in the minority—believe that we will have continuing high prices through 1946 and 1947 but that this rise will bring about a buyers' strike. This will be due partly to the fact that the great mass of people will then have cashed in such of their "E" bonds as they intend to sell, and partly to their determination to wait for lower prices. This may especially be true in the field of building. There is a limit to what people will pay for a new house.

Truth about Building

The National Housing Agency has just released a careful study on home building. They find that a house which would have cost $5,000 to build six years ago would cost $8,250 to build today. Houses under $6,000 have gone up sixty-five per cent and houses over $6,000 have gone up fifty-seven per cent. In certain sections of the Pacific coast it is claimed that building has gone up 100 per cent. These increases are certainly out of line with the advances in other living costs which amount to only about thirty per cent.

Effect of Labor Unions

Over a long period, prices are determined by supply and demand. Even labor unions cannot do much to effect the long trend of prices. Improvements in the standard of living are due to increased production and new inventions rather than to labor unions. Over a short term, however, labor unions can greatly affect prices by raising wages, shortening hours and especially by slowing down "the number of bricks laid per hour." This is true today and will be in 1947 when labor unions may be in even a stronger bargaining position.

Most of those whom I interview belong to the second school of thought; they do not expect the buyers' strike but rather slowly rising prices for some years to come. Most businessmen are now short of labor; over 2,000,000 more persons are employed today than a year ago. In some industries there exists a real shortage of labor. On the other hand, many lines of industry are running into a very competitive market. Many more concerns will be making every product than before the war. This should tend to keep down profits and make the price rise orderly.

Personal Opinion

FOOD: Excepting a few products, such as fruit, dairy products, etc. there should be no increase in food prices after the Europeans get a good crop. Labor is returning to the farm, improved farm machinery will be on the market and—barring unseasonable weather conditions—there may soon be a surplus of crops and even lower prices.

CLOTHING AND OTHER CONSUMER GOODS: Clothing prices will be higher. The industry is heavily unionized and the OPA has been unfair to clothing manufacturers. There also is a shortage in other lines. With the exception of clothing, I expect only a moderate rise in prices of consumer goods in general unless Congress raises minimum wages above 50 cents per hour. There, however, should be a small, but gradual, increase in the prices of consumers goods for some time to come.

HOUSING: The cost of building will continue to increase until there is either a buyers' strike or the unions permit reasonable building codes and the use of modern methods such as paint spraying, etc. At the moment, the building trade unions have the American people by the throat. Someday they will regret their present foolish actions.

Three Secretaries Are Seen Likely In Service Plan

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 16—President Truman has exhibited flexibility and discernment in settling differences between the army and navy on the so-called merger plan. What has happened is that the President gains his original objective which is "unification"—but at the same time erases the discord among the armed services which earlier plans for a single department of national defense would have entailed.

Mr. Truman has adhered to the principle which was referred to in all his utterances as "unification" or "integration" of the armed services and on this he has been on solid ground all along. Where the differences developed was on the method of gaining the objective and, as soon as the President saw the difficulties and potential dangers of a paper plan, he agreed to consider alternate programs which would achieve his main purpose.

What eventually will emerge out of the discussions is a plan for three cabinet secretaries, one of whom presumably will be the co-ordinating director of defense. There would be joint offices for certain tasks, such as intelligence and possibly in the field of purchases and contract making. But the armed services themselves would not be ruled by a single chief of staff as recently proposed. Instead the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff would be the top-level organization which would issue orders to the armed services, as was the case during the war.

Benefits Retained

This plan insures the retention of those benefits and experience which the war developed. It involves the maintenance of the organization which not only functioned effectively with respect to our own armed services but worked out a system of cooperation with the military and naval and air staffs of the other Allied countries. A going concern is permitted to go on developing without being upset by a new line of command or authority. The President's decision in this respect is to be heartily commended.

There remains, of course, the problem of solving the status of the air forces within the War department. There can be no denying that the air forces have been progressive and alert and have knocked tradition into a cocked hat by their wonderful use of the new artillery of the air. Whether the time has come to make a separate armed service of the air forces is something on which opinions differ.

Aerial Combat Types Differ

Certainly there are two separate and distinct types of aerial combat. One relates to the use of aircraft close to ground troops as a cover for their movements and as an offensive weapon against enemy communications close to the battle line. The other relates to the long-range strategic bombing in which the army air forces feel there is a new dimension involved. This is concerned with the long-distance bombing of factories and industrial equipment as a means of crippling the enemy's capacity to carry on a war.

The strategic air operations should, of course, be tied in with all the other armed services, but its proponents contend it is as much a separate entity as the navy or the army. Some proponents want to go as far as to give the air forces a separate department, but the ground forces of the army are not inclined to go all the way on this.

Clear Development

One thing has developed clearly, and that is the need for keeping the naval air forces tied in with the navy because air operations over the seas must be necessarily controlled by ship commanders in a given area even though the planes may be based on islands as well as aircraft carriers.

There is a growing trend now toward agreement between the armed services and this is a healthy thing, because the men who want to see the United States kept in a state of preparedness will find that the public has an impression that the wartime organization was effctive and hence will favor continuance, whereas experiments that produce discord and impair harmony would merely mean prolonged controversy at a time when unification of the armed services is so essential.

Mr. Truman is making substantial progress in harmonizing the views of the armed services and if he can get agreement soon, as seems probable, it is likely Congress will pass the plan finally recommended by the White House.

EYERMAN WARNS AGAINST CARELESS USE OF FIREARMS

Declaring the lives of local citizens are being endangered by the careless use of small caliber rifles and BB guns, Oscar A. Eyerman, chief of police, said yesterday that he has instructed local police to enforce strictly the city's firearm ordinance.

The most serious violation in this city recently came to light with the discovery of a bullet hole in one of the rear windows of Allegany high school. Detective E. R. Lilya, who investigated, said the small caliber bullet, fired at short range, pierced the window and penetrated the blackboard on the opposite side of the room. School was not in session when the shot was fired, police added.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad authorities reported Monday that a group of boys armed with BB rifles had been following the right of way on the West side, peppering the windows of cabooses and endangering the lives of train crews.

Three 16-year-old youths were arrested last week by police after they were caught target shooting on Wolf's farm. Police said a number of homes were in the line of fire. They were questioned and released after a stern warning, police said.

Chief Eyerman said the city ordinance prohibits the use or sale of air rifles and added that the use of bow and arrow and sling shots also violates the city code.

—New York City's first air-cooled house (it had an ice chamber in the basement) was built in the 1860's.

—Spain has increased the work shift in coal mines by one hour daily.

Paul Martin-Dillon Speaks at Scribes Annual Banquet

New Staff and Graduating Members Are Introduced by Dr. Atwater

The annual Scribes banquet of the staff of Pasquino of Potomac State school, Keyser, was held Wednesday evening at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, marking the publication of the last issue of the school paper for the school year.

A talk on "Adventures of the Press," by Paul Martin-Dillon, editorial writer for the Cumberland Evening Times and the Sunday Times, featured the program. Joseph N. Price, new managing editor of the Pasquino, introduced the speaker and Austin D. Twigg, III, news editor, served as toastmaster.

Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, advisor, announced the new staff, all Cumberlanders; Miss Paula Williams, graduate of Allegany high school, who will serve as editor of the Pasquino; Joseph Price and Austin Twigg, graduates of Fort Hill high school.

Short talks were given by Dr. E. E. Church, president of Potomac State, who also offered the invocation; Dean Kirkland McKee, Dr. Atwater and W. H. Barger, managing editor of the Mineral Daily News, Keyser.

Members of the staff who are in the graduating class were honored. They are Miss Elsie P. Cowger, retiring editor; Miss Frances Parks, Robert Leatherman, Donald Arnold, Gabriel Gallina, Kenneth Tabler, Miss Margaret Pittman, Miss Nancy Edwards, Miss Dorothy Staron, Miss Wanda Bissett and Thomas Shaffer.

Although reporters meet many interesting people in covering the news, Mr. Martin-Dillon told his audience he had decided to confine his talk on "Adventures of the Press," to the "boys covering the war." He spoke briefly of Ernie Pyle and Raymond Clapper, both of whom paid the supreme sacrifice. He dwelt at length on the coverage of the war by Robert Casey, an old friend and former co-worker with the speaker on the Chicago Daily News.

An artillery captain in World War I, Casey was in Luxembourg when the war in Europe broke out, the speaker recalled. He covered the news in both Germany and France, prior to the United States entry into the war. Then he went over to England and was there during the blitz; accompanied the troops to Africa and returned to England, where he was one of the ten newspapermen permitted to go with the troops on D-day.

After covering the remainder of the war in Europe, Casey returned to Chicago; but was sent immediately to Alaska, as a Japanese invasion was feared there, the speaker said. Again Casey returned to Chicago and was there when the Japs made their sneak attack. He immediately obtained his papers from Washington and was the first newspaperman to enter Pearl Harbor after war was declared. While in the Pacific Casey was attached to Adm. Halsey's Task Force. Having written four books during the war Casey is now back with the Chicago Daily News, Mr. Martin-Dillon said.

A bouquet of assorted colored flowers centered the table and programs of various colors were arranged to also serve as place cards. Each had clippings of the member's name, by lines, special headings, signed editorials and position on the staff pasted on them. Each also received a linotype slug from the form from which the paper is printed. Covers were laid for thirty-five guests.

Mrs. John Hafer Heads Local Branch of AAUW

Book Reviews by Miss Walsh Feature the Entertainment Program

The Cumberland Branch of the American Association of University Women elected Officers for the ensuing year at the meeting Wednesday evening at the Girl Scout little house with Mrs. William Robert Teeter presiding. The club also voted to change the constitution and include provisions for electing a recording and corresponding secretary.

Mrs. John Hafer was elected president; Mrs. Robert Troxell, vice president; Miss Helen Haugh, treasurer; and Mrs. Eugene Kester, corresponding secretary. Miss Margaret Baker, Miss Sara Wright and Miss Ovidia Carstens were named Auditing committee.

The new officers will be installed at the June meeting. It was announced that a picnic supper will be given May 22 at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Miller, Spring Gap, when the Social Studies group will meet in conjunction with the International Relations group.

It was announced that the club has enrolled nineteen new members and now has a total of ninety-six members. Reports were given by Mrs. Robert Troxell, Education chairman; Mrs. H. W. Smith, on Economic and Legal Status of Women, who urged the members to acquaint themselves with the political candidates and to be sure to vote. Mrs. Henry C. Swearingen spoke of the creative art center in Hagerstown; Mrs. Thomas Lohr Richards, on the Fellowship fund; and Mrs. Charles W. Blackburn displayed her scrapbook of the history of the club.

Miss Dorothy Shires introduced Miss Mary G. Walsh, guest speaker, who pointed out that "it does matter what you read for that's the furniture you put in your minds. You cannot be so insensitive as not to be effected by what you read, either good or bad." She also explained that a book review is an aid towards recommending books and told of making a collection of tin pennies to raise funds to purchase books for the library not included in the budget. One such book will be "What People Read."

Miss Walsh explained that "American Daughter," is written by a colored girl who has succeeded in life and has not become bitter with the struggle. "China in the Sea," is a personal chatty narrative which has some serious thought in it. "Friendly Persuasion," is a story of a Quaker family; "Friday's Child," is a period piece of the late eighteenth century, in which the hero, who has to be married in order to inherit his fortune, married the first girl he sees after being turned down by the girl he would have married."

"Germans in History," is a complete history of Germany; "The Great Retreat," is condemned by both sides in Russia; and deals with what has happened to communism in Russia, during the present government rule. "He Brings Great News," is the victory of Trafalger and the death of Nelson; "Murder for Millions, is a collection of murder stories; "The Townsman" deals with racial equality; and in "Luster in the Sky," there is no hero, but Europe is the heroine. It is, she said, a good history of Europe at the close of the "Napolenic era.

The action takes place in Vienna at what was known as the Dancing Congress. The chief character is Prince Tallyrand, his love for his nephew's wife, who could easily have been his granddaughter. The character sketches are good but not as colorful as they probably were; but the modern slang used rather spoils the book, which is plain spoken but no "Forever Amber."

The peace made at the Congress of Vienna, she pointed out, lasted 100 years, although it was made because of Napoleon's escape from Elba. The story also tells of Alexander who was all for Russia; Metternich and Talleyrand, who always declared that he never betrayed a country until it betrays itself, and in resisting the impulse to betray the Bourbons again he justifies himself.

A social hour concluded the evening.

Musical Program Features Mothers' Day Program

Music featured the program given at the annual Mother's day banquet of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed church Wednesday evening in the church recreation hall. Mrs. Walter Shack opened the entertainment by playing "Home Sweet Home". She also accompanied all vocalists.

Thoughts, in poetry, were given by Mrs. Allen Brotemarkle, Miss Betty Ruehl read the Scripture and Mrs. Carl Clapp offered the prayer. The program also included two readings one entitled, "The Gift," was given by Doris Rosenberger; and the other, "The Bravest Battle," by Miss Mary Everline.

A quartet composed of Joyce Everline, Mary Cathrine Dick, Betty Blank and Dorothy Billmyer sang, "Mother's Love," to the tune of Londonderry Air; and Miss Betty Blank and Mrs. Clifford Gainer were the soloists, the former singing the "Lord's Prayer" and the latter two numbers about mother. A dialogue on the meaning of the Lord's prayer was presented by Miss Elaine Cole and Mrs. Doris Kauffman. Upon request, the junior choir sang, "M-O-T-H-E-R," a repeat from the Sunday service. The program closed with the group singing of the hymn, "Faith of Our Mothers."

Spring flowers centered the tables which were decorated with pink and white candles. The same theme was repeated in the color scheme with pastel napkins and the favors; as well as the programs, decorated with pink carnations.

Mrs. Pearl Rosenberger was chairman of the Program committee, which included Mrs. Harold Everline and Miss Edith Darnley. Mrs. Ada Keady was chairman of the favors assisted by Mrs. Ruth Hopcraft and Mrs. Carl Clapp while Mrs. R. Beall and Mrs. S. S. Dowlan were in charge of the table settings.

Members of the junior and senior Girls Guilds served the dinner which was under the chairmanship of Mrs. B. C. McIlwee, assisted by Mrs. Marie Scott, Mrs. T. A. Carlson, Mrs. Jessie Lee, Mrs. Oliver Hergott, Mrs. George Geiger and Mrs. Gilbert Cole. Mrs. Pearl Rosenberger was chairman of the Cleanup committee and was assisted by volunteers.

Paul Martin-Dillon Speaks at Scribes Annual Banquet

New Staff and Graduating Members Are Introduced by Dr. Atwater

The annual Scribes banquet of the staff of Pasquino of Potomac State school, Keyser, was held Wednesday evening at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, marking the publication of the last issue of the school paper for the school year.

A talk on "Adventures of the Press," by Paul Martin-Dillon, editorial writer for the Cumberland Evening Times and the Sunday Times, featured the program. Joseph N. Price, new managing editor of the Pasquino, introduced the speaker and Austin D. Twigg, III, news editor, served as toastmaster.

Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, advisor, announced the new staff, all Cumberlanders; Miss Paula Williams, graduate of Allegany high school, who will serve as editor of the Pasquino; Joseph Price and Austin Twigg, graduates of Fort Hill high school.

Short talks were given by Dr. E. E. Church, president of Potomac State, who also offered the invocation; Dean Kirkland McKee, Dr. Atwater and W. H. Barger, managing editor of the Mineral Daily News, Keyser.

Members of the staff who are in the graduating class were honored. They are Miss Elsie P. Cowger, retiring editor; Miss Frances Parks, Robert Leatherman, Donald Arnold, Gabriel Gallina, Kenneth Tabler, Miss Margaret Pittman, Miss Nancy Edwards, Miss Dorothy Staron, Miss Wanda Bissett and Thomas Shaffer.

Although reporters meet many interesting people in covering the news, Mr. Martin-Dillon told his audience he had decided to confine his talk on "Adventures of the Press," to the "boys covering the war." He spoke briefly of Ernie Pyle and Raymond Clapper, both of whom paid the supreme sacrifice. He dwelt at length on the coverage of the war by Robert Casey, an old friend and former co-worker with the speaker on the Chicago Daily News.

An artillery captain in World War I, Casey was in Luxembourg when the war in Europe broke out, the speaker recalled. He covered the news in both Germany and France, prior to the United States entry into the war. Then he went over to England and was there during the blitz; accompanied the troops to Africa and returned to England, where he was one of the ten newspapermen permitted to go with the troops on D-day.

After covering the remainder of the war in Europe, Casey returned to Chicago; but was sent immediately to Alaska, as a Japanese invasion was feared there, the speaker said. Again Casey returned to Chicago and was there when the Japs made their sneak attack. He immediately obtained his papers from Washington and was the first newspaperman to enter Pearl Harbor after war was declared. While in the Pacific Casey was attached to Adm. Halsey's Task Force. Having written four books during the war Casey is now back with the Chicago Daily News, Mr. Martin-Dillon said.

A bouquet of assorted colored flowers centered the table and programs of various colors were arranged to also serve as place cards. Each had clippings of the member's name, by lines, special headings, signed editorials and position on the staff pasted on them. Each also received a linotype slug from the form from which the paper is printed. Covers were laid for thirty-five guests.

Mrs. John Hafer Heads Local Branch of AAUW

Book Reviews by Miss Walsh Feature the Entertainment Program

The Cumberland Branch of the American Association of University Women elected Officers for the ensuing year at the meeting Wednesday evening at the Girl Scout little house with Mrs. William Robert Teeter presiding. The club also voted to change the constitution and include provisions for electing a recording and corresponding secretary.

Mrs. John Hafer was elected president; Mrs. Robert Troxell, vice president; Miss Helen Haugh, treasurer; and Mrs. Eugene Kester, corresponding secretary. Miss Margaret Baker, Miss Sara Wright and Miss Ovidia Carstens were named Auditing committee.

The new officers will be installed at the June meeting. It was announced that a picnic supper will be given May 22 at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Miller, Spring Gap, when the Social Studies group will meet in conjunction with the International Relations group.

It was announced that the club has enrolled nineteen new members and now has a total of ninety-six members. Reports were given by Mrs. Robert Troxell, Education chairman; Mrs. H. W. Smith, on Economic and Legal Status of Women, who urged the members to acquaint themselves with the political candidates and to be sure to vote. Mrs. Henry C. Swearingen spoke of the creative art center in Hagerstown; Mrs. Thomas Lohr Richards, on the Fellowship fund; and Mrs. Charles W. Blackburn displayed her scrapbook of the history of the club.

Miss Dorothy Shires introduced Miss Mary G. Walsh, guest speaker, who pointed out that "it does matter what you read for that's the furniture you put in your minds. You cannot be so insensitive as not to be effected by what you read, either good or bad." She also explained that a book review is an aid towards recommending books and told of making a collection of tin pennies to raise funds to purchase books for the library not included in the budget. One such book will be "What People Read."

Miss Walsh explained that "American Daughter," is written by a colored girl who has succeeded in life and has not become bitter with the struggle. "China in the Sea," is a personal chatty narrative which has some serious thought in it. "Friendly Persuasion," is a story of a Quaker family; "Friday's Child," is a period piece of the late eighteenth century, in which the hero, who has to be married in order to inherit his fortune, married the first girl he sees after being turned down by the girl he would have married."

"Germans in History," is a complete history of Germany; "The Great Retreat," is condemned by both sides in Russia; and deals with what has happened to communism in Russia, during the present government rule. "He Brings Great News," is the victory of Trafalger and the death of Nelson; "Murder for Millions, is a collection of murder stories; "The Townsman" deals with racial equality; and in "Luster in the Sky," there is no hero, but Europe is the heroine. It is, she said, a good history of Europe at the close of the "Napolenic era.

The action takes place in Vienna at what was known as the Dancing Congress. The chief character is Prince Tallyrand, his love for his nephew's wife, who could easily have been his granddaughter. The character sketches are good but not as colorful as they probably were; but the modern slang used rather spoils the book, which is plain spoken but no "Forever Amber."

The peace made at the Congress of Vienna, she pointed out, lasted 100 years, although it was made because of Napoleon's escape from Elba. The story also tells of Alexander who was all for Russia; Metternich and Talleyrand, who always declared that he never betrayed a country until it betrays itself, and in resisting the impulse to betray the Bourbons again he justifies himself.

A social hour concluded the evening.

cluding Mrs. Betty Chaney, Mrs. Marie Allendar, Mrs. A. E. Durst, Mrs. Marie England and Mrs. Bertie Rank.

Radios Needed For Use In Training School

An appeal for radios for which there is no further use is made for the radio trade school for veterans, sponsored by the board of education.

Donald Snyder is instructor for the classes, which are held each day in the old Maryland avenue school building. Anyone in the city or out lying district who will donate a radio is asked to either call Mr. Snyder, 219W or drop a card to the school and a veteran will pick up the radio.

State Guard Will Train At Camp Ritchie in July

BALTIMORE, May 16 (AP)—After three summers at Fort George G. Meade, the Maryland State guard will return to Camp Ritchie at Cascade, Md., in July for a week of training and supervised athletics.

Maj. Gen. Dwight H. Mohr, guard commander, announced today that all men, commissioned and enlisted, would be housed in barracks at the Western Maryland camp, which was taken over by the War department in 1942.

The announcement followed a conference attended by Mohr, general staff and battalion commanding officers, Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, state adjutant general, and Gov. O'Conor.

The guard spent one season at Camp Ritchie after the War department had taken over in 1942. But the guard has trained at Fort Meade in the intervening years.

Port Authority Recommends Air Service Here

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—The Port Authority has filed a brief with the Civil Aeronautics Board urging establishment of regular airline schedules to twenty-three cities in New Jersey, New York, Maryland and Pennsylvania with optional services to fifty-three smaller communities.

The brief also supported the designation of Trenton, N. J., Wilmington, Del., and Altoona and Johnstown, Pa., as intermediate stops on direct trunkline air routes to the New York city area.

The brief was a sequel to the authority's appearance at a CAB hearing in Philadelphia last January in connection with proposed augmented air service between New York city and the Middle Atlantic area.

The "on-call" service recommended for the fifty-three cities under 10,000 population would be at the discretion of the airline except on the request of three or more passengers, when a flight would be mandatory.

The authority's recommendations included:

Air service on a scheduled basis between New York and Cumberland, Md., with stops at Plainfield and New Brunswick, N. J.; Norristown, Chester, York and Chambersburg, Pa., and Frederick and Hagerstown, Md., and optional service to North Plainfield, N. J.; Conshohocken, Pottstown, Phoenixville, West Chester, Darby, Lansdowne, Coatesville, Hanover and Waynesboro, Pa.

"On-call" service from New York to South River, Red Bank, Long Branch, Asbury Park, Neptune, Bridgeton and Millville, N. J., and Annapolis, Cambridge and Salisbury, Md.

Truman Signs Measure Providing for Return Of Servicemen's Bodies

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP) — Legislation directing the War department to return for burial in this country the bodies of approximately 300,000 Americans who died abroad since September, 1939, was signed today by President Truman.

The bodies, mostly servicemen but including some civilian government workers, now are buried in military cemeteries throughout the world.

When returned, they will be interred either in national cemeteries or in private burial grounds, according to the wishes of relatives.

ritorial, political or economic, cannot be settled amicably by arbitration," he declared. "I refuse to believe that greed is an inherent part of human nature."

He reminded the council that "the balance between war and its horrors, misery and suffering, and possible annihilation of civilization and peace and happiness for the men, women and children all over this globe has been entrusted to us," and added:

"Let us endeavor and prove to the world that this trust has not been misplaced."

came from women." He added that without moral guidance there can be no permanent security.

"Much depends on women," Tawes said, adding that the next state official would find a balanced budget.

"I hope the next governor will see that we never again slip into the depths of financial chaos that the Democrats found when they took office in 1939," Tawes declared.

Sen. Radcliffe told the women delegates that the United States had to work closely with all countries in the world to prevent exposure to many perils.

In addition to some twenty Western Maryland candidates for seats in the state legislature, the following other candidates made brief talks: James J. Lacy, candidate for comptroller, and Hall Hammond, candidate for attorney general, both on Lane's ticket; Dr. Thomas Cook, Frederick, candidate for governor on the independent ticket; Dawson J. Horine, candidate for Congress from the Sixth district; Charles H. Roloson, candidate for comptroller, and W. Earle Cobey, candidate for attorney general, both on Tawes's ticket.

"I am informed that it is unusual for the leader of a party to interrogate a candidate of an opposition party during a primary election campaign," Mills said. "But, Sen. Tydings is a resident and voter of Maryland, and x x x has a right to question candidates of either party and should be given the courtesy of a reply."

Saying McKeldin had been reported in the press to have declined comment on Tydings's request, Mills declared McKeldin was "following his practice of ducking state issues. He declines to tell labor and capital where he stands. This is political cowardice."

Hoover Will Make Radio Report on Food Situation

CHICAGO, May 16 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover will make a radio report on the world food situation from Chicago at 9 p. m. (EST) tomorrow over CBS and Mutual networks and at 11 p. m. (EST) in a rebroadcast over ABC.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson will accompany Hoover here by plane tomorrow from Washington.

still working on the rail strike threat, but could say nothing more at this time. He said he hoped the negotiators who broke up this morning over a modified wage increase proposed by the two operating unions would still be able to get together.

Asked if he still planned to seize the roads if no settlement were reached before the strike deadline, he replied certainly, but added he hoped this would not be necessary. He said he had been in communication with both sides, but said neither group had communicated with him today. Dr. Steelman cleared this up later by saying the negotiators reported to him. The president had not asked for a report until Friday.

Union-management negotiations broke down when the carriers' representatives rejected a modified union proposal for a wage increase and both sides reported to President Truman their inability to agree.

The president had intervened Tuesday to get both sides to resume negotiations. He asked them to report back to him by Friday. Mr. Truman told reporters last week he would seize the roads if that were necessary to keep them running.

Another alternative is arbitration, but the two unions have refused to arbitrate in the past.

Union heads would not say whether the workers would remain on the job under government operation.

A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, when asked whether the men would continue to work—for the government—replied that the men received their strike instructions a month ago. Some persons contend this would relieve union heads from responsibility under the Smith-Connally law.

will agree to voluntary arbitration, I am forced, as a private citizen, to the reluctant conclusion that legislation is urgently required."

Truman Declines Comment

The president at his news conference later declined to comment on Small's statement, saying it was the first he had heard of it. He also said he would express no opinion on the labor legislation now pending in Congress until a bill is finally passed.

Asked whether he would seize the coal mines as a last resort, Mr. Truman reiterated his remark of last week that he would cross that bridge when he comes to it.

The arbitration plan as outlined by the president called for the miners and operators to "agree upon an arbitrator to hear and pass upon the dispute." The miners would continue at work during the arbitration hearings, and the findings would be binding upon both sides.

While the president specified "an arbitrator," presumably he had no objection to a three-man arbitration board if the disputants preferred it. And he obviously was ready to appoint an arbitrator if they could not agree on one and should request him to name one.

Lewis flatly rejected arbitration when the operators proposed that method of settling his demand for $3,000,000 of overtime pay claimed in connection with holidays. The operators subsequently agreed to pay the claim in the interest of proceeding with contract negotiations. Lewis had refused to discuss the contract itself unless the payments were made.

Truman Says

the country's farmers have done "an exceptionally fine job" toward feeding the world's hungry. He estimated that the United States will fall short by only two per cent of meeting this year's promises on grain exports.

In an earlier statement opening the committee's investigation of world food conditions, Flannagan had said that "irresponsible statements" by persons "who, while they occupy high positions, have no connection with the production and distribution of food" have brought about "chaotic conditions."

The statements, Flannagan said, "have resulted in resentment on the part of the farmers, confusing our people, and creating the impression abroad that America is not doing its part in relieving hunger."

formal statement by M. A. Jinnah, league president, who has threatened civil war if Pakistan was not approved.

While the India constitution is being written, the proposals call for an interim government with all offices "held by Indian leaders having full confidence of the people."

Senators Spurn

Leader Barkley (D-Ky) told him "not this week."

Barkley declared, however, that he was no more in sympathy with delay on the labor bill than he had been with delay on the British loan.

Small's idea, put forward in a statement, created a brief stir at the capitol. It quickly subsided when President Truman washed his hands of it. The president told a news conference the CPA head spoke without his foreknowledge.

It is Small's job to get production of goods needed to keep the civilian economy running. He said in his statement that the coal strike had thrown all industry into "chaos."

Sen. Byrd (D-Va), who has said just about the same thing concerning the coal strike's effect, was one of those who saw no merit in Small's suggestion.

It simply could not be enforced, he told reporters, adding:

"You might as well try to outlaw war as to try to outlaw strikes."

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis), displaying the same skepticism, asked, "Why limit it to six months if it can be done?"

Truman Signs Measure Providing for Return Of Servicemen's Bodies

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP) — Legislation directing the War department to return for burial in this country the bodies of approximately 300,000 Americans who died abroad since September, 1939, was signed today by President Truman.

The bodies, mostly servicemen but including some civilian government workers, now are buried in military cemeteries throughout the world.

When returned, they will be interred either in national cemeteries or in private burial grounds, according to the wishes of relatives.

ritorial, political or economic, cannot be settled amicably by arbitration," he declared. "I refuse to believe that greed is an inherent part of human nature."

He reminded the council that "the balance between war and its horrors, misery and suffering, and possible annihilation of civilization and peace and happiness for the men, women and children all over this globe has been entrusted to us," and added:

"Let us endeavor and prove to the world that this trust has not been misplaced."

came from women." He added that without moral guidance there can be no permanent security.

"Much depends on women," Tawes said, adding that the next state official would find a balanced budget.

"I hope the next governor will see that we never again slip into the depths of financial chaos that the Democrats found when they took office in 1939," Tawes declared.

Sen. Radcliffe told the women delegates that the United States had to work closely with all countries in the world to prevent exposure to many perils.

In addition to some twenty Western Maryland candidates for seats in the state legislature, the following other candidates made brief talks: James J. Lacy, candidate for comptroller, and Hall Hammond, candidate for attorney general, both on Lane's ticket; Dr. Thomas Cook, Frederick, candidate for governor on the independent ticket; Dawson J. Horine, candidate for Congress from the Sixth district; Charles H. Roloson, candidate for comptroller, and W. Earle Cobey, candidate for attorney general, both on Tawes's ticket.

"I am informed that it is unusual for the leader of a party to interrogate a candidate of an opposition party during a primary election campaign," Mills said. "But, Sen. Tydings is a resident and voter of Maryland, and x x x has a right to question candidates of either party and should be given the courtesy of a reply."

Saying McKeldin had been reported in the press to have declined comment on Tydings's request, Mills declared McKeldin was "following his practice of ducking state issues. He declines to tell labor and capital where he stands. This is political cowardice."

Hoover Will Make Radio Report on Food Situation

CHICAGO, May 16 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover will make a radio report on the world food situation from Chicago at 9 p. m. (EST) tomorrow over CBS and Mutual networks and at 11 p. m. (EST) in a rebroadcast over ABC.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson will accompany Hoover here by plane tomorrow from Washington.

Railroad and Union

still working on the rail strike threat, but could say nothing more at this time. He said he hoped the negotiators who broke up this morning over a modified wage increase proposed by the two operating unions would still be able to get together.

Asked if he still planned to seize the roads if no settlement were reached before the strike deadline, he replied certainly, but added he hoped this would not be necessary. He said he had been in communication with both sides, but said neither group had communicated with him today. Dr. Steelman cleared this up later by saying the negotiators reported to him. The president had not asked for a report until Friday.

Union-management negotiations broke down when the carriers' representatives rejected a modified union proposal for a wage increase and both sides reported to President Truman their inability to agree.

The president had intervened Tuesday to get both sides to resume negotiations. He asked them to report back to him by Friday. Mr. Truman told reporters last week he would seize the roads if that were necessary to keep them running.

Another alternative is arbitration, but the two unions have refused to arbitrate in the past.

Union heads would not say whether the workers would remain on the job under government operation.

A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, when asked whether the men would continue to work—for the government—replied that the men received their strike instructions a month ago. Some persons contend this would relieve union heads from responsibility under the Smith-Connally law.

will agree to voluntary arbitration, I am forced, as a private citizen, to the reluctant conclusion that legislation is urgently required."

Truman Declines Comment

The president at his news conference later declined to comment on Small's statement, saying it was the first he had heard of it. He also said he would express no opinion on the labor legislation now pending in Congress until a bill is finally passed.

Asked whether he would seize the coal mines as a last resort, Mr. Truman reiterated his remark of last week that he would cross that bridge when he comes to it.

The arbitration plan as outlined by the president called for the miners and operators to "agree upon an arbitrator to hear and pass upon the dispute." The miners would continue at work during the arbitration hearings, and the findings would be binding upon both sides.

While the president specified "an arbitrator," presumably he had no objection to a three-man arbitration board if the disputants preferred it. And he obviously was ready to appoint an arbitrator if they could not agree on one and should request him to name one.

Lewis flatly rejected arbitration when the operators proposed that method of settling his demand for $3,000,000 of overtime pay claimed in connection with holidays. The operators, subsequently agreed to pay the claim in the interest of proceeding with contract negotiations. Lewis had refused to discuss the contract itself unless the payments were made.

the country's farmers have done "an exceptionally fine job" toward feeding the world's hungry. He estimated that the United States will fall short by only two per cent of meeting this year's promises on grain exports.

In an earlier statement opening the committee's investigation of world food conditions, Flannagan had said that "irresponsible statements" by persons "who, while they occupy high positions, have no connection with the production and distribution of food" have brought about "chaotic conditions."

The statements, Flannagan said, "have resulted in resentment on the part of the farmers, confusing our people, and creating the impression abroad that America is not doing its part in relieving hunger."

formal statement by M. A. Jinnah, league president, who has threatened civil war if Pakistan was not approved.

While the India constitution is being written, the proposals call for an interim government with all offices "held by Indian leaders having full confidence of the people."

Leader Barkley (D-Ky) told him "not this week."

Barkley declared, however, that he was no more in sympathy with delay on the labor bill than he had been with delay on the British loan.

Small's idea, put forward in a statement, created a brief stir at the capitol. It quickly subsided when President Truman washed his hands of it. The president told a news conference the CPA head spoke without his foreknowledge.

It is Small's job to get production of goods needed to keep the civilian economy running. He said in his statement that the coal strike had thrown all industry into "chaos."

Sen. Byrd (D-Va), who has said just about the same thing concerning the coal strike's effect, was one of those who saw no merit in Small's suggestion.

It simply could not be enforced, he told reporters, adding:

"You might as well try to outlaw war as to try to outlaw strikes."

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis), displaying the same skepticism, asked, "Why limit it to six months if it can be done?"

UNTIL THE DAWN

You can wring a profit out of every experience, however tough, if you have the courage to see it through. It takes a lot of living to learn that lesson but it can be done.

There's a story in the Old Testament that tells how it happened to Jacob thousands of years ago, but it applies just as well to any discouraged human in 1946. Jacob and his vast household and all his herds had gone out to seek a new home. But his heart was uneasy for care and fear went with him. And the brother, Esau, to whom he went, was his greatest enemy. So, while the others slept in the camp, Jacob walked through the night with a heavy heart.

And there in the darkness a presence seemed to wrestle with his unhappy soul. Hour after hour, until the dawn, they fought together, and Jacob was sore in body and spirit and almost despaired. Then the Presence, thinking that Jacob was beaten, started to go. But the fighting spirit leaped once more in Jacob's crippled flesh and he cried—

"I will not let thee go, except thou bless me."

And the Presence, having tested Jacob until he proved his manhood, blessed him. "And Jacob called the name of the place Peniel; for I have seen God face to face, and my life is preserved. And as he passed . . . the sun rose upon him."

And though he still limped, Jacob had won his blessing. His heart was at peace.

How many of us today are wandering in the night just as Jacob did! Wandering, bewildered and upset by fear and pain until the dawn. Wrestling for an answer. Where are the old trails which our fathers followed? Where is the old order which held them safe and content? They have all passed. We must break our own trails, build our own order out of a ruined world. And sometimes, facing the endless confusion, we falter and are tempted to surrender.

But then in the darkness something happens. Something proud and fierce leaps within us and we cry as Jacob cried—"No, this must not be! I may be scarred and crippled but I am not broken. I will not come out of this fight with empty hands. Somewhere, somehow, there must be a profit in it. Give me the blessing I have won!"

Ask for that blessing and it will be yours. And that goes for every situation in life. Not all our wrestling is exalted. Many times we struggle sordidly or foolishly. But we never need leave any battlefield empty handed.

There's a blessing in pain and grief no matter how useless or tragic they may seem at first. There's a blessing in disillusionment, in betrayal, however unfair. There's a blessing in anger and in doubt. There's a blessing, even, in our own mistakes and the scars they leave behind them. For out of every struggle wisdom can come, tolerance and new strength—if we'll see it through.

Face your night resolutely. Dare the shadowy presence of your own weakness. Wrestle with it if need be until you are crippled. But see it through until the blessing is in your hands. It will surely come—if you have the courage to stick it out—until the dawn.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Charges Deceit and Fraud In Property Transfer

An 86-year-old widow has filed an equity suit in circuit court to have a deed transferring her home property at 19 Arch street declared null and void. The petitioner charges "deceit and fraud."

The petition was docketed against Mrs. Mary Aronhalt and her husband, Charles Aronhalt, Gephart drive.

The petitioner, Mrs. Lola Grayson, declared that she purchased the property in 1919 and it represents "all she owns in the world." Mrs. Grayson said she became ill last December 27 and went to the Aronhalt home to reside, remaining there until March 24.

According to Mrs. Grayson, Mrs. Aronhalt brought her a paper on March 1 and had her sign it. The aged woman declared that she believed it was "my will designating the distribution of my property at my death" but later discovered it was a deed transferring the Arch street home to Mrs. Aronhalt.

Mrs. Grayson, who is represented by Edward J. Ryan, said her home represents "all she owns in the world."

Doctor Declares Shoes Should Be Chosen with Care

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

What constitutes the "ideal" shoe?

In the past this question has been answered in various, and even contradictory ways, with one authority proclaiming the need for rigid support and another warning against any.

Today, medical men are coming more and more to the opinion that the only honest answer is that no one type of shoe will serve equally well for all types of feet.

Nonetheless, there are certain essentials which every shoe should meet.

Stout Enough

It should be stout enough to protect the foot against injury but not so rigid as to prevent free use of the foot. It should be waterproof and yet sufficiently porous; durable, and easily repaired, and (here's comfort for the ladies) it should meet current ideas of fashion at least to the extent that its wearer is not conspicuous by reason of nonconformity.

The doctor's idea of a proper concession to fashion may not, however, jibe with that of the woman who regards two-inch spindle heels as necessary to good appearance.

This is evidenced by the opinion of Dr. Norman C. Lake, of England, who believes that the wearing of a heel up to one and one-half inches can produce only slight disturbance in foot action and thus should not be greatly criticized.

A higher heel will tend to damage the front part of the feet and, if it is really high, most of the body weight will be thrown on the metatarsal bones just back of the toes. Since this area of the foot is not designed to bear this extra weight foot deformities result.

For this reason, Dr. Lake believes the wearing of a heel higher than one and one-half inches is to be condemned.

One of the things which can happen from the wearing of too high a heel is spreading of the metatarsals. To prevent this, the shoe should be tight at the instep. A strap around this part of the shoe may also be helpful, particularly in golf shoes. Sometimes prevention can be aided by shoes made with a metatarsal pad, placed just under the front part of the metatarsals inside the shoe.

Heel Necessary

Some sort of heel appears to be necessary to provide extra wear at the point subjected to severest hammering on the ground. By and large, a seven-eighth inch heel like that on the acerage man's shoe is thought best in that it gives a good firm basis for year without upsetting the balance of the foot.

The shoe should fit snugly around the heel but it also should fit well in the instep or middle part of the foot and should be strongly made at this point.

It goes without saying that the shoe should fit properly. Too large a shoe is as bad as one that is too tikht. In either case, there will be rubbing with the production of corns and calluses as well as actual deformities.

No one type of shoe is suitable for all purposes, particularly in regard to the sole. For long [illegible] or mountain climbing, a strong thick sole may be advisable. On the other hand, for ordinary usage a lighter, more flexible sole is more satisfactory. If you choose your hoes with care, you will aid a great deal in protecting your feet.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

OLD JUDGE: "Hank, you're a big grain producer... let me ask you a question or two?"

HANK: "Glad to have you, Judge."

OLD JUDGE: "Do you think the grain used by distillers is wasted as some folks are saying?"

HANK: "I certainly do Not! As a matter of fact, it is just the opposite."

OLD JUDGE: "How do you figure that, Hank?"

HANK: "From my own experience and from reports I've read. For the year endin' last June, the distillers produced over 1,200,000,000 pounds of distillers' dried grains... the best feed supplements we can lay our hands on. They are rich in nutrients. Why... I've never had such fat dairy cows, livestock and poultry as I have since I've been usin' these dried grains."

OLD JUDGE: "How do you use them, Hank?"

HANK: "I blend them in with original grain. This balanced ration has far greater feed value than the original grain itself. I can cut down on my whole grain feeding about 20% and still get better results."

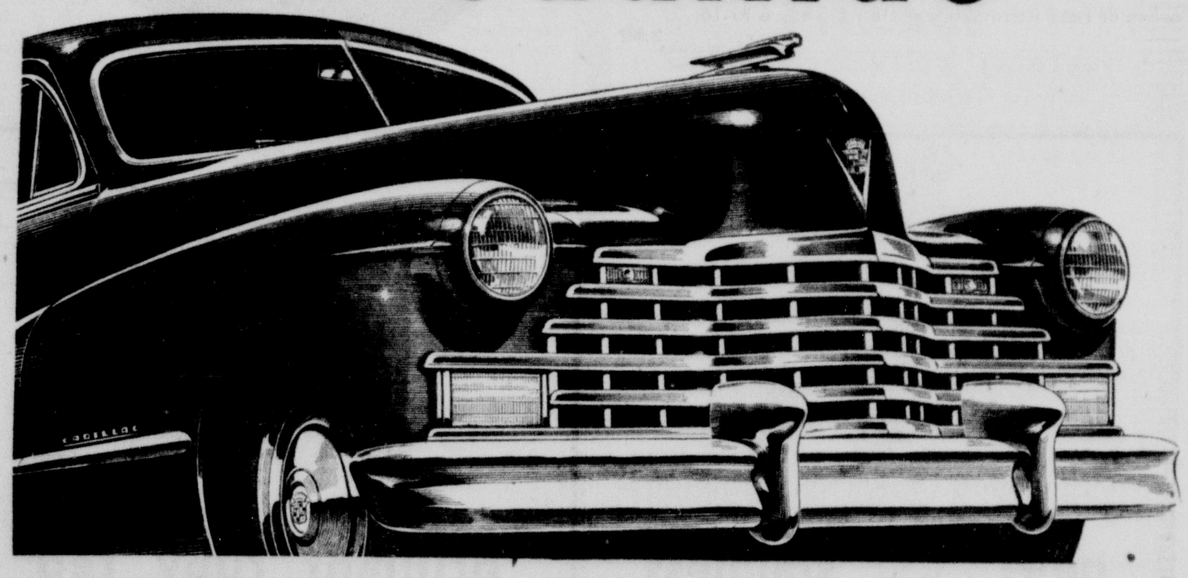
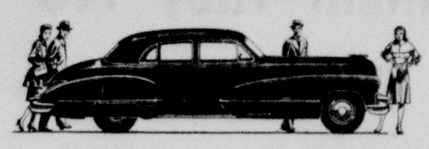
THE NEW 1946 Cadillac





More Beautiful and Luxurious

...AND POWERED BY THE GREAT VICTORY ENGINE

THERE IS BIG NEWS about Cadillac this year. For Cadillac has really been improved for 1946. Not just in styling—although the 1946 Cadillac is far more beautiful in every way. Not just in comfort and luxury—although here, too, Cadillac has made great strides . . . Cadillac's improvement is basic and fundamental! Cadillac built its world-famous engine and transmission for the Armed Services as power units for tanks and other motorized weapons. All during the war, while no passenger cars were being built anywhere, Cadillac's engine assembly line continued to roll. And what is even more important—improvement, too, went steadily ahead. The engine and transmission which contributed so much to Allied victory . . . were actually improved more in four years of war than would have been normal in four years of peace! Cadillac not only had the world's battlefields as a testing ground—but the technical staffs of the army and navy were available as consultants. . . . What an engine this is now! And what a transmission the new Hydra-Matic is! You've never experienced anything even remotely like this "power train" for smoothness, quietness, and quickness of acceleration. . . . Improvement, in fact, is found throughout the car. Comfort is greater, handling is easier, roadability is better. Likewise, there is new interior luxury. Wherever you look, in fact, you will be conscious of a new Standard of the World. . . . But the really vital improvement is mechanical. You'll have to take the wheel of this new Cadillac to experience fully what has happened. Do this as soon as you can. . . . And get your name on the list for the earliest possible delivery.

Frostburg Seniors To Present Play Friday, May 24

Cast of Annual Dramatic Production at Beall High School Listed

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, May 16 — "Green Stockings" is the title of the annual dramatic production to be presented by the senior class of Beall high school Friday evening, May 24, in the school auditorium. Miss Joan Taylor has been named to take the leading role of "Cecelia," the romantic interest in the life of "Colonel Smith," a role to be enacted by Nat Workman.

Other members of the cast are Ina Nie Watson, Ruth Ann Cosgrove, Juanita Jackson, Carl Kallmyer, Emery Loar, Raymond Rodda, Donald Moore, Denver Harvey, James Spitznas and Anna Ruth Robinson. Rehearsals are in progress daily under direction of Miss Ann McLuckie, a member of the faculty.

Pythians Plan Rally

Frostburg City Lodge No. 88, Knights of Pythias, meeting last evening, received an invitation from J. Walter McKee, of Cumberland Lodge No. 60, Cumberland, to attend a countywide rally of the Knights of Pythias Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Lonaconing, with State Senator Robert B. Kimble, grand chancellor of Maryland, presiding.

The rally is the third of a series held in the county during the past six months. The first was held in Cumberland in the fall and the second was held in Frostburg, December 12.

The Lonaconing rally is to be for Allegany and Garrett county Pythians and for various Pythian Sister temples of the two counties, which will be in session the same day in Midland.

The speakers will include members of the grand lodge of Maryland. The principal address will be delivered by a prominent member of the Pythian fraternity whose name has not been disclosed. Following the business meeting, refreshments will be served by the host lodge.

A committee from the Frostburg lodge, consisting of Edison Hollida, E. B. Prichard and Henry Smith, has been appointed to arrange transportation for the Frostburg delegation.

May Queen Crowned

The ceremonies in connection with crowning the Queen of the May at Beall elementary school were witnessed by an audience that flanked the four sides of the spacious front lawn of the school. A heavy downpour of rain at noon threatened a transfer of the ceremonies to the auditorium, but at 1:30 the sun came out and the program was presented on the lawn as planned.

The May Queen, Miss Norma Lee Dunn, was crowned by Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore. The queen's attendant was Miss Jane Souders and the king, Richard Duncan, was attended by Robert Haislip. Dale Folk was crown bearer and Darlene Loar and James Myers were the queen's train bearers. The flower girls were Colleen Festerman, Shirley Robinette, Blanche Filer, Jane Rizer, Lois Jane Sweitzer and Ruth Lee Thomas.

The entire program, terminating with the traditional maypole dance, was carried on in the presence of the May Queen and her court, under the direction of members of the faculty of the school. Miss Mabel Myers played the piano accompaniments. The court attendants were: Donna Schutz, Joe Cutter, Mary E. Johnson, Bruce Simmons, Peggy Engle, James Barry, Emma Walters, Van Robeson, Colleen Pollock, Robbie Wade, Joan Krieling, Betty Winebrenner, Allan Robeson, Irving Dawson, Shirley Blank, Beatrice Smith, Charles Hout, and Frank Buskirk.

Hospital Receives Gift

Miss Mary Howie, superintendent of Miners hospital, announces the receipt of a new wheel chair at the hospital, a gift from the Ladies Auxiliary of Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion. The chair, recently purchased at a cost of $50, is the second gift from the auxiliary to the hospital in the past year. The first gift was a serological bath, which was presented last summer.

Frostburg Briefs

The Rev. Henry Little, D. D., pastor of First Presbyterian church, was elected president of the Frostburg Ministerial Association Monday at the annual business meeting held in the lecture room of St. Paul's Lutheran church. The Rev. George L. Wehler, retiring president, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Two motion pictures, "Fishers of Men" and "Who Is My Neighbor?" will be shown at the evening service of Salem Evanglical and Reformed church Sunday. The services will be in charge of the Sunday school superintendent, John G. Pfaff, and will be open to the public.

Relatives of James G. Richardson, who died May 9 in Emporia, Kans., whose names were not previously published, are William G. Richardson, Detroit, Mich., a brother, and Mrs. Fannie Glime, Federalsburg, Md., a sister.

The Frostburg Ministerial Association, which presented an oxygen tent to Miners hospital this week, has ordered an attachment to be used in the treatment of children. It will cost about $50 and will be paid for with the balance on hand which was donated for the purchase of the oxygen tent.

Double Wedding Is Solemnized At Westernport

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN

WESTERNPORT, May 16—Miss Eileen McIntosh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McIntosh, 231 Maryland avenue and George Elmer Robinette, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Robinette, 18 Oak street, Cumberland, and Miss Muriel Lee Bobo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bobo, 85 Bissell avenue, Youngstown, Ohio, formerly of Westernport, and Richard Kyle, Youngstown, Ohio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Kyle, Barton, were married at double wedding last night at 8 o'clock at the Assembly of God church here at a candlelight service. The Rev. Robert McIntosh, an evangelist, a brother of Miss McIntosh, performed the double ring ceremony.

The brides, who are cousins, were given in marriage by their fathers. William McKone, Piedmont, W. Va., sang, "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Robert McIntosh.

Danny Elliott and Donald McIntyre were ring bearers and Norma Jean Mills and Virginia Eileen Bobo, flower girls.

The church was decorated with palms, white lilies, snapdragons and gladioli with a bower of fern and orange blossoms at the altar.

The brides, dressed alike, wore white broceded satin gowns with long veil and trains, and carried old fashioned nose gays.

Mrs. Ruth Mason, Cumberland, was Miss McIntosh's matron of honor. She wore an orchid net gown and hat and carried a large spray of white rosebuds with white satin streamers.

Her other attendants, Mrs. Virginia Elliott, Hyndman, Pa., wore a pink gown with net skirt; Miss Betty McIntosh, a sister of the bride, wore light blue; Miss Norma Jean McIntosh, niece, wore a yellow gown and Miss Naomi Brann, Westernport, was attired in aqua blue gown. Each wore a matching tiara of their gown and carried an old fashioned nose gay. William McIntosh, brother of the bride, was Mr. Robinette's best man.

Miss Betty Catherine McDade, Keyser, W. Va., was maid of honor for Miss Bobo, wearing a chiffon gown of ashes of roses, hat to match and carried a large spray of white rosebuds with white satin streamers.

Other attendants for Miss Bobo were Mrs. Katherine Bobo, Youngstown, Ohio, who wore a pink gown; Miss Lora Kyle, sister of the bridegroom, was attired in a peach gown; Miss Helen Shuck, wore a yellow gown; and Miss Doris Jean Barrick, a blue gown. All wore a matching tiara to their gowns and carried old fashioned bouquets. Clarence Kyle, Barton, was his brother's best man.

Ushers were Floyd Kyle and Harry Clark, Barton; Noah Wright, Alvin Kyle, Paul Michael and Elwood Wilkins, Westernport; James Elliott, Hyndman, Pa., and L. W. McDade, Keyser, W. Va.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Odd Fellows' hall.

Miss McIntosh attended Bruce high school and is employed by the Celanese corporation. Mr. Robinette served three years in the South Pacific with the army. He is also employed by the Calenese. When they return from their wedding trip at New York they will reside with the bride's parents.

Miss Bobo attended Bruce high school and Mr. Kyle attended Barton high school. He served thirty months in the ETO and is employed in Youngstown. They are spending their honeymoon at Washington, D. C., and will reside at the home of the bridegroom's parents at Youngstown.

Married In Church

Miss Julia Ann Mazzone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mazzone, Luke, and William John Codire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Codire, Piedmont, W. Va., were married April 28 at St. Peter's Catholic church. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Anthony Scarpati, pastor.

Mrs. Harold Warnick was her sister's only attendant and Michael Laffey was the bridegroom's best man.

The bride wore a light grey suit with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Warnick was attired in an aqua blue suit with yellow accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride is a graduate of Bruce high school of Westernport and is employed in the chemical laboratory at the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Mr. Codire is a graduate of Piedmont high school and is employed at the Luke paper mill. He was discharged from the army January 13, after forty-two months service of which twenty-one months were spent in the Pacific theater. They spent their honeymoon in Baltimore.

Keyser Terminal Railway Trainmen To Hold Meeting

By LUKE McDOWELL

KEYSER, W. Va., May 16—All railway trainmen of the Keyser terminal are asked to meet at the American Legion hall, North Main street, at 4 p. m., Saturday, May 18. This meeting arranged by J. C. Welling and Roy Knight, local chairman of the Brotherhood Railway Trainmen and Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers respectively, is for the purpose of giving information relating to the labor situation to those employed as trainmen, including those who do not hold membership in the brotherhoods.

Richard Keys Dies

Richard Holland Keys, 70, died at his home, 152 East Piedmont street, Wednesday night. He had been in failing health for several years, becoming seriously ill only a few weeks ago.

Mr. Keys was a native of Keyser and spent his entire life here. He was a bookkeeper by profession and for a time conducted a small mercantile business. He had been retired for several years.

He was a member of First Presbyterian church, serving as church treasurer for thirty-four years, and was an elder for twenty-two years. He also served for some time as superintendent of the Sunday school.

He was a member of three branches of the Masonic Fraternity in Keyser, serving for many years as secretary of the Blue Lodge, the Chapter and the Commandery. He attained the thirty-second degree in Masonry, holding membership in Osiris Temple, Wheeling, and was a charter member of the Upper Potomac Shrine club, Keyser.

His parents were the late John W. and Amanda Vickroy Keys, who owned and operated the "Keys house," on Armstrong street, one of the most famous hostelries in Eastern West Virginia, during the latter years of the nineteenth and the early years of the twentieth centuries.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lilian Wolford Keys, and one sister, Miss Glendora Keys.

Funeral services will be held in First Presbyterian church at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, with the Rev. John C. B. McLaughlin, pastor of the church, officiating. Interment will be in Philos cemetery, Westernport, Md.

Ludwick Rites

Funeral services for Mrs. Charles D. Ludwick will be held in the First Church of the Brethren at 2:30 p. m., as was previously announced. The Rev. B. W. Smith, Brethren minister of Romney, will assist the Rev. A. R. Showalter with the service. The body will be taken to the church at 1 p. m., to lie in state until the time of the funeral.

Conference Reports Given

At the Rotary club luncheon at noon today, Clyde W. Gardner, J. Paul Blundon, William B. Woolf and Emory Tyler gave extensive reports of their trip last week to Altoona, Pa., where the district conference of Rotary International was held. J. E. Prettyman showed a motion picture, describing conditions in foreign countries and dealing with the food situation there.

Plans were discussed for the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Keyser Rotary club. There will be guests from surrounding cities. Joseph W. Stayman, first president of the local club, will be the guest speaker. Stayman, now of Jamestown, N. Y., was formerly a resident of Keyser, serving as principal of Keyser high school. After leaving Keyser, and before going to Jamestown, he served as principal of Berkeley Springs high school.

Personal

Mrs. Virginia Lee Kooken, William E. Frantz and William Stutz, Westernport, and Mrs. Stewart Rembold, Mrs. Margaret Zinn and John D. Kimble have been admitted to Potomac Valley hospital.

Miss Vivian Norris, Mrs. Mary Citerilla and William Stevenson, Keyser; Mrs. Knisley, and Henry Fultzer, Westernport; Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, Piedmont, and Marcellus Arnold, Gormania, have been admitted to Potomac Valley hospital.

Banquet, Memorial Service Are Held By Red Men

By WILLIAM A. WILSON

MIDLAND, May 16—Estel C. Kelley and Thomas Lohr Richards, Cumberland attorneys, were guest speakers at a banquet held Wednesday evening in Firemen's hall in honor of returning servicemen of the community. The banquet was sponsored by the Improved Order of Red Men.

Richards gave the eulogy for fifteen Midland men who lost their lives in World War II, Joseph Allen, Thomas A. Taylor, John Mills, Edward Bullick Thomas Campbell, Charles Bullick, John Campbell, Galen Donald, George Hitchens, Robert Leak, Kenneth Devault, James G. Allen, George A. Patterson, John Dawson and Jacob Blubaugh.

The eulogy was a feature of a memorial service following the banquet. William E. Orr, Jr., and Paul Fair, navy veterans, served as color bearers, while Ike Stakem and Calvin Thrasher, army veterans, were guards of honor. Bobby Smith sounded taps, and the audience sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

William A. Wilson acted as master of ceremonies at the banquet. Another speaker was Walter Ross, a veteran of both world wars, who stressed the importance to veterans of exercising their rights by voting. The Rev. Raymond Crowe gave the invocation and benediction.

An open air concert was given by the Lonaconing city band before the memorial service at 8 p. m. Midland volunteer firemen donated the use of their hall and an orchestra for dancing during the remainder of the evening.

Lionel Clarke, manager of the Midland theater, admitted all servicemen to a free movie.

Mrs. Edward Eisentrout was chairman in charge of arrangements for the banquet, assisted by the ladies of St. Joseph's Catholic church, the Methodist church, auxiliary of the fire company, Myrtle Temple No. 2, Pythian Sisters; and the Homemakers club.

May Queen Chosen

Eleanor Mills, a member of the sixth grade at Midland school, has been selected to serve as May Queen and will be crowned at a ceremony Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium.

Bobby Miller will be the May King, and the attendants will be Betty Miller, Bobby Weber, Ray Clark, Stewart Blair, Marlene Muir, Mary Lou Eisentrout, Sally Cutter, Willeda Wilson, Kathleen Robertson and Joan Wilson.

The queen will be crowned by Anna Mae Truly, and Johnny Hawkins will be crown bearer. Following the ceremony, a program of folk dances, songs, poems, dramatizations and choral readings will be given by children of all grades.

A meeting of the Parent-teachers association will be held after the entertainment. Officers for the coming year will be installed and refreshments will be served.

Meadows Sets Up State "Capital" At Martinsburg

Motorcade from Charleston Visits Shepherdstown and Inwood

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., May 16 (AP) — The king's justice — or rather the governor's—was dispensed today in Martinsburg for the first time in history.

Headed by Gov. Clarence W. Meadows, virtually all of West Virginia's top-flight officials visited the Appalachian-isolated panhandle and set up a temporary "capital" for the transaction of state business.

Separated from the real capital, Charleston, by 317 miles of road, Martinsburg is much closer to the capitals of Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and has much easier access to Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, than many parts of its own state.

Today's official activities centered upon inspection of the army's Newton D. Baker hospital.

With a view to the possibility that the state may take over the institution when it is relinquished by the army June 30, the state board of control made an extensive tour of the hospital facilities.

Unofficially, however, board members said they were not certain whether the state could afford to administer the huge facility, for economic reasons.

Various of the state officials conducted open conferences with residents of the panhandle area. They explained that they wanted to obtain ideas, not to present programs of their own.

At an official luncheon, Gov. Meadows praised the resources and history of the eastern sector, and thirty members of the visiting delegation were introduced.

In the course of the program, Rep. Jennings Randolph (D-WVa) delivered the commencement address for nurses graduating from the city hospital.

The motorcade from Charleston visited Shepherdstown and Inwood, where public schools were closed so students could see their state leaders, an opportunity few have.

Their tour completed tonight, the officials were prepared to resume state business at Charleston tomorrow.

By RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, May 16 — "Green Stockings" is the title of the annual dramatic production to be presented by the senior class of Beall high school Friday evening, May 24, in the school auditorium. Miss Joan Taylor has been named to take the leading role of "Cecelia," the romantic interest in the life of "Colonel Smith," a role to be enacted by Nat Workman.

Pythians Plan Rally

Frostburg City Lodge No. 88, Knights of Pythias, meeting last evening, received an invitation from J. Walter McKee, of Cumberland Lodge No. 60, Cumberland, to attend a countywide rally of the Knights of Pythias Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Lonaconing, with State Senator Robert B. Kimble, grand chancellor of Maryland, presiding.

The rally is the third of a series held in the county during the past six months. The first was held in Cumberland in the fall and the second was held in Frostburg, December 12.

The Lonaconing rally is to be for Allegany and Garrett county Pythians and for various Pythian Sister temples of the two counties, which will be in session the same day in Midland.

The speakers will include members of the grand lodge of Maryland. The principal address will be delivered by a prominent member of the Pythian fraternity whose name has not been disclosed. Following the business meeting, refreshments will be served by the host lodge.

A committee from the Frostburg lodge, consisting of Edison Hollida, E. B. Prichard and Henry Smith, has been appointed to arrange transportation for the Frostburg delegation.

Miss Bobo attended Bruce high school and Mr. Kyle attended Barton high school. He served thirty months in the ETO and is employed in Youngstown. They are spending their honeymoon at Washington, D. C., and will reside at the home of the bridegroom's parents at Youngstown.

Married In Church

Miss Julia Ann Mazzone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mazzone, Luke, and William John Codire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Codire, Piedmont, W. Va., were married April 28 at St. Peter's Catholic church. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Anthony Scarpati, pastor.

Mrs. Harold Warnick was her sister's only attendant and Michael Laffey was the bridegroom's best man.

The bride wore a light grey suit with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Warnick was attired in an aqua blue suit with yellow accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bride is a graduate of Bruce high school of Westernport and is employed in the chemical laboratory at the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Mr. Codire is a graduate of Piedmont high school and is employed at the Luke paper mill. He was discharged from the army January 13, after forty-two months service of which twenty-one months were spent in the Pacific theater. They spent their honeymoon in Baltimore.

Keyser Terminal Railway Trainmen To Hold Meeting

By LUKE McDOWELL

KEYSER, W. Va., May 16—All railway trainmen of the Keyser terminal are asked to meet at the American Legion hall, North Main street, at 4 p. m., Saturday, May 18. This meeting arranged by J. C. Welling and Roy Knight, local chairman of the Brotherhood Railway Trainmen and Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers respectively, is for the purpose of giving information relating to the labor situation to those employed as trainmen, including those who do not hold membership in the brotherhoods.

Richard Keys Dies

Richard Holland Keys, 70, died at his home, 152 East Piedmont street, Wednesday night. He had been in failing health for several years, becoming seriously ill only a few weeks ago.

Mr. Keys was a native of Keyser and spent his entire life here. He was a bookkeeper by profession and for a time conducted a small mercantile business. He had been retired for several years.

He was a member of First Presbyterian church, serving as church treasurer for thirty-four years, and was an elder for twenty-two years. He also served for some time as superintendent of the Sunday school.

He was a member of three branches of the Masonic Fraternity in Keyser, serving for many years as secretary of the Blue Lodge, the Chapter and the Commandery. He attained the thirty-second degree in Masonry, holding membership in Osiris Temple, Wheeling, and was a charter member of the Upper Potomac Shrine club, Keyser.

His parents were the late John W. and Amanda Vickroy Keys, who owned and operated the "Keys house," on Armstrong street, one of the most famous hostelries in Eastern West Virginia, during the latter years of the nineteenth and the early years of the twentieth centuries.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lilian Wolford Keys, and one sister, Miss Glendora Keys.

Funeral services will be held in First Presbyterian church at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, with the Rev. John C. B. McLaughlin, pastor of the church, officiating. Interment will be in Philos cemetery, Westernport, Md.

Ludwick Rites

Funeral services for Mrs. Charles D. Ludwick will be held in the First Church of the Brethren at 2:30 p. m., as was previously announced. The Rev. B. W. Smith, Brethren minister of Romney, will assist the Rev. A. R. Showalter with the service. The body will be taken to the church at 1 p. m., to lie in state until the time of the funeral.

Conference Reports Given

At the Rotary club luncheon at noon today, Clyde W. Gardner, J. Paul Blundon, William B. Woolf and Emory Tyler gave extensive reports of their trip last week to Altoona, Pa., where the district conference of Rotary International was held. J. E. Prettyman showed a motion picture, describing conditions in foreign countries and dealing with the food situation there.

Plans were discussed for the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Keyser Rotary club. There will be guests from surrounding cities. Joseph W. Stayman, first president of the local club, will be the guest speaker. Stayman, now of Jamestown, N. Y., was formerly a resident of Keyser, serving as principal of Keyser high school. After leaving Keyser, and before going to Jamestown, he served as principal of Berkeley Springs high school.

Personal

Mrs. Virginia Lee Kooken, William E. Frantz and William Stutz, Westernport, and Mrs. Stewart Rembold, Mrs. Margaret Zinn and John D. Kimble have been admitted to Potomac Valley hospital.

Miss Vivian Norris, Mrs. Mary Citerilla and William Stevenson, Keyser; Mrs. Knisley, and Henry Fultzer, Westernport; Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, Piedmont, and Marcellus Arnold, Gormania, have been admitted to Potomac Valley hospital.

Bishop Shehan Confirms Class At Mt. Savage

By CATHERINE O'ROURKE

MT. SAVAGE, May 16—The Most Rev. Lawrence J. Shehan, auxiliary bishop of the Archdioceses of Baltimore and Washington, made his initial visit to St. Patrick's Catholic church this afternoon and administered the sacrament of confirmation to a class of sixty-eight children and eight adults.

Assisting the bishop in the administration of the sacrament were the Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Midland; the Rev. Iraneus Reinl, pastor of SS. Peter and Paul church, Cumberland; the Rev. Father Kilgannon, pastor of St. Anthony's church, Ridgeley, and the Rev. W. Joyce Russell, St. Mary's church, Cumberland. Priests in the sanctuary included the Rev. Father Fabian, SS. Peter and Paul church, and the Rev. Francis Montgomery, St. Michael's church, Frostburg, and the Rev. Michael Smyth, pastor of the local church.

Sponsors for the boys in the class were John Mattnigly, Cumberland, and Patrick A. Fannon. Mrs. Alice McNamee and Mrs. Nora Dickel were sponsors for the girls.

The administration of the sacrament was followed by benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and hymns by St. Patrick's junior choir.

The Rev. Michael Smyth entertained in honor of Bishop Shehan at a luncheon in St. Patrick's rectory. Guests included Father Iraneus, Father Kilkenny, Father Kilgannon, Father Russell, Father Montgomery and Father Fabian.

Honor Miss Graham

Mrs. Maxwell Church entertained with a shower at her home Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Marian Graham, whose marriage will take place Saturday morning in St. Patrick's Catholic church. Twelve guests were present.

The home was decorated with spring flowers and the bridal motif was carried out in the appointments. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

To Observe Poppy Day

Ladies Auxiliary of Memorial Post, American Legion, will observe Poppy day in this community, May 26. Members of the auxiliary also have made plans for a Memorial Day dance to be held in Mullaney's hall, with music to be furnished by the Aristocrats.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Flanigan, Sr., and son, James, left yesterday for New York, where they will attend the marriage of their son, Lt. Thomas Flanigan and Miss Dorothy Fitzgerald, Sunday morning.

Lawrence Henckel is a patient at Memorial hospital, Cumberland, where he is recovering from injuries received when he was attacked by a bull at his dairy farm, Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Gaughan and son, Thomas, Mrs. Frank Dean and Miss Rose E. Lynch returned yesterday

By WILLIAM A. WILSON

MIDLAND, May 16—Estel C. Kelley and Thomas Lohr Richards, Cumberland attorneys, were guest speakers at a banquet held Wednesday evening in Firemen's hall in honor of returning servicemen of the community. The banquet was sponsored by the Improved Order of Red Men.

Richards gave the eulogy for fifteen Midland men who lost their lives in World War II, Joseph Allen, Thomas A. Taylor, John Mills, Edward Bullick Thomas Campbell, Charles Bullick, John Campbell, Galen Donald, George Hitchens, Robert Leak, Kenneth Devault, James G. Allen, George A. Patterson, John Dawson and Jacob Blubaugh.

The eulogy was a feature of a memorial service following the banquet. William E. Orr, Jr., and Paul Fair, navy veterans, served as color bearers, while Ike Stakem and Calvin Thrasher, army veterans, were guards of honor. Bobby Smith sounded taps, and the audience sang "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

William A. Wilson acted as master of ceremonies at the banquet. Another speaker was Walter Ross, a veteran of both world wars, who stressed the importance to veterans of exercising their rights by voting. The Rev. Raymond Crowe gave the invocation and benediction.

An open air concert was given by the Lonaconing city band before the memorial service at 8 p. m. Midland volunteer firemen donated the use of their hall and an orchestra for dancing during the remainder of the evening.

Lionel Clarke, manager of the Midland theater, admitted all servicemen to a free movie.

Mrs. Edward Eisentrout was chairman in charge of arrangements for the banquet, assisted by the ladies of St. Joseph's Catholic church, the Methodist church, auxiliary of the fire company, Myrtle Temple No. 2, Pythian Sisters; and the Homemakers club.

May Queen Chosen

Eleanor Mills, a member of the sixth grade at Midland school, has been selected to serve as May Queen and will be crowned at a ceremony Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium.

Bobby Miller will be the May King, and the attendants will be Betty Miller, Bobby Weber, Ray Clark, Stewart Blair, Marlene Muir, Mary Lou Eisentrout, Sally Cutter, Willeda Wilson, Kathleen Robertson and Joan Wilson.

The queen will be crowned by Anna Mae Truly, and Johnny Hawkins will be crown bearer. Following the ceremony, a program of folk dances, songs, poems, dramatizations and choral readings will be given by children of all grades.

A meeting of the Parent-teachers association will be held after the entertainment. Officers for the coming year will be installed and refreshments will be served.

Meadows Sets Up State "Capital" At Martinsburg

Motorcade from Charleston Visits Shepherdstown and Inwood

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., May 16 (AP) — The king's justice — or rather the governor's—was dispensed today in Martinsburg for the first time in history.

Headed by Gov. Clarence W. Meadows, virtually all of West Virginia's top-flight officials visited the Appalachian-isolated panhandle and set up a temporary "capital" for the transaction of state business.

Separated from the real capital, Charleston, by 317 miles of road, Martinsburg is much closer to the capitals of Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and has much easier access to Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, than many parts of its own state.

Today's official activities centered upon inspection of the army's Newton D. Baker hospital.

With a view to the possibility that the state may take over the institution when it is relinquished by the army June 30, the state board of control made an extensive tour of the hospital facilities.

Unofficially, however, board members said they were not certain whether the state could afford to administer the huge facility, for economic reasons.

Various of the state officials conducted open conferences with residents of the panhandle area. They explained that they wanted to obtain ideas, not to present programs of their own.

At an official luncheon, Gov. Meadows praised the resources and history of the eastern sector, and thirty members of the visiting delegation were introduced.

In the course of the program, Rep. Jennings Randolph (D-WVa) delivered the commencement address for nurses graduating from the city hospital.

The motorcade from Charlestor visited Shepherdstown and Inwood, where public schools were closed so students could see their state leaders, an opportunity few have.

Their tour completed tonight, the officials were prepared to resume state business at Charleston tomorrow.

25 Pass Physical Tests To Enter Marine Corps

Twenty-five of twenty-eight applicants for enlistment in the marine corps as a part of a Cumberland Tri-State platoon have passed their physical examinations here according to Murrel W. Brainerd, local marine recruiter.

The platoon will be formed as a unit to be sworn-in June 11, from the stage of the Strand theatre, and will leave as a unit June 12, for Quantico, Va., where the men will remain together through their basic training, Brainerd explained.

James Andrew Kerns, of Berkeley Springs, W. Va., and Clyde Ours, Jr., of Moorefield, W. Va.

There are five more men to take physical examinations, Brainerd said, and more applicants will be accepted as he has been authorized to enlist up to sixty men for the platoon. Those interested in the platoon or in serving with it can obtain information at the Marine office in the post office building.

Brainerd also said that four other men examined Wednesday will leave for training this month. They are James E. Dorsey of Mt. Savage who will leave May 20, and Lewis R. Leonard, Ross Dorn Miller and Richard D. Trail, all of Bedford, Pa., will leave May 27 for training camp.

AUTHORITIES BANISH MAN THEY SAID POSED AS EX-SERVICEMAN

A man who police believed came here and posed as a former serviceman in order to panhandle during the Disabled American Veterans convention and later brutally beat his wife at their room in a local hotel was banished to his home in Spartansburg, S. C., at the state's attorney's orders, police reported yesterday.

Detective Lt. B. Frank Gaffney said the man, booked as Joseph Hensley, about 32, and his wife, Sarah Ellen Hensley, 30, were arrested Sunday at their room in the Olympia hotel by Officer Joseph Stitcher after Hensley beat her during a drunken rage.

Police said the woman's clothes were torn and that the hotel room showed signs of a terrific struggle. Mrs. Hensley was treated in Memorial hospital for a fractured nose. She refused to testify, police said, but did admit when questioned by Lt. Gaffney and Detective E. R. Lilya, that her husband hit her in the nose with his fist.

Lt. Gaffney said Hensley had been posing as an ex-serviceman and added that the presence of about $14 in pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters in his pockets indicated that he had been "palming himself off" as a disabled veteran in order to beg here.

Police added the man was wearing an army shirt which displayed a discharge patch and said he somehow disposed of a discharge button he was wearing shortly before his arrest.

The man, Lt. Gaffney said, walked with crutches and told pedestrians he lost a leg during the recent war. The leg, police discovered, was amputated when Hensley, as a youth, was injured when he jumped from a freight train.

The platoon will be formed as a unit to be sworn-in June 11, from the stage of the Strand theatre, and will leave as a unit June 12, for Quantico, Va., where the men will remain together through their basic training, Brainerd explained.

There are five more men to take physical examinations, Brainerd said, and more applicants will be accepted as he has been authorized to enlist up to sixty men for the platoon. Those interested in the platoon or in serving with it can obtain information at the Marine office in the post office building.

Brainerd also said that four other men examined Wednesday will leave for training this month. They are James E. Dorsey of Mt. Savage who will leave May 20, and Lewis R. Leonard, Ross Dorn Miller and Richard D. Trail, all of Bedford, Pa., will leave May 27 for training camp.

AUTHORITIES BANISH MAN THEY SAID POSED AS EX-SERVICEMAN

A man who police believed came here and posed as a former serviceman in order to panhandle during the Disabled American Veterans convention and later brutally beat his wife at their room in a local hotel was banished to his home in Spartansburg, S. C., at the state's attorney's orders, police reported yesterday.

Detective Lt. B. Frank Gaffney said the man, booked as Joseph Hensley, about 32, and his wife, Sarah Ellen Hensley, 30, were arrested Sunday at their room in the Olympia hotel by Officer Joseph Stitcher after Hensley beat her during a drunken rage.

Police said the woman's clothes were torn and that the hotel room showed signs of a terrific struggle. Mrs. Hensley was treated in Memorial hospital for a fractured nose. She refused to testify, police said, but did admit when questioned by Lt. Gaffney and Detective E. R. Lilya, that her husband hit her in the nose with his fist.

Lt. Gaffney said Hensley had been posing as an ex-serviceman and added that the presence of about $14 in pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters in his pockets indicated that he had been "palming himself off" as a disabled veteran in order to beg here.

Police added the man was wearing an army shirt which displayed a discharge patch and said he somehow disposed of a discharge button he was wearing shortly before his arrest.

The man, Lt. Gaffney said, walked with crutches and told pedestrians he lost a leg during the recent war. The leg, police discovered, was amputated when Hensley, as a youth, was injured when he jumped from a freight train.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION OFFICERS WILL HOLD CONFERENCES

Officers of the Maryland Christian Endeavor Union will be in Allegany county May 18 and 19, for a series of meetings and conferences.

At 2:30 p. m. Saturday, a conference will be held in First Congregational church, Frostburg. At 6:30 p. m. a banquet will be held in the church basement, with George H. Tederick, this city, district representative acting as toastmaster.

On Sunday morning, the officers will visit several churches and speak at morning services. At 2:30 p. m. Sunday, a conference will be held in the First Christian church here.

Those included in the delegation coming here are Miss Hilda Dutterer, president; Miss Doris Poffenberger, vice president; Frederick L. Anderson, treasurer; the Rev. Raymond C. Steinhart, field secretary; Herbert Wilson, Virginia Holloway, Phyllis Foos, M. C. Cochran, conference leaders, all of Baltimore.

These people comprise the state Christian Endeavor Counseling Caravan, inaugurated several months ago, which is making a complete tour of the state of Maryland, holding a series of weekend conferences.

Manpower Shortage Prevents Participation In Safety Drive

The Cumberland Police Department will not be able to participate in the traffic safety check program of the International Association of Chiefs of Police due to a shortage of manpower, Oscar A. Eyerman, chief of police, announced yesterday.

The police chief said, however, that a number of firms here have agreed to carry outdoor advertising signs which will point out to the public the traffic dangers faced at the present.

Police officials in Hagerstown, Morgantown and Altoona have announced that they will co-operate in the program by making "spot" checks of brakes, lights and horns.

Traffic deaths for the first three months of 1946 were nearly as high as they were in a like period in 1941, when traffic slaughter reached an all time high, Eyerman said.

Training School Will Be Held for Dodge Dealers and Salesmen

Dodge dealers and their salesmen from the Cumberland area will attend a conference next Monday and Tuesday at the Fort Cumberland hotel in a national program in which about 6,100 sales personnel are being trained to better qualify them to serve truck users in the selection of the right trucks to meet their hauling needs.

The national training program, which is being carried into all forty-eight states with 258 conferences already scheduled, was developed under direction of L.F. Van Nortwick, director of truck sales of the Dodge division of Chrysler Corporation.

The Cumberland training program will be conducted by G. I. Young, truck manager, and William Woolsey, Pittsburgh city manager. The local meeting was arranged by R. W. Peek, regional manager.

The Cumberland Police Department will not be able to participate in the traffic safety check program of the International Association of Chiefs of Police due to a shortage of manpower, Oscar A. Eyerman, chief of police, announced yesterday.

The police chief said, however, that a number of firms here have agreed to carry outdoor advertising signs which will point out to the public the traffic dangers faced at the present.

Police officials in Hagerstown, Morgantown and Altoona have announced that they will co-operate in the program by making "spot" checks of brakes, lights and horns.

Traffic deaths for the first three months of 1946 were nearly as high as they were in a like period in 1941, when traffic slaughter reached an all time high, Eyerman said.

Training School Will Be Held for Dodge Dealers and Salesmen

Dodge dealers and their salesmen from the Cumberland area will attend a conference next Monday and Tuesday at the Fort Cumberland hotel in a national program in which about 6,100 sales personnel are being trained to better qualify them to serve truck users in the selection of the right trucks to meet their hauling needs.

The national training program, which is being carried into all forty-eight states with 258 conferences already scheduled, was developed under direction of L.F. Van Nortwick, director of truck sales of the Dodge division of Chrysler Corporation.

The Cumberland training program will be conducted by G. I. Young, truck manager, and William Woolsey, Pittsburgh city manager. The local meeting was arranged by R. W. Peek, regional manager.

Five Persons Are Treated, One Admitted To Allegany Hospital

George D. Kalbaugh, 34, 12 Klosterman's addition, was treated in Allegany hospital Wednesday at 9:20 a. m., after a 500-pound steel plate fell on his head as he was at work at the B. and O. shops here. Attaches said X-rays were taken to determine the extent of injuries.

James F. Hurt, Jr., 6, 220 Thomas street, was admitted to Allegany hospital Wednesday morning for treatment of a fractured left arm, injured, he told attaches, in a fall.

Frank Wagoner, 53, Wiley Ford, W. Va., a Cumberland Box Company employe, was treated in the same hospital at 10 a. m., for a laceration on the second finger of the right hand. He said a saw board caused his hand to run against a saw.

Arlie Lease, 25, 401 Arch street, was treated in the same hospital Wednesday for a laceration of the hand. The grocery worker said he caught his hand on a bar board.

Vernon Loy, 54, 622 Frederick street, was treated at 11 a. m., for a head laceration. The bricklayer said a brick fell on his head as he was at work yesterday.

Garlen Phillips, 26, Route 5, Bowling Green, was treated Wednesday at 6:10 p. m., for a laceration above the right eye. He said he was playing baseball and collided with another player.

Birth Rate Jumps

CHICAGO, May 16(AP)—The Journal of the American Mecical Association has reported that more than 3,000,000 babies were born last year and that the country's birth rate jumped thirty per cent between 1933-43.

Smiths Plan To Operate Business and Develop Property at Deep Creek

Fulcher P. Smith and his son, F. Perry Smith, have announced they will operate Garrett Properties, at Deep Creek Lake, engaging in a real estate development, selling of motor boats and canoes and cutting of timber.

Fulcher P. Smith, for thirty years owner and active manager of the Cumberland Box Company, Elder street here, is gradually withdrawing from the business, and along with his son will operate the Garrett county development.

The Smiths own a large tract of land, including considerable lake frontage at Deep Creek, and it is this land they expect to develop.

The senior Smith recently purchased the Delbert Davis home in Oakland and expects to make his residence there after June 15. His home property on Ellerslie road has been sold to Dr. S. E. Enfield.

Perry Smith was recently discharged from the navy and has been active in the box making business with his father for some time.

Woman Receives Divorce, Says Mate Preferred Blonde

Chief Judge William A. Huster has signed a decree awarding an absolute divorce to Mrs. Eleanor C. Runion, 27, 227 North Mechanic street, from Raphael D. Runion. She also received the custody of their two children, aged 6 and 3.

Asked by the court examiner why her husband left her she replied, "He preferred a blonde."

The wife, represented by Noel Speir Cook, said they were married August 28, 1937, in Cumberland, and lived together until November 5, 1943. She testified that he started "running around with another woman" and that Runion and the woman were arraigned in November, 1943, in juvenile court, on charges of contributing to the delinquency of his two children. They were given suspended sentences of eighteen months in the house of correction, on his promise to keep away from the woman, but Runion deserted his wife later, she said.

The husband, represented by Milton Gerson, was ordered to pay $80 a month for support of the children. The wife said he had already given her $500 as a property settlement when she filed the divorce action.

—Madagascar is reported to be planning a rural electrification program.

—Pony rides for children are being restored in Glasgow, Scotland parks.

When K.O. Put Lights Out

By G. V. BURNS

Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion, seems to be more concerned about his victrola and some new records for it than his title defense against Billy Conn next month, according to Gene Roman, one-time Western Maryland Railway brakeman, and local boxer, who now operates a wholesale grocery firm in Paterson, N. J., in addition to refereeing fights for the New Jersey State Athletic Commission.

Roman furnishes groceries to the camp of the champion at Pompton Lakes, N. J., and also the camp of the challenger at Greenwood Lake, which is eighteen miles from Paterson.

"Wouldn't mind having those kind of orders the year around," Gene writes.

"Yesterday, Louis asked me to pick up some 1940 victrola records for him and to get him a good supply of fruit juices. He drinks 1½ to 2 quarts of fruit juices daily. Joe is up every morning at 5:30, hits the road and has breakfast about ten and doesn't eat again until 5 p. m. Two meals a day is his limit.

"Was at the Louis camp Sunday —which is only six miles from my place—and spent the afternoon with the champion and Mike Jacobs. Louis has some fast sparring partners, boys who can jab and get away. In fact, I think that's what he wants them to do so he can catch up with them and brother, when he does—well you know.

"At Greenwood Lake, I saw Conn in training. Billy is strictly Fancy Dan. He jabs, feints and steps away. Well, he might have the right idea if Joe will let him get away with it.

"Lewis Burton, writing in the New York Journal of May 6 disagrees with me when I say Conn is a hooker. I have seen him work several times since he came here and it has been jabbing and feinting. But as far as Louis is concerned it won't make a lot of difference.

"Joe wants to weigh no less than 206 pounds for his match with Conn."

Sam Graham, commander of Fort Cumberland Post, wanted to know if the Legion team was entitled to a technical knockout in two rounds when Clarence "Cannonball" Smith, manager-pitcher of Fulton Myers Post, failed to come out for the third round after hurling two scoreless innings in Sunday's game at Community Park.

"You see, Sam has witnessed so many boxing matches during the past six months that he got the rules of the two sports confused.

Sammy DeLuca, the former United States Marine, who won two of the biggest money matches of the 1946 duckpin season, will not consider any more challenges until next season.

"The 1946 duckpin season is closed as far as I am concerned," Sammy declared. "The winter months are the best for bowling and it's too warm for that sport now."

Sammy believes in having the mazdas shine on him indoors in the winter and Old Sol to beam on him outdoors in the summer. He's a member of the Frostburg American Legion team of the Bi-State Baseball League.

Someone is always taking the joy out of life.

Just when Matchmaker "Vic" Ricker was throwing his chest out the window following his last professional show of five knockouts in as many bouts, comes the report from Akron, Ohio, that the same thing was duplicated in the Ohio city on Wednesday night. Lee Savold stopped Bob Gardner in the second round of the scheduled 10-round feature, after the losers in the previous bouts on the card were kayoed.

The "take" of the Boston Red Sox for their three-game series with the Yanks in New York was $44,000. The series attracted 176,000 cash patrons. The visiting club nets about twenty-five cents on each paid admission.

Parsons high school's relay team, which romped to victory in the Martinsburg sectional meet last Saturday looks like a good bet in the West Virginia state championship meet tomorrow at Laidley field, Charleston.

The Parsons quartet of Ken Keller, Raleigh Cook, Dan Nestor and Don McIntyre was timed in 3 minutes and 35 seconds at Martinsburg. This is better than Huntington Central's 3:37.5 in the Charleston meet and East Fairmont's 3:51 at Elkins.

Glenn Burke, who made his debut on the mound for Fort Hill high school against Paw Paw on Wednesday had a no-run, no-hit game to his credit until the seventh and final inning when the Mountaineers collected their two bingles and lone tally, according to Prof. John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, coach of the Sentinels.

Jim Clara, Masontown high school baseball coach, yanked two of his players after they made miscues in the return game with LaSalle at Masontown Wednesday.

When he waved the first player to the bench, someone in the crowd yelled:

"Hey coach, give him sixteen lashes."

Matchmaker "Vic" Ricker tells the one about the night K.O. Yutzy, his crowd pleasing welterweight, hit an opponent so hard that he put out all the lights in Bedford, Pa.

The fight was being staged during an electrical storm and lightning and Yutzy apparently struck at the same time.

After Yutzy's foe was counted out, K.O. struggled to his corner in the dark and remarked:

"Gee Vic, I hit that guy so hard I put out all the lights in the town."

Paw Paw Opposes AHS Here; LaSalle Will Visit Hyndman

Beall high school, of Frostburg, tied with Allegany for first place in the Tri-State Interscholastic Baseball Conference, is scheduled to play Fort Hill's Sentinels in an important game today at 4 p. m., at Frostburg State Teachers' College field.

Coach Finzel's team has won four games and lost one, including a 7 to 1 decision over Fort Hill here. Lou Henry or Max Stowell will get the pitching assignment for Beall while Larry Hansrote or Paul Judy will toil on the firing line for Coach Cavanaugh's outfit.

Paw Paw Plays A.H.S.

Allegany will entertain Paw Paw high school today at Campobello if the diamond is in shape for the game. The game is scheduled for 4 p. m. The Campers won the opener at Paw Paw by the lop-sided score of 31 to 0 and should make a clean sweep of the series. Paw Paw has failed to win a game in seven starts.

In the third conference game of the day, LaSalle is slated to play at Hyndman. Pat Creegan pitched the Explorers to a 5-2 win over the Pennsylvanians in the opener here. Delaney and Shaffer will likely twirl in today's game.

The return game billed here yesterday between Hagerstown and Fort Hill was cancelled on account of rain and will not be played. Fort Hill made an effort to have Hagerstown play here at a later date but the principal of the latter school said that it would be impossible. Yesterday's downpour about 1 o'clock turned Fort Hill field into a quagmire. Some Hagerstown players came here but others were advised in time to keep them from making the trip.

Saturday Game Listed

Brother Matthew, moderator of LaSalle's baseball team yesterday announced that Allegany and LaSalle will play the first game of their series tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock at Community Park. The return game will be staged at Campobello on Tuesday, June 4.

Rain yesterday also forced the postponement of two City Baseball League games here between the Moose and American Legion and Queen City and Eagles.

Team Withdraws From Legion Loop

Corriganville Drops Out; Meeting Is Set for Monday Night

Corriganville has withdrawn its team from the American Legion Junior Baseball League and, an effort will be made to find another club to round out the six-team loop, W. H. Treiber, league secretary, announced last evening.

Keyser may be invited to join the league if it is agreeable to the other clubs, Treiber said.

With Corriganville out because it is unable to support a team, the five clubs now holding franchises are Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, Cumberland; Farrady Post No. 24, Frostburg; Memorial Post No. 159, Mt. Savage; Midland Post No. 169 and James P. Love Post No. 92, Lonaconing.

Treiber said that a meeting of all team managers and coaches has been called for Monday, May 20, at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Farrady Post, Frostburg. It will be the final meeting prior to the opening of the season the latter part of this month.

Lions Beat Kiwanis In Bowling Match

In a series of three bowling matches, the Cumberland Lions Club defeated the Cumberland Kiwanis Club by a total of 1,109 pins.

The final match was rolled Wednesday night on the Silver Lane alleys, Cresaptown, and the Lions chalked up a score of 9,337 to a mark of 9,114 for the Kiwanians. In the first two matches the Lions won by a total of 886 pins.

By virtue of their victory the Lions will be guests of the Kiwanians at a dinner.

Claim Win by Forfeit

The Cumberland Outdoor Club yesterday claimed a victory by the forfeit route over Fort Cumberland Post, American Legion, when the latter was unable to field a team for a Rocking Chair Softball League game at Campobello.

Management of the Outdoor Club reported the field was not too wet to play on and that only three Legion players put in their appearance while the Outdoor Club had a full team on hand.

All other games in the circuit were postponed on account of wet grounds.

St. Louis Cards Win on Cross's Steal of Home

Pinch Runner Breaks Up Ten Innings Contest at Boston, 9-8

BOSTON, May 16. (AP)—The pinch running Joff Cross stole home to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 10-inning 9-8 victory over the Boston Braves tonight before a 32,974 crowd. Much earlier Enos Slaughter had treated Mort Cooper, a bridegroom of a few hours, most harshly by clubbing him for consecutive homers with a runner on in each case. Box:

Mexican League Club Releases Carrasquel

MEXICO CITY, May 16 (AP)—Alejandro Carrasquel, former Chicago White Sox pitcher, was released today by the Vera Cruz Blues of the Mexican Baseball League, Mario Pasquel reported tonight.

The big Venezuelan righthander, for whom the White Sox paid $7,500 on waivers from the Washington Senators, then lost to Mexico, is at the disposal now of any other Mexican League team that may want him.

Mario Pasquel, brother of Jorge, president of the Blues and of the Mexican League, declined to comment on the terms of Carrasquel's contract. Last spring it was reported the chucker had signed a three-year contract.

COOPER KISSES HIS BRIDE

MORTON COOPER, 32, Boston Braves' pitcher, kisses his bride, Dee Smallwood, 25, of Norwood, Mo., after their wedding in Old South church yesterday in Boston. Several hours after the wedding ceremony Cooper pitched against his former teammates, the St. Louis Cardinals. During his six-inning stay on the rubber he was nicked for six hits, including consecutive homers by Enos Slaughter. Konstanty, Boston relief pitcher, was charged with the defeat when the Cards won in the tenth, 9-8.

MORT COOPER GETS MARRIED WITH HELP OF MANY FRIENDS

Boston Pitcher Runs Into Trouble but Ceremony Is Performed

BOSTON, May 16 (AP)—Big Mort Cooper, veteran right handed Boston Braves pitching star, was married today—but not without the help of city officials, reporters, news photographers, and, of course, his pretty bride, the former Miss Dee Smallwood, 25, of Norwood, Mo.

The summary:

(1) Early today, Cooper found that his plans to be married in historic Old North church had to be changed.

(2) He succeeded in scheduling a wedding ceremony in the Old South church in Copley Square for 2:45 p. m. (E.D.T.)

(3) When he and Miss Smallwood applied for their marriage license later in the day, Cooper was told he needed a five-day waiver.

(4) City officials—baseball fans most of them—came to his aid. He got the waiver.

(5) Then someone remembered that Massachusetts law also required a blood test. Reporters and photographers assigned to cover the wedding joined the pleas of Cooper and Miss Smallwood that an immediate test be made. It was.

(6) At 3:30 p. m. (E.D.T.)—nearly an hour late, the handsome Cooper and his bride-to-be walked one block from their hotel to the church, followed by his manager and best man, Billy Southworth, Maid of Honor Miss Genevieve O'Neil, of Boston, his ushers, Outfielder Johnny Hopp and First Baseman Ray Sanders, reporters and photographers.

(7) Then he was married.

Terps Enter Seventeen In Track, Field Meet

COLLEGE PARK, Md., May 16 (AP)—A squad of seventeen will represent the University of Maryland at the annual Southern Conference track and field meet at Chapel Hill, N. C., tomorrow and Saturday.

Two or more College Parkers will compete in each of the fifteen events except in the 100-yard dash, where Jim O'Steen will go it alone, and in the discuss, in which Nick Kozay will be the lone Old Liner tosser.

Stars of the Maryland contingent are Ed Matthews, who competes in the 440, mile relay and broad jump; Jim Devlin, a half-miler, and Jim Kurz, who heaved the shot 45 feet, 8¾ inches against Navy last week.

Emil Leonard, Washington knuckleballer, topped the American League in losses in 1940 when he dropped 19 decisions while winning 14 times.

SPORTS BRIEFS

(By The Associated Press)

WEST POINT, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—Al Nemetz, All-American tackle on the army football team last fall, is recovering today from a broken collarbone suffered in the Cadets' lacrosse contest with the University of Maryland last week.

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—Bill Johnston, promoter for the Zenith Athletic Club, said today he had arranged a 10-round non-title bout involving Ike Williams of Trenton, N. J., NBA lightweight champion, and Bobby Ruffin of New York, for June 12 in Ebbets field.

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—Vince DiMaggio, outfielder obtained by the New York Giants in the three-cornered deal that sent Catcher Clyde Kluttz to the St. Louis Cardinals, still has not made a hit since joining his new team.

As of today DiMaggio has been at bat 22 times without a blow and currently is hitting .095 for the entire season.

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth N. Graham's Beaugay and Jean Miracle, survivors of the stable fire in Chicago on the eve of the Kentucky Derby, have arrived at Belmont. The stable said today that Doug Dodson would ride Lord Boswell in the Withers mile Saturday.

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—A team of eight amateur United States boxers will sail from Boston tomorrow on the Ile de France for bouts in London, May 29 and Paris June 2. It is possible the team also may appear in Italy, Germany, Ireland and Scotland.

Boxers making the trip are: 112-pound—John Arduini of Washington; 118-pound—Keith Hamilton of New Orleans; 126-pound—E. Leo Kelley of Pittsburgh; 135-pound—George McGee of Baltimore; 147-pound—Roscoe Henson of New York; 160-pound—Cpl. Harold Anspach, Cherry Point, N. C., Marines; 175-pound—John Tucker of Columbus, Ohio; and heavyweight—Charles Lester of Cleveland.

Woodward, Okla., May 16 (AP)—Blonde Bob Fenimore, Oklahoma Aggie football star who has been twice chosen in All America back, will report for induction into the armed forces May 29, his draft board chairman said today.

Charley Ruffing of the Yankees led the American League in strikeouts in 1932 when he fanned 190 batters.

Big Jack Kramer Shuts Out Bosox In Night Game

Browns' Twirler Tosses Three-Hit Contest To Win, 3 to 0

ST. LOUIS, May 16 (AP)—Big Jack Kramer prolonged the Boston Red Sox's batting slump tonight by holding the league leaders to three hits as the St. Louis Browns triumphed 3-0 to slash the lead of the Crohinmen to five games over the idle New York Yankees.

Only thirty-one men faced the Brownie righthander as he set the Red Sox down in order in five innings and did not allow a runner to reach third until the ninth. It was Kramer's second victory against no losses.

Joe Dobson, trying for his fifth straight mound success, yielded only five safeties, but the Browns piled Chet Laabs's single, Johnny Berardino's double and Walt Judnich's one baser on top of another after two were out in the first inning and chased in two runs. Box:

Mountaineer Gridders Will Play Syracuse In Homecoming Game

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., May 16 (AP)—West Virginia University's annual homecoming football game will be played against Syracuse university next October 26, Athletic Director Roy M. (Legs) Hanley announced today.

Hawley also announced postponement from Saturday until next Tuesday of the Mountaineer golfers' match here with Westminster college. The delay was made at the request of the Titans.

League Hears Facts About Two Games

Facts on the Mt. Savage-Eagles game of Sunday, which ended in the third inning when two umpires engaged in an argument, and the Saturday game which Moorefield forfeited to Fulton Myers Post, were heard last night at a meeting of the Interstate Baseball League in the Central YMCA, but no action was taken, John J. Long, president, reported.

A decision in each case may be announced today, he added.

Football Rams Hire Own Broadcaster

LOS ANGELES, May 16. (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams, late of Cleveland and 1945 National Football League champions, have hired their own sportscaster to broadcast all their games this fall.

He's Bob Kelley, former Cleveland announcer and one-time secretary of the Rams. He broadcast the Rams' games in 1943 before entering the Navy. He is slated to do both home and road games.

Bat for Curved Balls

CARTHAGE, Mo., May 16. (AP)—Charlie Slater's customers thought he was joking when he described a baseball bat designed especially to hit curve balls.

To satisfy the skeptics Charlie exhibited the bat in his grocery store window. He said it was made at the turn of the century with the idea that if the ball curved the bat should curve too.

Ralph Guldahl's 279 made in 1939 still stands as the record for the Masters golf tournament at Augusta, Ga.

MIDGET LEAGUE OF SIX CLUBS WILL OPEN SEASON NEXT WEEK

Games Set for Monday, Wednesday, Friday at Stitcher Field

The Midget Baseball League will launch its 1946 season next Monday when Mower's Bakery plays the Lover's Leap Service Station at Stitcher field at 5:30 p. m., Harold E. Naughton, president of the circuit, announced last night.

Gephart will cross bats with the DeMolay tossers on Wednesday while on Friday Mapleside will meet Jerry's Confectionery. These games also will be played in Stitcher field with 5:30 o'clock as the starting time.

Lover's Leap, DeMolay and Jerry's will be the home teams in the opening games.

President Naughton said that there are six teams in the circuit at the present time and an application for a berth in the loop has been received from a seventh club.

Each team in the six-club circuit will play a schedule of twenty games—ten in each half of the split season. Winners of the first and second half will meet at the close of the season in a series of games for the championship.

Rosters of all teams, accompanied by forfeit fees of $20, must be in the hands of Joseph Arnone, league treasurer, 710 North Mechanic street, by May 18.

All-Star College Nines Will Clash in Boston

BOSTON, May 16 (AP)—An all-star college baseball game, between teams representing the East and the Midwest, will be played at Fenway Park on Friday, June 14.

The contest, to be matched by a similar event on the west coast, will be a forerunner of a national all-star game to be played in 1947.

The announcement was made today by Everett D. "Eppy" Barnes of Colgate, through the American League Boston Red Sox, who have contributed the use of their ball park.

The teams will be composed of twenty-two men chosen from each area by a selection committee of the coaches' association.

Nominations by the coaches are being forwarded to John Kobs of Michigan State for the Midwest and to Jack Coffey of Fordham for the eastern team.

Physician Chosen

PITTSBURGH, May 16. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League today announced appointment of Dr. Ralph N. Dougherty, former star center of the University of Pittsburgh, as team physician. Dougherty, a native of Freeport, Pa., now resides in nearby McKeesport, where he is a member of the McKeesport Hospital staff.

When K.O. Put Lights Out

By C. V. BURNS

Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion, seems to be more concerned about his victrola and some new records for it than his title defense against Billy Conn next month, according to Gene Roman, one-time Western Maryland Railway brakeman, and local boxer, who now operates a wholesale grocery firm in Paterson, N. J., in addition to refereeing fights for the New Jersey State Athletic Commission.

Roman furnishes groceries to the camp of the champion at Pompton Lakes, N. J., and also the camp of the challenger at Greenwood Lake, which is eighteen miles from Paterson.

"Wouldn't mind having those kind of orders the year around," Gene writes.

"Yesterday, Louis asked me to pick up some 1940 victrola records for him and to get him a good supply of fruit juices. He drinks 1½ to 2 quarts of fruit juices daily. Joe is up every morning at 5:30, hits the road and has breakfast about ten and doesn't eat again until 5 p. m. Two meals a day is his limit.

"Was at the Louis camp Sunday—which is only six miles from my place—and spent the afternoon with the champion and Mike Jacobs. Louis has some fast sparring partners, boys who can jab and get away. In fact, I think that's what he wants them to do so he can catch up with them and brother, when he does—well you know.

"At Greenwood Lake, I saw Conn in training. Billy is strictly Fancy Dan. He jabs, feints and steps away. Well, he might have the right idea if Joe will let him get away with it.

"Lewis Burton, writing in the New York Journal of May 6 disagrees with me when I say Conn is a hooker. I have seen him work several times since he came here and it has been jabbing and feinting. But as far as Louis is concerned it won't make a lot of difference. "Joe wants to weigh no less than 206 pounds for his match with Conn."

Sam Graham, commander of Fort Cumberland Post, wanted to know if the Legion team was entitled to a technical knockout in two rounds when Clarence "Cannonball" Smith, manager-pitcher of Fulton Myers Post, failed to come out for the third round after hurling two scoreless innings in Sunday's game at Community Park.

"You see, Sam has witnessed so many boxing matches during the past six months that he got the rules of the two sports confused.

Sammy DeLuca, the former United States Marine, who won two of the biggest money matches of the 1946 duckpin season, will not consider any more challenges until next season.

"The 1946 duckpin season is closed as far as I am concerned," Sammy declared. "The winter months are the best for bowling and it's too warm for that sport now."

Sammy believes in having the mazdas shine on him indoors in the winter and Old Sol to beam on him outdoors in the summer. He's a member of the Frostburg American Legion team of the Bi-State Baseball League.

Someone is always taking the joy out of life.

Just when Matchmaker "Vic" Ricker was throwing his chest out the window following his last professional show of five knockouts in as many bouts, comes the report from Akron, Ohio, that the same thing was duplicated in the Ohio city on Wednesday night. Lee Savold stopped Bob Gardner in the second round of the scheduled 10-round feature, after the losers in the previous bouts on the card were kayoed.

The "take" of the Boston Red Sox for their three-game series with the Yanks in New York was $44,000. The series attracted 176,000 cash patrons. The visiting club nets about twenty-five cents on each paid admission.

Parsons high school's relay team, which romped to victory in the Martinsburg sectional meet last Saturday looks like a good bet in the West Virginia state championship meet tomorrow at Laidley field, Charleston.

The Parsons quartet of Ken Keller, Raleigh Cook, Dan Nestor and Don McIntyre was timed in 3 minutes and 35 seconds at Martinsburg. This is better than Huntington Central's 3:37.5 in the Charleston meet and East Fairmont's 3:51 at Elkins.

Glenn Burke, who made his debut on the mound for Fort Hill high school against Paw Paw on Wednesday had a no-run, no-hit game to his credit until the seventh and final inning when the Mountaineers collected their two bingles and lone tally, according to Prof. John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh, coach of the Sentinels.

Jim Clara, Masontown high school baseball coach, yanked two of his players after they made miscues in the return game with LaSalle at Masontown Wednesday.

When he waved the first player to the bench, someone in the crowd yelled:

"Hey coach, give him sixteen lashes."

Matchmaker "Vic" Ricker tells the one about the night K.O. Yutzy, his crowd pleasing welterweight, hit an opponent so hard that he put out all the lights in Bedford, Pa.

The fight was being staged during an electrical storm and lightning and Yutzy apparently struck at the same time.

After Yutzy's foe was counted out, K.O. struggled to his corner in the dark and remarked:

"Gee Vic, I hit that guy so hard I put out all the lights in the town."

Paw Paw Opposes AHS Here; LaSalle Will Visit Hyndman

Beall high school, of Frostburg, tied with Allegany for first place in the Tri-State Interscholastic Baseball Conference, is scheduled to play Fort Hill's Sentinels in an important game today at 4 p. m., at Frostburg State Teachers' College field.

Coach Finzel's team has won four games and lost one, including a 7 to 1 decision over Fort Hill here. Lou Henry or Max Stowell will get the pitching assignment for Beall while Larry Hansrote or Paul Judy will toil on the firing line for Coach Cavanaugh's outfit.

Paw Paw Plays A.H.S.

Allegany will entertain Paw Paw high school today at Campobello if the diamond is in shape for the game. The game is scheduled for 4 p. m. The Campers won the opener at Paw Paw by the lop-sided score of 31 to 0 and should make a clean sweep of the series. Paw Paw has failed to win a game in seven starts.

In the third conference game of the day, LaSalle is slated to play at Hyndman. Pat Creegan pitched the Explorers to a 5-2 win over the Pennsylvanians in the opener here. Delaney and Shaffer will likely twirl in today's game.

The return game billed here yesterday between Hagerstown and Fort Hill was cancelled on account of rain and will not be played. Fort Hill made an effort to have Hagerstown play here at a later date but the principal of the latter school said that it would be impossible. Yesterday's downpour about 1 o'clock turned Fort Hill field into a quagmire. Some Hagerstown players came here but others were advised in time to keep them from making the trip.

Saturday Game Listed

Brother Matthew, moderator of LaSalle's baseball team yesterday announced that Allegany and LaSalle will play the first game of their series tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock at Community Park. The return game will be staged at Campobello on Tuesday, June 4.

Rain yesterday also forced the postponement of two City Baseball League games here between the Moose and American Legion and Queen City and Eagles.

Team Withdraws From Legion Loop

Corriganville Drops Out; Meeting Is Set for Monday Night

Corriganville has withdrawn its team from the American Legion Junior Baseball League and, an effort will be made to find another club to round out the six-team loop, W. H. Treiber, league secretary, announced last evening.

Keyser may be invited to join the league if it is agreeable to the other clubs, Treiber said.

With Corriganville out because it is unable to support a team, the five clubs now holding franchises are Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, Cumberland; Farrady Post No. 24, Frostburg; Memorial Post No. 159, Mt. Savage; Midland Post No. 169 and James P. Love Post No. 92, Lonaconing.

Treiber said that a meeting of all team managers and coaches has been called for Monday, May 20, at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Farrady Post, Frostburg. It will be the final meeting prior to the opening of the season the latter part of this month.

Lions Beat Kiwanis In Bowling Match

In a series of three bowling matches, the Cumberland Lions Club defeated the Cumberland Kiwanis Club by a total of 1,109 pins.

The final match was rolled Wednesday night on the Silver Lane alleys, Cresaptown, and the Lions chalked up a score of 9,337 to a mark of 9,114 for the Kiwanians. In the first two matches the Lions won by a total of 886 pins.

By virtue of their victory the Lions will be guests of the Kiwanians at a dinner.

Claim Win by Forfeit

The Cumberland Outdoor Club yesterday claimed a victory by the forfeit route over Fort Cumberland Post, American Legion, when the latter was unable to field a team for a Rocking Chair Softball League game at Campobello.

Management of the Outdoor Club reported the field was not too wet to play on and that only three Legion players put in their appearance while the Outdoor Club had a full team on hand.

All other games in the circuit were postponed on account of wet grounds.

St. Louis Cards Win on Cross's Steal of Home

Pinch Runner Breaks Up Ten Innings Contest at Boston, 9-8

BOSTON, May 16. (AP)—The pinch running Joff Cross stole home to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 10-inning 9-8 victory over the Boston Braves tonight before a 32,974 crowd. Much earlier Enos Slaughter had treated Mort Cooper, a bridegroom of a few hours, most harshly by clubbing him for consecutive homers with a runner on in each case. Box:

Mexican League Club Releases Carrasquel

MEXICO CITY, May 16 (AP)—Alejandro Carrasquel, former Chicago White Sox pitcher, was released today by the Vera Cruz Blues of the Mexican Baseball League, Mario Pasquel reported tonight.

The big Venezuelan righthander, for whom the White Sox paid $7,500 on waivers from the Washington Senators, then lost to Mexico, is at the disposal now of any other Mexican League team that may want him.

Mario Pasquel, brother of Jorge, president of the Blues and of the Mexican League, declined to comment on the terms of Carrasquel's contract. Last spring it was reported the chucker had signed a three-year contract.

COOPER KISSES HIS BRIDE

MORTON COOPER, 32, Boston Braves' pitcher, kisses his bride, Dee Smallwood, 25, of Norwood, Mo., after their wedding in Old South church yesterday in Boston. Several hours after the wedding ceremony Cooper pitched against his former teammates, the St. Louis Cardinals. During his six-inning stay on the rubber he was nicked for six hits, including consecutive homers by Enos Slaughter. Konstanty, Boston relief pitcher, was charged with the defeat when the Cards won in the tenth, 9-8.

MORT COOPER GETS MARRIED WITH HELP OF MANY FRIENDS

Boston Pitcher Runs Into Trouble but Ceremony Is Performed

BOSTON, May 16 (AP)—Big Mort Cooper, veteran right handed Boston Braves pitching star, was married today—but not without the help of city officials, reporters, news photographers, and, of course, his pretty bride, the former Miss Dee Smallwood, 25, of Norwood, Mo.

The summary:

(1) Early today, Cooper found that his plans to be married in historic Old North church had to be changed.

(2) He succeeded in scheduling a wedding ceremony in the Old South church in Copley Square for 2:45 p. m. (E.D.T.)

(3) When he and Miss Smallwood applied for their marriage license later in the day, Cooper was told he needed a five-day waiver.

(4) City officials—baseball fans most of them—came to his aid. He got the waiver.

(5) Then someone remembered that Massachusetts law also required a blood test. Reporters and photographers assigned to cover the wedding joined the pleas of Cooper and Miss Smallwood that an immediate test be made. It was.

(6) At 3:30 p. m. (E.D.T.)—nearly an hour late, the handsome Cooper and his bride-to-be walked one block from their hotel to the church, followed by his manager and best man, Billy Southworth, Maid of Honor Miss Genevieve O'Neil, of Boston, his ushers, Outfielder Johnny Hopp and First Baseman Ray Sanders, reporters and photographers.

(7) Then he was married.

Terps Enter Seventeen In Track, Field Meet

COLLEGE PARK, Md., May 16 (AP)—A squad of seventeen will represent the University of Maryland at the annual Southern Conference track and field meet at Chapel Hill, N. C., tomorrow and Saturday.

Two or more College Parkers will compete in each of the fifteen events except in the 100-yard dash, where Jim O'Steen will go it alone, and in the discuss, in which Nick Kozay will be the lone Old Liner tosser.

Stars of the Maryland contingent are Ed Matthews, who competes in the 440, mile relay and broad jump; Jim Devlin, a half-miler, and Jim Kurz, who heaved the shot 45 feet, 8¾ inches against Navy last week.

Emil Leonard, Washington knuckleballer, topped the American League in losses in 1940 when he dropped 19 decisions while winning 14 times.

SPORTS BRIEFS

(By The Associated Press)

WEST POINT, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—Al Nemetz, All-American tackle on the army football team last fall, is recovering today from a broken collarbone suffered in the Cadets' lacrosse contest with the University of Maryland last week.

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—Bill Johnston, promoter for the Zenith Athletic Club, said today he had arranged a 10-round non-title bout involving Ike Williams of Trenton, N. J., NBA lightweight champion, and Bobby Ruffin of New York, for June 12 in Ebbets field.

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—Vince DiMaggio, outfielder obtained by the New York Giants in the three-cornered deal that sent Catcher Clyde Kluttz to the St. Louis Cardinals, still has not made a hit since joining his new team.

As of today DiMaggio has been at bat 22 times without a blow and currently is hitting .095 for the entire season.

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth N. Graham's Beaugay and Jean Miracle, survivors of the stable fire in Chicago on the eve of the Kentucky Derby, have arrived at Belmont. The stable said today that Doug Dodson would ride Lord Boswell in the Withers mile Saturday.

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—A team of eight amateur United States boxers will sail from Boston tomorrow on the Ile de France for bouts in London, May 29 and Paris June 2. It is possible the team also may appear in Italy, Germany, Ireland and Scotland.

Boxers making the trip are: 112-pound—John Arduini of Washington; 118-pound—Keith Hamilton of New Orleans; 126-pound—E. Leo Kelley of Pittsburgh; 135-pound—George McGee of Baltimore; 147-pound—Roscoe Henson of New York; 160-pound—Cpl. Harold Anspach, Cherry Point, N. C., Marines; 178-pound—John Tucker of Columbus, Ohio; and heavyweight—Charles Lester of Cleveland.

Woodward, Okla., May 16 (AP)—Blonde Bob Fenimore, Oklahoma Aggie football star who has been twice chosen in All America back, will report for induction into the armed forces May 29, his draft board chairman said today.

Charley Ruffing of the Yankees led the American League in strikeouts in 1932 when he fanned 190 batters.

Big Jack Kramer Shuts Out Bosox In Night Game

Browns' Twirler Tosses Three-Hit Contest To Win, 3 to 0

ST. LOUIS, May 16 (AP)—Big Jack Kramer prolonged the Boston Red Sox's batting slump tonight by holding the league leaders to three hits as the St. Louis Browns triumphed 3-0 to slash the lead of the Crohinmen to five games over the idle New York Yankees.

Only thirty-one men faced the Brownie righthander as he set the Red Sox down in order in five innings and did not allow a runner to reach third until the ninth. It was Kramer's second victory against no losses.

Joe Dobson, trying for his fifth straight mound success, yielded only five safeties, but the Browns piled Chet Laabs's single, Johnny Berardino's double and Walt Judnich's one baser on top of another after two were out in the first inning and chased in two runs. Box:

Mountaineer Gridders Will Play Syracuse In Homecoming Game

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., May 16 (AP)—West Virginia University's annual homecoming football game will be played against Syracuse university next October 26, Athletic Director Roy M. (Legs) Hanley announced today.

Hawley also announced postponement from Saturday until next Tuesday of the Mountaineer golfers' match here with Westminster college. The delay was made at the request of the Titans.

League Hears Facts About Two Games

Facts on the Mt. Savage-Eagles game of Sunday, which ended in the third inning when two umpires engaged in an argument, and the Saturday game which Moorefield forfeited to Fulton Myers Post, were heard last night at a meeting of the Interstate Baseball League in the Central YMCA, but no action was taken, John J. Long, president, reported.

A decision in each case may be announced today, he added.

Football Rams Hire Own Broadcaster

LOS ANGELES, May 16. (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams, late of Cleveland and 1945 National Football League champions, have hired their own sportscaster to broadcast all their games this fall.

He's Bob Kelley, former Cleveland announcer and one-time secretary of the Rams. He broadcast the Rams' games in 1943 before entering the Navy. He is slated to do both home and road games.

Bat for Curved Balls

CARTHAGE, Mo., May 16. (AP)—Charlie Slater's customers thought he was joking when he described a baseball bat designed especially to hit curve balls.

To satisfy the skeptics Charlie exhibited the bat in his grocery store window. He said it was made at the turn of the century with the idea that if the ball curved the bat should curve too.

Ralph Guldahl's 279 made in 1939 still stands as the record for the Masters golf tournament at Augusta, Ga.

All-Star College Nines Will Clash in Boston

BOSTON, May 16 (AP)—An all-star college baseball game, between teams representing the East and the Midwest, will be played at Fenway Park on Friday, June 14.

The contest, to be matched by a similar event on the west coast, will be a forerunner of a national all-star game to be played in 1947.

The announcement was made today by Everett D. "Eppy" Barnes of Colgate, through the American League Boston Red Sox, who have contributed the use of their ball park.

The teams will be composed of twenty-two men chosen from each area by a selection committee of the coaches' association.

Nominations by the coaches are being forwarded to John Kobs of Michigan State for the Midwest and to Jack Coffey of Fordham for the eastern team.

Games Set for Monday, Wednesday, Friday at Stitcher Field

The Midget Baseball League will launch its 1946 season next Monday when Mower's Bakery plays the Lover's Leap Service Station at Stitcher field at 5:30 p. m., Harold E. Naughton, president of the circuit, announced last night.

Gephart will cross bats with the DeMolay tossers on Wednesday while on Friday Mapleside will meet Jerry's Confectionery. These games also will be played in Stitcher field with 5:30 o'clock as the starting time.

Lover's Leap, DeMolay and Jerry's will be the home teams in the opening games.

President Naughton said that there are six teams in the circuit at the present time and an application for a berth in the loop has been received from a seventh club.

Each team in the six-club circuit will play a schedule of twenty games—ten in each half of the split season. Winners of the first and second half will meet at the close of the season in a series of games for the championship.

Rosters of all teams, accompanied by forfeit fees of $20, must be in the hands of Joseph Arnone, league treasurer, 710 North Mechanic street, by May 18.

Physician Chosen

PITTSBURGH, May 16. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League today announced appointment of Dr. Ralph N. Dougherty, former star center of the University of Pittsburgh, as team physician. Dougherty, a native of Freeport, Pa., now resides in nearby McKeesport, where he is a member of the McKeesport Hospital staff.

16,000 WILL SEE MAURIELLO AND WOODCOCK FIGHT TONIGHT

By GRANTLAND RICE

The British Heavyweight Test

Will the long-missing claws and fangs be returned to the British Lion in the heavyweight set? We'll get the answer at Madison Square Garden, tonight, when Bruce Woodcock, the invading delegate from the land of the Union Jack, exchanges rights, lefts and chin resistance with Tami Mauriello, a pretty good rough-and-tumble entry from the United States.

Tami Mauriello

When one looks back to the days of Bombardier Wells, Horizontal Beckett and Phainting Phil Scott, he gets some idea of the crushing burden British Bruce carries in his two hands, plus his chin — especially his chin. Both Wells and Scott were good boxers, the Bombardier being a stinging puncher as well; but neither could take a good lightweight's punch, aimed at either jaw or stomach.

Few remember that Wells had Carpentier on the floor four times in three rounds before the Frenchman tagged him, and that he had a stout American heavyweight completely out in one round until Tex O'Reilly revived his man with a double shot of ammonia and brandy. One punch ended Wells in the second. It wasn't so much a question of courage — it was a matter of chin and stomach resistance, a matter in which British heavyweights have been morbidly weak in the past. Their slogan always has been: "It is better to give than to receive."

Tommy Farr was the lone Britisher who proved he could take it, standing up for 15 rounds against Joe Louis. There was, at least, nothing brittle about Tommy Farr—he bruised, but not easily.

Bruce Woodcock's job tonight will be to prove that he can both throw and take punches; that he can make a fight of it, win, lose or draw. He will have no soft evening against Mauriello, even though Tapping Tami is far from being the greatest heavyweight of all time. But Mauriello is game enough, he can punch, he can take a punch and he knows what it is all about, being far more experienced against pretty fair heavyweights than is Woodcock.

Mauriello is not going to beat any great fighter; but he can make a simian wonder out of an ordinary entry who can't defend himself or take his share of shellacking. Tami can make a second-rater look like a fourth-rater, but against a top-notcher he would make few headlines.

About Bruce Woodcock

"How good is Bruce Woodcock?" I asked Eddie Eagan, chairman of the New York State Boxing Commission.

"Woodcock," he said, "is a pretty fair boxer. He is a good, hard puncher. I should say his main weakness is protecting himself, especially around the head. As far as I can tell, he is game enough and he can take a punch. As an amateur and as a professional, I understand, he has had at least 400 fights, but most of many of these were as an amateur or against second-rate fighters.

"On the other hand, while he has met the best man available, I doubt that he ever has met as good and as experienced an all-around fighter as Mauriello. In my opinion, he can be dangerous, with at least a chance to win. He would have had a better chance if he had been able to meet one or two better fighters abroad before taking this trip. But anyone who can punch as Woodcock can punch always has a chance."

It is generally understood that this Woodcock-Mauriello meeting may have a close connection with a later heavyweight championship bout — especially if Louis stops Conn. In that case, Mike Jacobs will need a September challenger.

It also is well known that Mauriello could have been a much better fighter than he is today if he only had been willing to train, work and keep in better condition. This time, Mauriello apparently has taken a big fight seriously. He feels that if he can check out the British champion in a few rounds, and Louis can stop Billy Conn, the September show might well be a Louis-Mauriello party.

On the other side, Woodcock has the same opening if he can beat Mauriello, at least one of the better trial horses. In that case, a Louis-Woodcock meeting would be another sellout. This plan will run into a snag, however, if Conn whips Louis. A Conn victory would call for a third Louis-Conn contest early in the fall, this being the present understanding, and Louis could say that he wasn't ready for the June show.

Mike takes few chances. In case anything of an untoward nature happens to Billy Conn, he knows that he will have to ready a substitute for September—a substitute that he may be able to pluck from tonight's fight, in case either shows anything at all. So Woodcock and Mauriello will enter the ring dreaming of a chance to meet Joe Louis, where even the loser's end would reach the $500,000 mark. This is partly surmise, but it is a pretty close guess and a logical one.

New York Heavyweight Bout May Attract $100,000 Gate

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—Bruce Woodcock, the fighting Yorkshireman who holds the British Empire heavyweight championship, hopes to upset tradition tomorrow night in his 10-round Madison Square Garden bout with Tami Mauriello of New York by becoming the first English "name" heavy to win his first bout in the United States.

Although British boxing prestige was slightly damaged Tuesday when Gus Lesnevich stopped Freddie Mills to retain his lightheavyweight crown, Woodcock is determined to erase the popular American notion that English heavyweights can't fight.

Woodcock, with a stunning record of twenty-four knockouts in 25 pro fights, figures he will be able to make American fans forget such predecessors as Charley Mitchell, Bombardier Wells, Phil Scott and Tommy Farr, who was a capable performer but never a winner in five starts.

Although neither Woodcock nor Mauriello ever has been knocked out, the boxing experts believe the contest will end short of the 10-round limit.

The Britisher's best stock in trade is a short right hand under the heart after throwing a left jab. Mauriello fights best when stung and had made his most impressive showings after getting up from the floor.

Lured by the first international heavyweight scrap in years and the return of boxing to the Garden after a seven-week absence while the circus held the floor, a near-capacity crowd of 16,000 is expected to dump $100,000 into Mike Jacobs's till for the show.

Schneiter Takes Lead in Houston Golf Tournament

Utah Golfer Posts 67; Byron Nelson Gets 72 and Hogan 73

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 16. (AP) -Affable George Schneiter, a nervous young man from Ogden, Utah, clipped par by three strokes today to shoot a 32-35—67 and lead the $15,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament first round.

Deadly on the greens but obviously a little excited to take the first leg on what may be his first major links championship, Schneiter came in with a two-stroke lead over the selected field of twenty-four professionals and five amateurs.

In second place was gay little Toney Penna of Cincinnati, who has won one tournament along the PGA trail this year — the Richmond, Calif., open. Penna had a 69 and was two strokes to the good over Amateur Wilford Wehrle of Louisville, Harry Todd of Dallas, Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va., and Bob Hamilton of Chicago.

Favorite Byron Nelson spent too much time in the water and wound up with a 72.

Another favorite, Ben Hogan, found Colonial Country Club's 6,952 yards difficult to negotiate and he had three-over-par 73. Ben was pulling his tee shots and overshooting the greens.

Tied with Nelson at 72 were Dick Metz of Chicago, Herman Keiser of Akron, O.; Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., Harold McSpaden of Sanford, Maine, and Johnny Bulla of Chicago. Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, Jimmie Demaret of Houston, Vic Ghezzi of Knoxville, and Ellsworth Vines of Chicago were 73 shooters along with Hogan.

"Red" Mauk's Boxers Land Bouts May 24 At St. Michael, Pa.

Approximately six amateur boxers representing the South End Athletic Club will appear in the show to be staged at St. Michael, Pa., Friday, May 24, it was announced yesterday by Presley W. "Red" Mauk, sponsor of the local club.

Those who will likely get an opportunity to show their fistic wares on the Pennsylvania card are Pat Murphy, 122; Bobby Goss, 105; Edgar Tucker, 135; Dick Clay, 148; Mike Leslie, 135, and Big Ben Pough, 160.

Boxers of the South End Athletic Club have engaged in seventeen matches this season and captured the team trophy in the recent tri-state tournament sponsored by Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion.

Frank J. Burke is promoter of the St. Michael show.

Ruth Predicts Organized Ball Will Take Back Barred Players

Recalls Federal League Days when "Jumpers" Came Back

MEXICO CITY, May 16 (AP) — Babe Ruth arrived in Mexico today to look over the baseball situation, and predicted that players barred from organized ball for jumping to the Mexican League will be received again with open arms.

The former Sultan of Swat recalled that after he broke into the major leagues at a $600 annual salary in 1914, he refused a $20,000 offer from the old Federal league "because they said I would be barred from baseball forever."

Ruth added: "When the Federal league folded organized ball took all the players back.

"In the same way, organized ball will take back any time all the really good players now banned for playing in the Mexican league."

Informed that a Mexican league attorney charged in a New York court case this morning that United States baseball is a "monopoly," Ruth commented: "I think he's got something there."

Ruth said the suits brought by major league clubs seeking to prevent the Mexican league players from inducing their players to come here are "unnecessary."

"Why bring it up?" he asked. "Any United States player could still write to Pasquel (Jorge Pasquel, Mexican league president) and offer his services for more pay. The only thing those suits will do is to expose organized ball's contracts with the controversial reserve clause to the courts."

Ruth said he had not been offered a Mexican league post, and knew nothing of reports that he might be asked to become high commissioner of the Mexican league.

Ruth nodded, however, when asked if he would accept a major league managerial job.

"But they don't want me there," he asserted.

General Pruitt, Clemson first baseman, was with a field artillery group in England, Africa, Sicily and Italy for 35 months and won six battle stars. General is his first name.

17 Collect $1,227 On "Daily Double"

SAN MATEO, Calif., May 16 (AP)—A daily double of $1,227.50 was registered for seventeen lucky ticket holders on the first and second races at Bay Meadows today.

The first race winner, was Four-Six-One, ridden by Grant Zufelt, which returned $28.30, $12.80 and $5.80 across the board.

Phoebe J., with Arlin Bassett up, won the second race, returning $67.90, $24.00 and $12.40 for win, place and show.

GUILD'S REQUEST SURPRISES FRISCH AND BENSWANGER

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—President William E. Benswanger of the Pittsburgh Pirates said today he would "consider" the American Baseball Guild's request for negotiations but asserted he had "no information from any of the players on whether they have a bargaining representative or even want one."

After the club returns to Pittsburgh next Friday, we will investigate the situation," stated Benswanger. "Right now I wouldn't know what to say. The whole thing comes as a complete surprise."

Manager Frank Frisch at his New Rochelle, N. Y., home said "it was a surprise to me. I have nothing to say about it."

Although none of the Pittsburgh Players wished to go on record, there was plenty of hotel lobby conversation to the effect that Robert Murphy, prime mover of the player union, was "about right" when he said last night that "more than 90 per cent of the players" belong to the Guild.

One prominent Pirate, who preferred to remain anonymous, said "this thing has been brewing for a long time. I don't know what will come out of it but I think the players should get more money. That $7,500 minimum seems fair enough to me. I'm in complete sympathy with the movement."

American Player Contracts Illegal, Mexicans Charge

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP) — The Mexican League fired back at organized baseball with both barrels today, charging in the New York Supreme Court that American player contracts were "monopolistic, unconscionable, illegal and against public policy," and that players who signed them were held "in peonage for life."

The charge was levelled by Jerome Hess, counsel for Jorge Pasquel and the Mexican League, in opposing an action by the New York Yankees to permanently restrain the Latin league and its agents from trying to induce Yankee players to repudiate their contracts and perform below the border.

In a sometimes heated exchange between counsel, Hess sought a separate trial of whether baseball contracts were monopolistic, while Mark T. Hughes, representing the Yankees, was equally insistent that Justice Julian Miller should grant the requested injunction against the Mexican leaguers irrespective of the monopoly angle.

Decision Is Reserved

In the end Justice Miller reserved decision on both motions, but strongly indicated that he thought the whole thing should be fought out in one trial, the earlier the better.

"Monopoly is our defense, and this case will be tried right down to the end, until every scintilla of evidence has been introduced," Hess told the court. "Let there be no doubt of that."

He demanded that in advance of the trial the Yankees supply him with a copy of one of their contracts, and this they agreed to do.

At a one point, when Hess declared that baseball contracts were so onesided that they could not be enforced by a court of equity, Justice Miller interrupted to ask incredulously: "Do you really claim that these are illegal contracts?"

Hess assured him that he did, and read a decision of the New York Supreme Court in 1914, in a case involving Hal Chase, Yankee first baseman, where it said it would not enforce a "monopolistic contract."

"Chattels" Charge Made

Hughes, Yankee counsel, pointed out repeatedly that no Yankee players were complaining about the "reserve" clause in their contracts, which the Mexican leaguers said made them "chattels" for life, completely at the whim of their owners.

Asked by Justice Miller if the contracts as now written were a vital part of the baseball structure, Hughes assured him that "the great American game as we know it will be destroyed" if the present contract were declared illegal.

Another favorite, Ben Hogan, found Colonial Country Club's 6,952 yards difficult to negotiate and he had three-over-par 73. Ben was pulling his tee shots and overshooting the greens.

Tied with Nelson at 72 were Dick Metz of Chicago, Herman Keiser of Akron, O.; Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., Harold McSpaden of Sanford, Maine, and Johnny Bulla of Chicago. Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, Jimmie Demaret of Houston, Vic Ghezzi of Knoxville, and Ellsworth Vines of Chicago were 73 shooters along with Hogan.

"Red" Mauk's Boxers Land Bouts May 24 At St. Michael, Pa.

Approximately six amateur boxers representing the South End Athletic Club will appear in the show to be staged at St. Michael, Pa., Friday, May 24, it was announced yesterday by Presley W. "Red" Mauk, sponsor of the local club.

Those who will likely get an opportunity to show their fistic wares on the Pennsylvania card are Pat Murphy, 122; Bobby Goss, 105; Edgar Tucker, 135; Dick Clay, 148; Mike Leslie, 135, and Big Ben Pough, 160.

Boxers of the South End Athletic Club have engaged in seventeen matches this season and captured the team trophy in the recent tri-state tournament sponsored by Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion.

Frank J. Burke is promoter of the St. Michael show.

Recalls Federal League Days when "Jumpers" Came Back

MEXICO CITY, May 16 (AP) — Babe Ruth arrived in Mexico today to look over the baseball situation, and predicted that players barred from organized ball for jumping to the Mexican League will be received again with open arms.

The former Sultan of Swat recalled that after he broke into the major leagues at a $600 annual salary in 1914, he refused a $20,000 offer from the old Federal league "because they said I would be barred from baseball forever."

Ruth added: "When the Federal league folded organized ball took all the players back.

"In the same way, organized ball will take back any time all the really good players now banned for playing in the Mexican league."

Informed that a Mexican league attorney charged in a New York court case this morning that United States baseball is a "monopoly," Ruth commented: "I think he's got something there."

Ruth said the suits brought by major league clubs seeking to prevent the Mexican league players from inducing their players to come here are "unnecessary."

"Why bring it up?" he asked. "Any United States player could still write to Pasquel (Jorge Pasquel, Mexican league president) and offer his services for more pay. The only thing those suits will do is to expose organized ball's contracts with the controversial reserve clause to the courts."

Ruth said he had not been offered a Mexican league post, and knew nothing of reports that he might be asked to become high commissioner of the Mexican league.

Ruth nodded, however, when asked if he would accept a major league managerial job.

"But they don't want me there," he asserted.

General Pruitt, Clemson first baseman, was with a field artillery group in England, Africa, Sicily and Italy for 35 months and won six battle stars. General is his first name.

17 Collect $1,227 On "Daily Double"

SAN MATEO, Calif., May 16 (AP)—A daily double of $1,227.50 was registered for seventeen lucky ticket holders on the first and second races at Bay Meadows today.

The first race winner, was Four-Six-One, ridden by Grant Zufelt, which returned $28.30, $12.80 and $5.80 across the board.

Phoebe J., with Arlin Bassett up, won the second race, returning $67.90, $24.00 and $12.40 for win, place and show.

GUILD'S REQUEST SURPRISES FRISCH AND BENSWANGER

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—President William E. Benswanger of the Pittsburgh Pirates said today he would "consider" the American Baseball Guild's request for negotiations but asserted he had "no information from any of the players on whether they have a bargaining representative or even want one."

After the club returns to Pittsburgh next Friday, we will investigate the situation," stated Benswanger. "Right now I wouldn't know what to say. The whole thing comes as a complete surprise."

Manager Frank Frisch at his New Rochelle, N. Y., home said "it was a surprise to me. I have nothing to say about it."

Although none of the Pittsburgh Players wished to go on record, there was plenty of hotel lobby conversation to the effect that Robert Murphy, prime mover of the player union, was "about right" when he said last night that "more than 90 per cent of the players" belong to the Guild.

One prominent Pirate, who preferred to remain anonymous, said "this thing has been brewing for a long time. I don't know what will come out of it but I think the players should get more money. That $7,500 minimum seems fair enough to me. I'm in complete sympathy with the movement."

American Player Contracts Illegal, Mexicans Charge

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP) — The Mexican League fired back at organized baseball with both barrels today, charging in the New York Supreme Court that American player contracts were "monopolistic, unconscionable, illegal and against public policy," and that players who signed them were held "in peonage for life."

The charge was levelled by Jerome Hess, counsel for Jorge Pasquel and the Mexican League, in opposing an action by the New York Yankees to permanently restrain the Latin league and its agents from trying to induce Yankee players to repudiate their contracts and perform below the border.

Decision Is Reserved

In the end Justice Miller reserved decision on both motions, but strongly indicated that he thought the whole thing should be fought out in one trial, the earlier the better.

"Monopoly is our defense, and this case will be tried right down to the end, until every scintilla of evidence has been introduced," Hess told the court. "Let there be no doubt of that."

He demanded that in advance of the trial the Yankees supply him with a copy of one of their contracts, and this they agreed to do.

At a one point, when Hess declared that baseball contracts were so onesided that they could not be enforced by a court of equity, Justice Miller interrupted to ask incredulously: "Do you really claim that these are illegal contracts?"

Hess assured him that he did, and read a decision of the New York Supreme Court in 1914, in a case involving Hal Chase, Yankee first baseman, where it said it would not enforce a "monopolistic contract."

"Chattels" Charge Made

Hughes, Yankee counsel, pointed out repeatedly that no Yankee players were complaining about the "reserve" clause in their contracts, which the Mexican leaguers said made them "chattels" for life, completely at the whim of their owners.

Asked by Justice Miller if the contracts as now written were a vital part of the baseball structure, Hughes assured him that "the great American game as we know it will be destroyed" if the present contract were declared illegal.

Maryland Defeats Richmond Nine, 3-0

COLLEGE PARK, Md., May 16 (AP)—Behind the two-hit pitching of Harry Hughes, the University of Maryland baseball team today drubbed the University of Richmond 3-0, in a game called after the sixth inning because of rain.

Bill Plate, Maryland first baseman, extended his sensational hitting streak to sixteen safeties out of the last 17 times at bat, by collecting a triple and two singles in three tries. In addition, he stole a base and scored twice. The score:

Williams Street Will Try To Stop Lacy Team Today

Undefeated in five starts, Lacy's Delicatets will be striving to make it six in a row when they face Williams Street today in a City Softball contest on the Rolling Mill field.

East Side, holding the runner-up position with four wins and one loss, will oppose the Maccabees at East Side field.

In other league contests, the Veterans of Foreign Wars will play hosts to Fort Cumberland Post, American Legion, at Community Park, and Keegan's Jupers will engage the Shamrocks at Campobello.

Among those who expect to be back for Notre Dame basketball next season are George Ratterman, Vince Boryla, John Dee and Ray Corley.

Midland Signs Cook; Home Game Saturday Will Start at 3:30

MIDLAND, May 16—Ray Cook, former Centerville (Pa.) Reds' catcher, has signed with Midland Post No. 169, American Legion, and is expected to appear in the locals' lineup when Westvaco is met here Saturday in a Bi-State League game. The contest is set for 3:30 p. m.

Manager Bobby Blair also has announced that the signing of Frank Graham, former Bi-State Leaguer, will add strength to the outfield.

Midland will play the Queen City Brewers Sunday afternoon in Cumberland.

Lon Warneke, who won 192 games in the National League, is umpiring in the Pacific Coast League.

Stocks Generally Turn to Recovery Side but Exceptions Are Plentiful

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—Stocks generally turned to the recovery side in today's market although exceptions were plentiful.

Dealings were slow from the start although large blocks of low-quoted utilities helped expand volume to 1,140,000 shares compared with 1,020,000 Wednesday. Gains of fractions to better than two points predominated at the close.

Publicker Industries, off eight and three-fourth points the day before, retrieved eight at $63.25. Hiram Walker added six and one-half at $137 on further split forecasts, Talcott common was up one at $19.12 on a lifted dividend. United States Lines tacked on one-half at $20.87 in the wake of two dividends. The day's three most active stocks were Columbia Gas, up one and one-eigth at $13.75; General Public Utilities, up five-eighths at $23.25, and Laclede Gas, up one-half at $8.

In front were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, United States Rubber, United Aircraft, American Telephone, Southern Pacific (on the regular quarterly disbursement), Southern Railway, Great Northern, Texas Company, Kennecott, International Nickel, Texas Gulf Producing, Distillers Corporation, National Distillers, American Woolen and Paramount Pictures.

On the casualty list were Goodyear, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck. International Harvester, Western Union "A." Consolidated Edison, North American, Santa Fe, Baltimore and Ohio and Standard Oil (NJ).

In the Curb, Todd Shipyards advanced four and Northern States Power "A" last four and one-eighth. United Aircraft Products and United Light improved while Pepperell and National Fuel Gas retreated. Turnover here was 470,000 shares versus 440,000 yesterday.

Railroad issues generally dropped off slightly in the bond market.

United States governments were mixed on the stock exchange, with the 4 1-2s of 52-47 down one and eighteen thirty-seconds and the 2 1-2s of five-thirty-seconds while the 2s of 55-51 and 2 1-2s of 72-67 advanced slightly. In over-the-counter dealings trends in governments were higher with gains ranging from one-thirty-second to seven-thirty-seconds of a point.

Sales totaled $3,340,000 compared with $3,430,000 Wednesday.

Talk by Hoover On World Food Is Booked by Radio

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, May 16—Herbert Hoover is to broadcast about world food conditions on Friday night at 9 on CBS and 9:15 via MBS. The talk will originate from a "famine" rally in Chicago.

Because of this special, introduction of a new series, Tommy Dorsey's Playhouse at 9 will be fifteen minutes instead of a scheduled thirty. Dorsey will direct the program, which will comprise special arrangements throughout. There also will be some vocalists.

Postponed from last Monday night, the heavyweight bout between Bruce Woodcock, British champion, and Tami Mauriello has been put on the ABC schedule at 9, its regular fight time. The event is scheduled for ten rounds.

Opening of the Veterans of Foreign Wars annual poppies sale goes on an ABC special at 10:35, to include guest speakers and scenes from "Pride of the Marines."

Sen. Robert R. Taft, of Ohio, as the 9:45 speaker on NBC has picked this topic: "Reasonable Price Control."

Olivia de Havilland is to do the guesting for the Kate Smith show of ABC at 7:30. She will have a dramatic spot. . . . Also guest of the evening is Paul Whiteman, who is taking the high spot in the Bill Stern sports period on NBC at 9:30. . . . "Great Novels" of NBC at 10:30, continuing the story of "The Mayor of Sasterbridge," will do the third part.

—Snails can go without food for about four months by living on the reserves in their tissues.

Authorities Seek Two Missing Persons

Police said that Mrs. Eunice Catherine McKenzie, 36, is reported as missing from her home, 216 North Mechanic street, since last Friday. The local woman is five feet, two inches, has black hair and checkered suit. She was employed at the Liberty tavern, police said.

Marvin Smith, 15, is reported missing from his home, 478 Goethe street, since last Thursday. The lad has brown hair and blue eyes and was wearing a sweater and dark trousers, police were told.

For good looks and long life, kitchen furniture and other sturdy painted or enameled pieces need little more care than frequent wiping with a damp, soapy cloth.

RELIABLE MAN
Seeking a permanent, secure future. To supervise the repair and maintenance of special equipment used in every school system. Spare or full time to start. Earnings should average $300 to $600 month first year. Our unusual methods and materials used 18 years in over 1000 schools. We have more work than our own men can do. Will train one responsible man to represent us in this locality. He will demonstrate the work, hire and supervise local labor. We will furnish special materials as needed for which he will pay us 10% of money received from each contract. Man selected should have about $1000 capital to hire labor as needed. Unusual chance for one sincere, honest man to learn a new profitable business. Excellent references furnished and required. Write fully for personal interview. Box 275-B, c-o Times-News. 5-13-3t-N

Club Elects Officers

At the May meeting of the Westernport and Luke Civic club, held at the Westernport city building, Miss Nellie Dowling, principal of the Hammond street school, was elected president, succeeding Mrs. R. C. Roberts. Others elected, Mrs. R. C. Roberts, first vice president; Mrs. Lewis F. Engle, second vice president; Mrs. R. P. Seaber, third vice president; Mrs. John W. Fisher, secretary; Mrs. Harry F. Smith, financial secretary; Mrs. Norris Repp, treasurer, and Mrs. P. A. Laughlin assistant treasurer.

Five dollars was ordered donated to the Memorial day fund. Mrs. R. C. Roberts, Mrs. Lewis F. Engle aid Mrs. R. P. Seaber were appointed to make arrangements for their annual picnic in July.

Sandra Kitzmiller Dies

Services for Sandra Lea Kitzmiller, four months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Kitzmiller, Cross, W. Va., who died early Tuesday morning in the Potomac Valley hospital, Keyser, W. Va., were held yesterday afternoon at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Dora Kitzmiller, Cross, W. Va. The Rev. Derrick Hillary, pastor of the Assembly of God church at Cross, officiated. Interment was in the Tasker cemetery, there.

P[illegible] were Billy Munsie, Marshall Whisner, Delbert Broadwater and Wayne Ours.

Had Lead in Play

Frances Wright, Westernport, took a leading part in "The Patsy", a three-act comedy by Barry Conners, which was presented by the Students' Dramatic club of the Maryland School for the Blind last week in Newcomer hall at the school in Overlea. The proceeds of the play went to the dramatic club. Last year the organization paid over $700 to redecorate the school auditorium.

Personal

The Rev. Howard Amick, Wheeling, W. Va., will preach Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. services at Mt. Calvary Lutheran church.

WHEREAS, on the 27th day of May, 1946 an ordinance for the grading, paving, curbing, sidewalks, sewering or otherwise improving said part of said street as set out in the title

Jaycees Oppose Famine Relief For Europe

Veterans of World War II Express Opposition to Food Collection

The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce went on record last night as being opposed to giving any aid to famine-stricken Europe or war-torn countries.

Eighty per cent of the members attending the meeting, held at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, were ex-servicemen, who spoke their views without hesitation when David Kauffman, president of the Jaycees, proposed a project for the group whereby food would be collected for shipment to famine-stricken countries through UNRRA.

When the proposal of Kauffman, himself a World War II veteran, was brought to a vote, it was defeated 36-8, with some of the members not voting.

Voice Objections

As Kauffman's measure was proposed, about six veterans of the European theater immediately voiced individual objections, and cited observations they made of sectors in which they served in Europe.

One member, who held a high rank in the army before being separated from service, pointed out that he served in England, France, Germany and Belgium.

The Germans were faring pretty well, he said, adding, however, that he is not in favor of doing much for them anyhow. He said the French will take all the assistance they can get from the United States and yell for more and that he is not too concerned about them.

He declared, however, that he would "give the English anything I have," but pointed out that their problem is being worked out and that he does not believe a food campaign is necessary to help them.

Charges Propaganda

Another veteran of the European theater said that he received The Cumberland News while he was overseas and that from his observations wire service stories were ninety per cent propaganda as far as famine conditions are concerned. He said the residents in the sections in which he served had plenty of food.

Still another veteran agreed with this observation, declared that he is "tired of seeing Uncle Sam played for a sucker." America has been played for a sucker before, he said, and now it is time to quit kidding ourselves by believing propaganda about famine conditions. He said plenty of food was shipped into Europe, that some of it was wasted and that some found its way into black markets.

Another veteran labeled former President Herbert Hoover's report on famine conditions "inaccurate," and stated that American officials who visit foreign countries are taken on conducted tours so that they will see the worst possible conditions and do their part in trying to get help from this country.

Among the opponents to the proposal to send food to Europe, was a veteran who declared flatly that he is opposed to taking food from American children to feed European youngsters who will be fighting them twenty years from now.

Philippines Not Criticised

The question of famine in India brought out the observation that famine has existed there for the last 300 years, that it probably will exist that many more and that there is no reason to become too exercised about it now.

About the only place where famine relief was not criticised too harshly was the Philippines, and, generally, men who voted for Kaufman's food collection proposal were veterans of that area.

Gibson said that of all the levels of government, municipal government is the most important in a democracy because it is closer to more people. If people fail to take an interest in their home-town government, the whole structure of democracy will collapse, he said.

The next meeting of the Jaycees will be held June 4 in Central YMCA, when members of the group, who served in all parts of the world, will give short talks on what they saw and experienced.

About fifteen members of the Cumberland organization indicated they will attend the state convention of the Jaycees in Hagerstown on May 25 and 26.

J. Preston Biller Will Head Local Printers Union

J. Preston Biller, an assistant foreman of the composing room of the Times and Alleganian Company, was elected president of Cumberland Typographical Union No. 244 at the annual election of officers held Wednesday at the plant of the Times and Alleganian Company.

Biller, a veteran of World War II employed as an assistant foreman of the plant's composing room, succeeds William A. "Red" Miller.

Other officers chosen were T. R. Peterman, vice president; Charles A. Barringer, secretary-treasurer; J. E. Miller, recording-secretary; B. E. DeBolt, journal correspondent, and Mary Luteman, sergeant-at-arms.

Barringer, who was named delegate to the I.T.U. convention, was re-elected to the post of secretary-treasurer for the twenty-fifth successive term. George D. Cline was named alternate for the convention.

Elected to the auditing committee were James A. Close, C. S. Grimshaw and J. G. Richter.

Police Clear Driver Of Car; Report Woman Was Injured in Fall

Police reported yesterday that Mrs. Pearl Adams, 44, 607 Virginia avenue, who was treated in a hospital here May 8 for a fractured left wrist, was not a victim of a hit-and-run driver.

Authorities said investigation disclosed that Mrs. Adams fell at 4 p. m. as she was crossing the intersection of Virginia and Laing avenues and that a car driven by Ernest Ganoe, Wiley Ford, W. Va., stopped six feet away from the injured woman.

Ganoe told Detective Thomas J. See that by the time he parked his car nearby, the injured woman's husband had carried her into her home nearby.

Detective See said Adams and a number of witnesses verified the driver's statement and that the case was cleared up the day after the accident.

Four Persons Are Injured in Crash

Mrs. Simeon Green, Frostburg, Is Reported in "Fair" Condition

Four persons were injured, one of them seriously, as a result of a head-on automobile collision on the turn at the top of Sideling hill on Route 40 about 8:15 a. m. yesterday.

Most seriously injured was Mrs. Lillian Green, 57, wife of County Commissioner Simeon W. Green, Frostburg, reported in a "fair" condition in Memorial hospital last evening, suffering from possible chest injuries, a deep laceration above the right temple and a puncture wound of the left leg.

State police said the car driven by Commissioner Green was traveling east when it collided with an automobile operated by Robert L. Harrison, Garrett Park.

Harrison was treated by a Hancock physician for slight cuts about the face and bruises. His wife, riding with him, was treated for a right elbow injury, but their 14-year-old daughter escaped injury in the crash. They were en route west on vacation.

Hospital attaches said Commissioner Green and his wife were en route to Baltimore when the accident occurred.

Trooper Samuel M. Conrad, who investigated, said the vehicles were considerably damaged when they collided in the center of the highway and added visability was poor due to rain and heavy fog.

Man Will Be Questioned About Rawlings Robbery

Ernest Gordon, Rawlings, is being "held for investigation" in the county jail pending questioning in connection with the slugging and theft of $300 from an elderly B. and O. trackman at his home in Rawlings last Thursday night, the state's attorney's office said yesterday. Gordon was arrested Wednesday by state police.

Authorities said Robert T. Thrasher, 65, reported he was awakened by a knock at the back door of his home and added that a man who stood on the porch told him his (Thrasher's) sister had been injured in an accident on the highway.

The Rawlings man explained that when he turned to get his clothes the stranger pulled a gun and struck him on the back of the head either with the gun or a blackjack and took the money from his pocketbook.

DEATHS

MRS. GEORGE BARNETT

Mrs. Jane R. Barnett, 59, negress, wife of George Barnett, died yesterday afternoon at her home, 339 Frederick street. She had been in ill health for the past two years.

Mrs. Barnett was a native of this city, a daughter of the late Charles and Ellen Spillard Darr. She was a member of McKendree Methodist church.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two brothers, Edward Darr, this city, and Claude Darr, Philadelphia.

The body is at the Kight funeral home where services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in Sumner cemetery.

Busy Schedule Is Being Maintained By Tawes Party

Several Allegany County Towns Will Be Visited Today by Candidates

The intensive campaign being conducted in Allegany county by J. Millard Tawes, W. Earle Cobey and Charles H. Roloson, Democratic candidates for governor, attorney general and comptroller respectively will be continued today.

Today's schedule will start with a reception at the Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company hall at 9:30 a. m. with Harland Lasher, chairman, assisted by Dean Broadwater. At 10:25 a. m. the candidates will be at the McCoole Volunteer Fire Company hall where John Wright is chairman and Judge Thorpe, assistant. At 11:35, a meeting will be held at the plant gates of the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

A luncheon will be held at 12:45 p. m. at the Westernport Service Center with Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Fahey and Edward Moran as hosts. This will be followed by a meeting in the Westernport city square at 2 p. m. The party will then proceed to Barton where a meeting will be held at 2:40 p. m. at the post-office circle with Alvin Logsdon, chairman.

Radio Talk Scheduled

Patrick Nolan will be chairman of a meeting at the American Legion Home in Lonaconing at 3:10 p. m., and John Cullen will be chairman of a meeting to follow at the square in Midland, after which visits will be made to Vale Summit and Eckhart.

At 4:25 p. m., the candidates will speak at the Gunter hotel in Frostburg with John Cain and Thomas T. Wilhelm in charge. The group will then return to this city where Tawes and Cobey will speak over Station WTBO at 5:30 p. m. Visits will be made to Mt. Savage and Zihlman from 5:10 p. m. to 6:40 p. m. with addresses at the Mt. Savage square where James Gallagher and Joseph W. Carter are chairman.

Mrs. Isabelle Chatain and Mrs. Phyllis Logsdon will be hostesses at a meeting at the Ellerslie pottery plant at 7:30 p. m. and Mrs. Martha Diehl will be hostess at the Corriganville Company hall at 7:40 p. m.

The final meeting of the day will be held at the Fort Cumberland hotel ballroom at 8:15 p. m.

Tour Garrett County

Tomorrow, Tawes and his running mates will visit the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant at 9 a. m.; the B. and O. railroad shops at 11 a. m.; Celanese plant at 2 p. m.; and after 8 p. m. the homes of Cumberland Lodges No. 63, B.P.O. Elks; Redmen, Cumberland Council No. 586, Knights of Columbus, and Woodmen of the World.

Last night a reception was held for the candidates at the city building in Westernport.

Celanese Loses Appeal In Unemployment Case

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 16 (AP)—The Maryland Court of Appeals denied today an appeal by the Celanese Corporation of America, of Amcelle, from a decision holding it liable under a section of the state unemployment compensation law relating to graduated employer contributions.

The corporation, in testing the applicability of the section had asked for a $84,279 refund on payments it had made at the maximum rate under the section. It demanded the refund on the ground that its 1943 payroll was not 150 per cent of that of 1940.

The court dismissed the corporation's contention that a strike in 1940 had made that year "not normal" as a basis for computations.

Celanese, the high tribunal said, was liable for maximum payment under the contribution scale. If the firm could claim a strike could render the base year as not normal, the court said, other firms could file similar claims for various reasons which would cause a "chaotic" condition in enforcing the law.

Accident Victims Reported as "Fair"

Mrs. Frances Mahaney, 27, wife of Ralph Mahaney, who was severely burned at her home, 411 Pennsylvania avenue, Tuesday evening, was reported in a "fairly good" condition in Memorial hospital last evening.

Reported in a "fair" condition in the same hospital was Marvin Borror, 40, Cresaptown, who was overcome at his home Tuesday evening by fumes from a gas furnace.

Thieves Wreck Attorney's Car On Mountain

State police were on the lookout last night for two men who stole the automobile of Thomas B. Finan, Cumberland attorney, and then wrecked it when they missed a sharp curve on a West Virginia dirt road and plummeted 300 feet down a steep mountainside near Pinto.

Cpl. R. R. Karrickoff, of the West Virginia State Police, was pursuing the car on the mountain road when its lights disappeared in front of him. Investigation disclosed the wreckage of the automobile, a convertible coupe, against two small saplings less than half way down the shale mountain wall.

Maryland State Trooper Ira G. Unger who, with Troopers Glen D. Folk and Thomas Barton, of the Maryland police, who scoured the area where the wreck occurred in a search for the thieves, said the occupants of the car had fled when Karrickoff reached the spot. He said one of them is believed to be injured although the saplings prevented the car from overturning.

The theft of the car from its parking place in the vicinity of the Algonquin hotel was reported to city police about 7 p. m., and Karrickoff had received information of the theft, but did not have the license number and some other information.

While Karrickoff was cruising in the vicinity of Fort Ashby, W. Va., a convertible coupe passed him at a high rate of speed and he gave chase, Maryland police reported.

The driver of the coupe soon turned on to a dirt road and was heading back toward Maryland on the mountain road when the crash occurred. Karrickoff said he was about 300 yards behind the stolen car at this point. He said a small tree that was broken off indicated what had happened.

Finan's car was said to be practically a total loss.

Lane and Lacy Will Campaign In Allegany

Will Visit County Towns and Industrial Plants in Cumberland

William Preston Lane, Jr., Hagerstown, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, and James J. Lacy, Baltimore, candidate for comptroller on the Lane ticket, will both be featured speakers at tonight's meeting of the Democratic Cosmopolitan club, North Mechanic street, at 8 o'clock.

James E. Kenney, chairman of the Lane for Governor committee, will preside at tonight's meeting. All Democratic candidates who have filed for county offices have been invited to attend and the organization plans to go on record as indorsing all local, county candidates.

Lane and Lacy are scheduled to go on a tour of Cumberland industries this afternoon and Lane will make an address over Station WTBO at 6:45.

Tomorrow, the two candidates and local supporters will leave the Lane for Governor Headquarters in the Windsor hotel at 10 a. m. to go on a countywide tour. The itinerary is:

Cresaptown, 10:15 a. m.; McCoole, 11 a. m.; Luke, 11:30 a. m.; Westernport 12 noon where a luncheon will be given for the candidates by James E. Kenney; Barton, 1:30 p. m.; Lonaconing, 2 p. m.; Midland, 2:45 p. m.; Vale Summit, 3:15 p. m.; Eckhart, 3:45 p. m.; Frostburg, 4 p. m.; Mt. Savage, 5 p. m.; Ellerslie, 6 p. m.; and Corriganville, 6:30 p. m.

Lacy is scheduled to give a radio talk tomorrow from 6:45 to 7 p. m. The two candidates plan to return to Baltimore following this address.

The weekend visit of the two candidates will be their second visit of the week as Lane made a plane trip here Tuesday to address the delegates to the Maryland-District of Columbia American Federation of Labor convention, and Lacy having been here last Sunday to attend the state convention of the Knights of Columbus.

The Lane ticket has been encouraged in recent days by indorsements of Carroll and Howard county Democratic organizations and expects to gain additional support in this county during the next two days.

New Contract between Celanese And TWUA Will Be Signed Soon

Union Unanimously Approves Pay Boost Offer of Eight Cents Hourly

Signing of a new contract between the Celanese Corporation of America and Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, is expected to take place within the next few days following acceptance by the union of the company's wage increase offer.

The union, at meetings Wednesday night and yesterday morning, unanimously approved an hourly wage agreement whereby workers at the plant will receive increased pay of eight cents an hour, beginning May 19.

Company and union spokesmen said the date for the signing of the contract has not been decided yet, but that it may take place today, Saturday or Monday.

The increase marks a total increase of eighteen cents an hour negotiated by the union since V-J day without a strike or work stoppage, union officials said. The first ten cents was effective September 30, 1945.

No Strike Action

It was pointed out that while there was no strike action taken by the local, the increase was largely a result of a national pattern established by heavy industry CIO unions after strikes.

Union officials declare that the results of the negotiations again have illustrated a willingness on the part of both the company and the union to sit around a conference table and iron out differences.

Under the agreement, the entire contract between the company and the union will extend for a year from May 19 with a wage reopening possible as follows:

"Upon thirty days' written notice, but not prior to November 19, 1946, either party may request a revision of the established rates of pay once during the life of this agreement. It is further agreed that the question of wages will not be reopened prior to May 19, 1947, unless the average cost of living index figures for May, 1946, as given by the Bureau of Labor Statistics and National Industrial Conference Board shall have increased ten points or more, this ten-point increase to be determined by averaging the increases shown by the Bureau of Labor Statistics and National Industrial Conference Board.

82 Cents Minimum

"The cost of living index provision limiting wage reopening shall only apply to the period prior to May 19, 1947. Should the agreement be renewed under the automatic provision of the termination clause, Article 19, the question of wages may be reopened on the renewal date of the agreement as well as one other time during each contract year as provided above."

The new increase of eight cents establishes a minimum rate of eighty-two cents in the plant, union leaders said.

City Tax Rate Is Set at $1.25; Budget Prepared

$789,680 Is Appropriated for General and Debt Services for Year

The mayor and city council yesterday set the city tax rate again at $1.25 per $100, as $789,680, an increase of $57,300 over last year, was appropriated for general and debt services for the fiscal year starting April 1.

Major increases included approximately $15,000 for the fire department and $13,300 for the police department. Other increases included sewers, $4,000; streets, $8,000; street cleaning, $5,000; city hall annex, $3,000; Constitution park $2,000; engineering, $2,000; health, $4,000; insurance, $3,000; library, $2,000; playgrounds $4,000; and debt service, $3,500.

Some Eliminated

Major decreases or eliminations included airport, $3,000, elections, $6,528, and paving bond account $6,800.

Most appropriations were increased slightly due to the general wage increase and the rise in the cost of services.

The ordinance fixing the levy at $1.25 shows that the full 90 cents allowed under the law will be used for general purposes. Charles Z. Heskett, attorney, explained the law increasing the amount allowed from 75 to 90 cents remains in effect until June of next year and that the council will be able to levy on this basis next year without additional legislation.

Tax Income $678,750

The levy places the assessed valuation of real estate at $44,000,000, personal property (individual) $1,350,000 personal property (corporation) $8,300,000, and automobiles $650,000, making a total of $54,300,000. Revenue from this source is estimated at $678,750. Bank stock revenue is set at $6,000 and franchise fees at $1,000. Estimated revenue from other sources is $103,930.

Appropriations for general operating expenses total $599,616.17 as compared to $542,267.64 actually, expended last year. Debt service amounts to $190,063.83 this year as compared to $186,612.16 last year.

DROWNING VICTIM — Lester W. Kenney, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Kenney, 33 Fifth street, drowned Wednesday when he fell from a cliff into the Potomac river near the Western Maryland railway's Welton tunnel. His body was recovered shortly before noon yesterday by William Barnstricker, a member of Frederick C. (Buck) Dreyer's rescue corps.

Body of Boy, 7, Is Recovered From Potomac

Lester W. Kenney Drowns after Fall from Cliff near Welton Tunnel

The body of Lester Wilburn Kenney, 7, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Kenney, 33 Fifth street, was recovered from the deep waters of the Potomac river below the Western Maryland railway's Welton tunnel shortly before noon yesterday.

With two other boys, Richard Fertig, 12, and his brother, James Fertig, 9, 36 Laing avenue, Lester, known as "Buddy Boy," was on the way to the Cumberland Municipal Airport when he slipped and fell into six or seven feet of water while scaling a cliff along the river about noon Wednesday.

The Kenney boy had been missing from his home since before noon Wednesday, members of the family said. Police had been notified of his disappearance, but it was not until nearly midnight Wednesday that the Fertig boys said the child had fallen into the river.

Playing Along River

City police questioned the boys closely, and they stuck to their story, saying they had been playing with the Kenney child along the river south of Offutt street in South Cumberland.

Shortly before noon, the boys crossed the railroad bridge over the canal, near the point of the tragedy, walked several hundred yards to cross the bridge over the river. After crossing the bridge, which is only a few feet from the mouth of Welton tunnel, the boys played along the cliff of rock which rises over a hundred feet from the river's edge.

One of Lester's playmates said they were walking along a ledge of rock at this point, about ten or twelve feet above the river. Lester lost his balance, the boy claimed, and fell into the river. Richard Fertig tried to rescue him and jumped into the river.

Dragged to Bottom

He told police he had the Kenney boy "in tow" but let go of him after he struggled and dragged them both to the botom. When he tried to find Lester a second time, he maintained, the little fellow had disappeared.

As soon as police had questioned the Fertig boys thoroughly and taken one of them to the place he designated along the river where the tragedy occurred, Frederick C. (Buck) Dreyer, experienced local riverman, was summoned, and his rescue truck and boats were taken to the scene.

The place is almost inaccessable, and difficult to reach by foot or by car, but police were able to get near the point by driving down the old tow path along the C. and O. canal.

At 1 a. m. volunteers had boats in the river, and even at this hour, about a hundred persons were standing on the bridge above, straining their eyes trying to see something through the darkness.

The Kenney boy's body finally was recovered about 11:30 a. m. yesterday when it was caught on a grappling hook by William Barnstricker, a member of Dreyer's rescue corps. Other members of the crew were Sherry Sommers, Lewis Poole, William Youngblood, Harry Swendol, Richard Keller, Elmer Keller, Cecil Kenney and Eldred W. Fletcher. The men used four rescue boats during the operation.

Dr. Linne H. Corson, deputy county medical examiner, said the body had been in the water about twenty-four hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenney said Lester had been sent to school as usual Wednesday morning, but his classes at St. Mary's school were suspended for the day and he returned home. It was about 10 a. m., they believe, when he left the house to play with the children of the neighborhood.

When he failed to return home, Mr. and Mrs. Kenney said, they searched everywhere for the child, and, when night fell, notified police he was missing.

It was about four hours later—11:20 p. m. Wednesday—when the Fertig boys finally told their parents and later police what had happened to the Kenney child. The Fertig boys said they were afraid to tell anyone before.

The Kenney family home on Fifth street is about three miles from the point where the boy fell into the river.

Funeral Sunday

Lester is survived by his parents, his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilburn, Grantsville, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Northcraft, Cumberland.

The body will be taken to the home this morning and will remain there until 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon when services will be conducted at the Evangelical church on Mary street. The Rev. J. Edgar Walter, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be in Zion Memorial cemetery.

Program Planned For American Day Observance Here

Parade, Talks and Music Will Feature Exercises Sunday Afternoon

A six-division parade will be a feature of the observance here Sunday afternoon of the "I Am an American day," Thomas F Conlon, who was named local chairman by Governor Herbert R. O'Conor announced yesterday.

Conley said the parade, which will start at 3 p. m., will precede ceremonies in Riverside Park. The program will be opened with the Rev. Mark. J. Linenberg, O.F.M.Cap., a former major in the chaplain corps who saw action with the Seventy-seventh division in the Pacific war zone, offering the invocation. The complete program follows:

Musical selection by the Loyal Order of Moose Band; opening remarks, Mayor Thomas S. Post; community singing led by A. Florian Wilson; reading of the President's proclamation, Samuel A. Graham, commander of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, and musical selection by the Allegany High School Band.

The second half of the program will be opened with an address by Miss Helen Kerr, the first Cumberland recruit to the auxiliary branch of the U. S. Marine Corps. Next on the program will be singing of "America the Beautiful," by the Girl Scout Choir; an address by Calvin Lauder, a veteran of World War II; musical selection by the Fort Hill High School Band, and an address by William C. Walsh.

The park program will close with a benediction invoked by the Rev. Stanley G. Schwind, assistant rector of "God Bless America."

The parade will move to Riverside Park from the State Armory by way of Centre street to Market, Cumberland and Greene streets.

William L. Wilson is chairman of the program to be given in the park. He will be introduced by Frank Powers, chairman of the Mountain District of the Maryland Department of the American Legion.

Data on Parade

The organizations which will participate in the parade, marshals of the various divisions and where the divisions will form follow:

LaVale Reservoir To Be Connected On Saturday

Water from a new 60,000 gallon capacity reservoir built at Red hill will be turned into the line of the LaVale Water Company Saturday, D. Clifford Goodfellow, secretary-treasurer, said yesterday.

The new reservoir is one of several just completed or contemplated improvements to the company's system, according to Goodfellow, who said the cost of the work will amount to about $15,000.

Other improvements include laying of an eight-inch pipeline from the present supply at Red hill to the Six Mile House, and construction of a new well. A new pump, ordered two months ago, will be installed as soon as it is delivered.

With the completion of the new reservoir and well, the company now has three drilled wells and two reservoirs. Previously, the reservoir capacity was 250,000 gallons, but the new 60,000 gallon reservoir boosts the total capacity to 310,000 gallons.

The new pump to be installed will have a capacity of 5,000 gallons of water an hour, compared to the 1,200 gallon capacity of the present pump.

Goodfellow said the eight-inch pipeline to the Six Mile House from Red hill replaces a four-inch line and is expected to bring a larger volume of water closer to LaVale, and alleviate the water situation of the dry months.

The water company plans to extend the eight-inch line at a future date.

Held for Non Support

Raymond Whitacre, 504 Fourth street, was arrested here Wednesday evening by Detective Thomas J. See and Officer J. Carl Stouffer for Mineral county, W. Va., authorities. Police said warrants held by Cpl. R. R. Karickoff charged non support of Whitacre's wife and two children.

Jaycees Oppose Famine Relief For Europe

Veterans of World War II Express Opposition to Food Collection

The Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce went on record last night as being opposed to giving any aid to famine-stricken Europe or war-torn countries.

Eighty per cent of the members attending the meeting, held at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, were ex-servicemen, who spoke their views without hesitation when David Kauffman, president of the Jaycees, proposed a project for the group whereby food would be collected for shipment to famine-stricken countries through UNRRA.

When the proposal of Kauffman, himself a World War II veteran, was brought to a vote, it was defeated 36-8, with some of the members not voting.

Voice Objections

As Kauffman's measure was proposed, about six veterans of the European theater immediately voiced individual objections, and cited observations they made of sectors in which they served in Europe.

One member, who held a high rank in the army before being separated from service, pointed out that he served in England, France, Germany and Belgium.

The Germans were faring pretty well, he said, adding, however, that he is not in favor of doing much for them anyhow. He said the French will take all the assistance they can get from the United States and yell for more and that he is not too concerned about them.

He declared, however, that he would "give the English anything I have," but pointed out that their problem is being worked out and that he does not believe a food campaign is necessary to help them.

Charges Propaganda

Another veteran of the European theater said that he received The Cumberland News while he was overseas and that from his observations wire service stories were ninety per cent propaganda as far as famine conditions are concerned. He said the residents in the sections in which he served had plenty of food.

Still another veteran agreed with this observation, declared that he is "tired of seeing Uncle Sam played for a sucker." America has been played for a sucker before, he said, and now it is time to quit kidding ourselves by believing propaganda about famine conditions. He said plenty of food was shipped into Europe, that some of it was wasted and that some found its way into black markets.

Another veteran labeled former President Herbert Hoover's report on famine conditions "inaccurate," and stated that American officials who visit foreign countries are taken on conducted tours so that they will see the worst possible conditions and do their part in trying to get help from this country.

Among the opponents to the proposal to send food to Europe, was a veteran who declared flatly that he is opposed to taking food from American children to feed European youngsters who will be fighting them twenty years from now.

Philippines Not Criticised

The question of famine in India brought out the observation that famine has existed there for the last 300 years, that it probably will exist that many more and that there is no reason to become too exercised about it now.

About the only place where famine relief was not criticised too harshly was the Philippines, and, generally, men who voted for Kaufman's food collection proposal were veterans of that area.

The principal speaker at the meeting last night was Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, who discussed city affairs, primarily financial.

Gibson said that of all the levels of government, municipal government is the most important in a democracy because it is closer to more people. If people fail to take an interest in their home-town government, the whole structure of democracy will collapse, he said.

The next meeting of the Jaycees will be held June 4 in Central YMCA, when members of the group, who served in all parts of the world, will give short talks on what they saw and experienced.

About fifteen members of the Cumberland organization indicated they will attend the state convention of the Jaycees in Hagerstown on May 25 and 26.

J. Preston Biller Will Head Local Printers Union

J. Preston Biller, an assistant foreman of the composing room of the Times and Alleganian Company, was elected president of Cumberland Typographical Union No. 244 at the annual election of officers held Wednesday at the plant of the Times and Alleganian Company.

Biller, a veteran of World War II employed as an assistant foreman of the plant's composing room, succeeds William A. "Red" Miller.

Other officers chosen were T. R. Peterman, vice president; Charles A. Barringer, secretary-treasurer; J. E. Miller, recording-secretary; B. E. DeBolt, journal correspondent, and Mary Luteman, sergeant-at-arms.

Barringer, who was named delegate to the I.T.U. convention, was re-elected to the post of secretary-treasurer for the twenty-fifth successive term. George D. Cline was named alternate for the convention.

Elected to the auditing committee were James A. Close, C. S. Grimshaw and J. G. Richter.

Police Clear Driver Of Car; Report Woman Was Injured in Fall

Police reported yesterday that Mrs. Pearl Adams, 44, 607 Virginia avenue, who was treated in a hospital here May 8 for a fractured left wrist, was not a victim of a hit-and-run driver.

Authorities said investigation disclosed that Mrs. Adams fell at 4 p. m. as she was crossing the intersection of Virginia and Laing avenues and that a car driven by Ernest Ganoe, Wiley Ford, W. Va., stopped six feet away from the injured woman.

Ganoe told Detective Thomas J. See that by the time he parked his car nearby, the injured woman's husband had carried her into her home nearby.

Detective See said Adams and a number of witnesses verified the driver's statement and that the case was cleared up the day after the accident.

Four Persons Are Injured in Crash

Mrs. Simeon Green, Frostburg, Is Reported in "Fair" Condition

Four persons were injured, one of them seriously, as a result of a head-on automobile collision on the turn at the top of Sideling hill on Route 40 about 8:15 a. m. yesterday.

Most seriously injured was Mrs. Lillian Green, 57, wife of County Commissioner Simeon W. Green, Frostburg, reported in a "fair" condition in Memorial hospital last evening, suffering from possible chest injuries, a deep laceration above the right temple and a puncture wound of the left leg.

State police said the car driven by Commissioner Green was traveling east when it collided with an automobile operated by Robert L. Harrison, Garrett Park.

Commissioner Green was treated in the same hospital for abrasions of the forehead.

Harrison was treated by a Hancock physician for slight cuts about the face and bruises. His wife, riding with him, was treated for a right elbow injury, but their 14-year-old daughter escaped injury in the crash. They were en route west on vacation.

Hospital attaches said Commissioner Green and his wife were en route to Baltimore when the accident occurred.

Trooper Samuel M. Conrad, who investigated, said the vehicles were considerably damaged when they collided in the center of the highway and added visability was poor due to rain and heavy fog.

Man Will Be Questioned About Rawlings Robbery

Ernest Gordon, Rawlings, is being "held for investigation" in the county jail pending questioning in connection with the slugging and theft of $300 from an elderly B. and O. trackman at his home in Rawlings last Thursday night, the state's attorney's office said yesterday. Gordon was arrested Wednesday by state police.

Authorities said Robert T. Thrasher, 65, reported he was awakened by a knock at the back door of his home and added that a man who stood on the porch told him his (Thrasher's) sister had been injured in an accident on the highway.

The Rawlings man explained that when he turned to get his clothes the stranger pulled a gun and struck him on the back of the head either with the gun or a blackjack and took the money from his pocketbook.

Busy Schedule Is Being Maintained By Tawes Party

Several Allegany County Towns Will Be Visited Today by Candidates

The intensive campaign being conducted in Allegany county by J. Millard Tawes, W. Earle Cobey and Charles H. Roloson, Democratic candidates for governor, attorney general and comptroller respectively will be continued today.

Today's schedule will start with a reception at the Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company hall at 9:30 a. m. with Harland Lasher, chairman, assisted by Dean Broadwater. At 10:25 a. m. the candidates will be at the McCoole Volunteer Fire Company hall where John Wright is chairman and Judge Thorpe, assistant. At 11:35, a meeting will be held at the plant gates of the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

A luncheon will be held at 12:45 p. m. at the Westernport Service Center with Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Fahey and Edward Moran as hosts. This will be followed by a meeting in the Westernport city square at 2 p. m. The party will then proceed to Barton where a meeting will be held at 2:40 p. m. at the post-office circle with Alvin Logsdon, chairman.

Radio Talk Scheduled

Patrick Nolan will be chairman of a meeting at the American Legion Home in Lonaconing at 3:10 p. m., and John Cullen will be chairman of a meeting to follow at the square in Midland, after which visits will be made to Vale Summit and Eckhart.

At 4:25 p. m., the candidates will speak at the Gunter hotel in Frostburg with John Cain and Thomas T. Wilhelm in charge. The group will then return to this city where Tawes and Cobey will speak over Station WTBO at 5:30 p. m. Visits will be made to Mt. Savage and Zihlman from 5:10 p. m. to 6:40 p. m. with addresses at the Mt. Savage square where James Gallagher and Joseph W. Carter are chairman.

Mrs. Isabelle Chatain and Mrs. Phyllis Logsdon will be hostesses at a meeting at the Ellerslie pottery plant at 7:30 p. m. and Mrs. Martha Diehl will be hostess at the Corriganville Company hall at 7:40 p. m.

The final meeting of the day will be held at the Fort Cumberland hotel ballroom at 8:15 p. m.

Tour Garrett County

Tomorrow, Tawes and his running mates will visit the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant at 9 a. m.; the B. and O. railroad shops at 11 a. m.; Celanese plant at 2 p. m.; and after 8 p. m. the homes of Cumberland Lodges No. 63, B.P.O. Elks; Redmen, Cumberland Council No. 586, Knights of Columbus, and Woodmen of the World.

Last night a reception was held for the candidates at the city building in Westernport.

Celanese Loses Appeal In Unemployment Case

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 16 (AP)—The Maryland Court of Appeals denied today an appeal by the Celanese Corporation of America, of Amcelle, from a decision holding it liable under a section of the state unemployment compensation law relating to graduated employer contributions.

The corporation, in testing the applicability of the section had asked for a $84,279 refund on payments it had made at the maximum rate under the section. It demanded the refund on the ground that its 1943 payroll was not 150 per cent of that of 1940.

The court dismissed the corporation's contention that a strike in 1940 had made that year "not normal" as a basis for computations.

Celanese, the high tribunal said, was liable for maximum payment under the contribution scale. If the firm could claim a strike could render the base year as not normal, the court said, other firms could file similar claims for various reasons which would cause a "chaotic" condition in enforcing the law.

Accident Victims Reported as "Fair"

Mrs. Frances Mahaney, 27, wife of Ralph Mahaney, who was severely burned at her home, 411 Pennsylvania avenue, Tuesday evening, was reported in a "fairly good" condition in Memorial hospital last evening.

Reported in a "fair" condition in the same hospital was Marvin Borror, 40, Cresaptown, who was overcome at his home Tuesday evening by fumes from a gas furnace.

Thieves Wreck Attorney's Car On Mountain

State police were on the lookout last night for two men who stole the automobile of Thomas B. Finan, Cumberland attorney, and then wrecked it when they missed a sharp curve on a West Virginia dirt road and plummeted 300 feet down a steep mountainside near Pinto.

Cpl. R. R. Karrickoff, of the West Virginia State Police, was pursuing the car on the mountain road when its lights disappeared in front of him. Investigation disclosed the wreckage of the automobile, a convertible coupe, against two small saplings less than half way down the shale mountain wall.

Maryland State Trooper Ira G. Unger who, with Troopers Glen D. Folk and Thomas Barton, of the Maryland police, who scoured the area where the wreck occurred in a search for the thieves, said the occupants of the car had fled when Karrickoff reached the spot. He said one of them is believed to be injured although the saplings prevented the car from overturning.

The theft of the car from its parking place in the vicinity of the Algonquin hotel was reported to city police about 7 p. m., and Karrickoff had received information of the theft, but did not have the license number and some other information.

While Karrickoff was cruising in the vicinity of Fort Ashby, W. Va., a convertible coupe passed him at a high rate of speed and he gave chase, Maryland police reported.

The driver of the coupe soon turned on to a dirt road and was heading back toward Maryland on the mountain road when the crash occurred. Karrickoff said he was about 300 yards behind the stolen car at this point. He said a small tree that was broken off indicated what had happened.

Finan's car was said to be practically a total loss.

Lane and Lacy Will Campaign In Allegany

Will Visit County Towns and Industrial Plants in Cumberland

William Preston Lane, Jr., Hagerstown, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, and James J. Lacy, Baltimore, candidate for comptroller on the Lane ticket, will both be featured speakers at tonight's meeting of the Democratic Cosmopolitan club, North Mechanic street, at 8 o'clock.

James E. Kenney, chairman of the Lane for Governor committee, will preside at tonight's meeting. All Democratic candidates who have filed for county offices have been invited to attend and the organization plans to go on record as indorsing all local, county candidates.

Lane and Lacy are scheduled to go on a tour of Cumberland industries this afternoon and Lane will make an address over Station WTBO at 6:45.

Tomorrow, the two candidates and local supporters will leave the Lane for Governor Headquarters in the Windsor hotel at 10 a. m. to go on a countywide tour. The itinerary is:

Cresaptown, 10:15 a. m.; McCoole, 11 a. m.; Luke, 11:30 a. m.; Westernport 12 noon where a luncheon will be given for the candidates by James E. Kenney; Barton, 1:30 p. m.; Lonaconing, 2 p. m.; Midland, 2:45 p. m.; Vale Summit, 3:15 p. m.; Eckhart, 3:45 p. m.; Frostburg, 4 p. m.; Mt. Savage, 5 p. m.; Ellerslie, 6 p. m.; and Corriganville, 6:30 p. m.

Lacy is scheduled to give a radio talk tomorrow from 6:45 to 7 p. m. The two candidates plan to return to Baltimore following this address.

The weekend visit of the two candidates will be their second visit of the week as Lane made a plane trip here Tuesday to address the delegates to the Maryland-District of Columbia American Federation of Labor convention, and Lacy having been here last Sunday to attend the state convention of the Knights of Columbus.

The Lane ticket has been encouraged in recent days by indorsements of Carroll and Howard county Democratic organizations and expects to gain additional support in this county during the next two days.

New Contract between Celanese And TWUA Will Be Signed Soon

Union Unanimously Approves Pay Boost Offer of Eight Cents Hourly

Signing of a new contract between the Celanese Corporation of America and Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, is expected to take place within the next few days following acceptance by the union of the company's wage increase offer.

The union, at meetings Wednesday night and yesterday morning, unanimously approved an hourly wage agreement whereby workers at the plant will receive increased pay of eight cents an hour, beginning May 19.

Company and union spokesmen said the date for the signing of the contract has not been decided yet, but that it may take place today, Saturday or Monday.

The increase marks a total increase of eighteen cents an hour negotiated by the union since V-J day without a strike or work stoppage, union officials said. The first ten cents was effective September 30, 1945.

No Strike Action

It was pointed out that while there was no strike action taken by the local, the increase was largely a result of a national pattern established by heavy industry CIO unions after strikes.

Union officials declare that the results of the negotiations again have illustrated a willingness on the part of both the company and the union to sit around a conference table and iron out differences.

Under the agreement, the entire contract between the company and the union will extend for a year from May 19 with a wage reopening possible as follows:

"Upon thirty days' written notice, but not prior to November 19, 1946, either party may request a revision of the established rates of pay once during the life of this agreement. It is further agreed that the question of wages will not be reopened prior to May 19, 1947, unless the average cost of living index figures for May, 1946, as given by the Bureau of Labor Statistics and National Industrial Conference Board shall have increased ten points or more, this ten-point increase to be determined by averaging the increases shown by the Bureau of Labor Statistics and National Industrial Conference Board.

82 Cents Minimum

"The cost of living index provision limiting wage reopening shall only apply to the period prior to May 19, 1947. Should the agreement be renewed under the automatic provision of the termination clause, Article 19, the question of wages may be reopened on the renewal date of the agreement as well as one other time during each contract year as provided above."

The new increase of eight cents establishes a minimum rate of eighty-two cents in the plant, union leaders said.

City Tax Rate Is Set at $1.25; Budget Prepared

$789,680 Is Appropriated for General and Debt Services for Year

The mayor and city council yesterday set the city tax rate again at $1.25 per $100, as $789,680, an increase of $57,300 over last year, was appropriated for general and debt services for the fiscal year starting April 1.

Major increases included approximately $15,000 for the fire department and $13,300 for the police department. Other increases included sewers, $4,000; streets, $8,000; street cleaning, $5,000; city hall annex, $3,000; Constitution park $2,000; engineering, $2,000; health, $4,000; insurance, $3,000; library, $2,000; playgrounds $4,000; and debt service, $3,500.

Some Eliminated

Major decreases or eliminations included airport, $3,000, elections, $6,528, and paving bond account $6,800.

Most appropriations were increased slightly due to the general wage increase and the rise in the cost of services.

The ordinance fixing the levy at $1.25 shows that the full 90 cents allowed under the law will be used for general purposes. Charles Z. Heskett, attorney, explained the law increasing the amount allowed from 75 to 90 cents remains in effect until June of next year and that the council will be able to levy on this basis next year without additional legislation.

Tax Income $678,750

The levy places the assessed valuation of real estate at $44,000,000, personal property (individual) $1,350,000 personal property (corporation) $8,300,000, and automobiles $650,000, making a total of $54,300,000. Revenue from this source is estimated at $678,750. Bank stock revenue is set at $6,000 and franchise fees at $1,000. Estimated revenue from other sources is $103,930.

Appropriations for general operating expenses total $599,616.17 as compared to $542,267.64 actually, expended last year. Debt service amounts to $190,063.83 this year as compared to $186,612.16 last year.

DROWNING VICTIM — Lester W. Kenney, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Kenney, 33 Fifth street, drowned Wednesday when he fell from a cliff into the Potomac river near the Western Maryland railway's Welton tunnel. His body was recovered shortly before noon yesterday by William Barnstricker, a member of Frederick C. (Buck) Dreyer's rescue corps.

Body of Boy, 7, Is Recovered From Potomac

Lester W. Kenney Drowns after Fall from Cliff near Welton Tunnel

The body of Lester Wilburn Kenney, 7, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Kenney, 33 Fifth street, was recovered from the deep waters of the Potomac river below the Western Maryland railway's Welton tunnel shortly before noon yesterday.

With two other boys, Richard Fertig, 12, and his brother, James Fertig, 9, 36 Laing avenue, Lester, known as "Buddy Boy," was on the way to the Cumberland Municipal Airport when he slipped and fell into six or seven feet of water while scaling a cliff along the river about noon Wednesday.

The Kenney boy had been missing from his home since before noon Wednesday, members of the family said. Police had been notified of his disappearance, but it was not until nearly midnight Wednesday that the Fertig boys said the child had fallen into the river.

Playing Along River

City police questioned the boys closely, and they stuck to their story, saying they had been playing with the Kenney child along the river south of Offutt street in South Cumberland.

Shortly before noon, the boys crossed the railroad bridge over the canal, near the point of the tragedy, walked several hundred yards to cross the bridge over the river. After crossing the bridge, which is only a few feet from the mouth of Welton tunnel, the boys played along the cliff of rock which rises over a hundred feet from the river's edge.

One of Lester's playmates said they were walking along a ledge of rock at this point, about ten or twelve feet above the river. Lester lost his balance, the boy claimed, and fell into the river. Richard Fertig tried to rescue him and jumped into the river.

Dragged to Bottom

He told police he had the Kenney boy "in tow" but let go of him after he struggled and dragged them both to the botom. When he tried to find Lester a second time, he maintained, the little fellow had disappeared.

As soon as police had questioned the Fertig boys thoroughly and taken one of them to the place he designated along the river where the tragedy occurred, Frederick C. (Buck) Dreyer, experienced local riverman, was summoned, and his rescue truck and boats were taken to the scene.

The place is almost inaccessable, and difficult to reach by foot or by car, but police were able to get near the point by driving down the old tow path along the C. and O. canal.

At 1 a. m. volunteers had boats in the river, and even at this hour, about a hundred persons were standing on the bridge above, straining their eyes trying to see something through the darkness.

The Kenney boy's body finally was recovered about 11:30 a. m. yesterday when it was caught on a grappling hook by William Barnstricker, a member of Dreyer's rescue corps. Other members of the crew were Sherry Sommers, Lewis Poole, William Youngblood, Harry Swendol, Richard Keller, Elmer Keller, Cecil Kenney and Eldred W. Fletcher. The men used four rescue boats during the operation.

Dr. Linne H. Corson, deputy county medical examiner, said the body had been in the water about twenty-four hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenney said Lester had been sent to school as usual Wednesday morning, but his classes at St. Mary's school were suspended for the day and he returned home. It was about 10 a. m., they believe, when he left the house to play with the children of the neighborhood.

When he failed to return home, Mr. and Mrs. Kenney said, they searched everywhere for the child, and, when night fell, notified police he was missing.

It was about four hours later—11:20 p. m. Wednesday—when the Fertig boys finally told their parents and later police what had happened to the Kenney child. The Fertig boys said they were afraid to tell anyone before.

The Kenney family home on Fifth street is about three miles from the point where the boy fell into the river.

Funeral Sunday

Lester is survived by his parents, his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilburn, Grantsville, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Northcraft, Cumberland.

The body will be taken to the home this morning and will remain there until 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon when services will be conducted at the Evangelical church on Mary street. The Rev. J. Edgar Walter, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be in Zion Memorial cemetery.

Program Planned For American Day Observance Here

Parade, Talks and Music Will Feature Exercises Sunday Afternoon

A six-division parade will be a feature of the observance here Sunday afternoon of the "I Am an American day," Thomas F Conlon, who was named local chairman by Governor Herbert R. O'Conor announced yesterday.

Conley said the parade, which will start at 3 p. m., will precede ceremonies in Riverside Park. The program will be opened with the Rev. Mark J. Linenberg, O.F.M.Cap., a former major in the chaplain corps who saw action with the Seventy-seventh division in the Pacific war zone, offering the invocation. The complete program follows:

Musical selection by the Loyal Order of Moose Band; opening remarks, Mayor Thomas S. Post; community singing led by A. Florian Wilson; reading of the President's proclamation, Samuel A. Graham, commander of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, and musical selection by the Allegany High School Band.

The second half of the program will be opened with an address by Miss Helen Kerr, the first Cumberland recruit to the auxiliary branch of the U. S. Marine Corps. Next on the program will be singing of "America the Beautiful," by the Girl Scout Choir; an address by Calvin Lauder, a veteran of World War II; musical selection by the Fort Hill High School Band, and an address by William C. Walsh.

The park program will close with a benediction invoked by the Rev. Stanley G. Schwind, assistant rector of "God Bless America."

The parade will move to Riverside Park from the State Armory by way of Centre street to Market, Cumberland and Greene streets.

William L. Wilson is chairman of the program to be given in the park. He will be introduced by Frank Powers, chairman of the Mountain District of the Maryland Department of the American Legion.

LaVale Reservoir To Be Connected On Saturday

Water from a new 60,000 gallon capacity reservoir built at Red hill will be turned into the line of the LaVale Water Company Saturday, D. Clifford Goodfellow, secretary-treasurer, said yesterday.

The new reservoir is one of several just completed or contemplated improvements to the company's system, according to Goodfellow, who said the cost of the work will amount to about $15,000.

Other improvements include laying of an eight-inch pipeline from the present supply at Red hill to the Six Mile House, and construction of a new well. A new pump, ordered two months ago, will be installed as soon as it is delivered.

With the completion of the new reservoir and well, the company now has three drilled wells and two reservoirs. Previously, the reservoir capacity was 250,000 gallons, but the new 60,000 gallon reservoir boosts the total capacity to 310,000 gallons.

The new pump to be installed will have a capacity of 5,000 gallons of water an hour, compared to the 1,200 gallon capacity of the present pump.

Goodfellow said the eight-inch pipeline to the Six Mile House from Red hill replaces a four-inch line and is expected to bring a larger volume of water closer to LaVale, and alleviate the water situation of the dry months.

The water company plans to extend the eight-inch line at a future date.

Held for Non Support

Raymond Whitacre, 504 Fourth street, was arrested here Wednesday evening by Detective Thomas J. See and Officer J. Carl Stouffer for Mineral county, W. Va., authorities. Police said warrants held by Cpl. R. R. Karickoff charged non support of Whitacre's wife and two children.
